Store In Forest Knolls Is Destroyed By Fire

Arson Hinted In Blaze

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Arson was hinted in a $75,000 fire destroying the Moulton Mercantile Co. store at Forest Knolls today which owner Lawrence Moulton said put him out of business "it looks like for good."

The blaze, which started in two places towards the rear of the building, climaxed a year of bad luck for the 45-year-old former builder. He had had nearly a dozen breakins and thefts since he took over the business in November, 1964.

HE ASKS WHY

"Why have they done this to me now? Why? Moulton asked as he stood before the smouldering hunk of a grocery and wine business into which, he said, he had recently put an additional $9,000.

The fire was reported at 6:30 a.m. But about 6 a.m., Moulton received a telephone call at his home on nearby Royal Avenue.

"I was up already, wakened by a group of teen-agers who were whooping it up in a car. The telephone rang he said.

"I picked up the receiver and a teen-age girl's voice said: 'Moulton, there's someone in your store,' then she rang off.

ASKED IT OVER

"I didn't know what to do. I talked it over with my wife and decided to take a look. We have had a break-in as recently as Friday night.

"I got the car out, drove down here and sat in front of the building, watching it. I had a gun with me, although I doubt if I could have used it." Moulton lost his right hand in an accident two years ago.

He continued: "I must have sat there about 15 minutes. Then I saw the smoke and flames. They were coming from inside.

He ran to Forest Knolls Beauty Shop, part of the building, and telephoned the county fire department and sheriff's office.

LITTLE TO DO

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said when his men arrived there was little to be done to contain the blaze. It spread to the entire store and adjacent office, destroying about $25,000 worth of stock and equipment, said Moulton. It was under control by 8:45 a.m.

Moulton recalled the sheriff's department had been called two months ago to damage caused when two teen-agers threw lighted books of matches through a slit in the door.

GOOD RELATIONS

"Since I started this business, I've had such good relations with almost everyone. I suppose there is always some kids who think this is really living," said Moulton.

He said he was uninsured and this loss would probably end his career in the mercantile business.

"It couldn't have come at a worse time; I was going to renew my insurance this week," he said.

Chinatown Blaze Destroys Shops; 40 Flee To Safety

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Forty residents escaped to safety early today in a $100,000 four-alarm fire which roared through a five-story Chinatown building housing apartments, shops and offices.

Fire Chief William Murray said "it was just luck that everyone got out." Firemen complained that some of the windows of the brick building had bars and that the alley behind the building was almost too narrow for fire trucks.

One resident, Mong Doon Lew, 65, was plucked off the top of the pagoda-shaped building by a fire ladder after his frantic shouting was noticed. Injuries were confined to minor cases of one cut hand and smoke inhalation.

The fire struck the Ming Yee Assn. Building on Chinatown's famed Grant Avenue—its main thoroughfare—near Washington Street.

Badly damaged or destroyed before the fire was controlled were offices and rooms and apartments in the structure on upper floors and three street level shops, the Sun Loy Co. novelty shop, Wing Duck novelty store and the Chinatown Five and Ten.

Residents who fled from the building in bathrobes or under clothes quickly vanished from the scene — going to nearby friends and relatives or to cafes open all night.

Firemen said the fire started in a social room off an alley at the back of the structure. Flames quickly shotup a lightwell. Smoke—but not flames—carried to adjacent buildings, which firemen protected by streams of water.

Cause of the blaze was unknown.

The social room of the building, located at 924 Grant Street, was located in a basement opening on Wentworth Avenue. The Ming Yee Assn. is a clan type of organization.

Firemen climbed fire escapes on buildings across the alley to aim water hoses onto the flames.

Fourth Street Windows Are Broken Again

For the second time in two weeks, plate glass windows in establishments on Fourth Street, San Rafael, were broken by a pellet sharp-shooter and bottle thrower last night.

San Rafael police toured the downtown main street at 1 a.m. today and found 13 merchants and businesses had been hit.

Many windows had single B-B pellet holes, but a beer bottle had been thrown through a window of Marin Title Guaranty Co. at 1300 Fourth Street.

Patrolman Gary K. Walter reported someone had broken a side window at Macy's, Fourth and Court streets, with a tire iron or similar instrument.

Police had no estimate of this weekend's rampage, which followed similar incidents reported Jan. 31.

At that time nearly $1,000 in damage was caused to downtown store windows by vandals either walking or driving down the main street.

Viet Cong Mines Slay 54 Civilians

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong mined three buses today, killing 54 Vietnamese civilians and wounding 18 in retaliation for an Allied operation that is protecting a huge rice harvest.

Allied ground forces reported killing 150 Viet Cong in scattered clashes elsewhere in South Viet Nam in the past 24 hours, while U.S. planes hammered Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam. Guerrillas overran an outpost in the Mekong Delta, at Dinh Mon, and killed or captured all 11 defenders.

The death-dealing Viet Cong mines were set off on a road 10 miles southest of Tuy Hoa, on the central coast where the U.S. 101st Airborne, South Korean marines and South Vietnamese troops have been scouring the countryside for several weeks while the rice was being harvested.

An American spokesman said the first blast was touched off about 7:30 a.m., catching a busload of farmers, killing 27 and wounding 11.

The explosion left a crater nine feet deep in the road, hurled the bus into a canal and scattered bodies along the roadside.

About an hour and a half later, the spokesman continued, a three-wheel vehicle used as a bus and jammed with passengers drove along the same stretch of road and touched off a second mine. Another 20 Vietnamese were killed and seven wounded.

An hour and a half later a second three-wheel bus drove onto the scene and set off a third mine. This time seven persons were reported killed.

The mining evidently was in retaliation for the rice harvesting, which has been highly successful in an area that until re-

Humphrey Says U.S. Won't Push For A Laos Alliance

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew from Bangkok to Laos for a brief visit today and told the Laotians he had come to reassure them of his government's pledge "to work with you in developing your resources."

Humphrey flew across the Mekong River from Thailand after making an aerial inspection tour of eight projects including sites for a huge power dam to serve both Laos and Thailand and a Mekong dam that will create a giant lake for irrigation.

Before reaching Laos, Humphrey told a reporter he also wanted to reassure Premier Souvanna Phouma and other Laotiaon leaders that the United States intends to remain firm against Communist encroachment in Southeast Asia.

Laos was the third country Humphrey has visited on his nine-nation tour.

Humphrey let the Laotians know the United States is not trying to draw their Communist-threatened kingdom into an alliance.

After lunch with Souvanna Phouma, Humphrey was due to board a helicopter for an inspection of an "accelerated rural development project" in northeast Thailand.

Before leaving for Laos, Humphrey sandwiched in an early morning cruise along Bangkok's canals. Wearing an open-necked polo shirt, the vice president waved and hailed Thais passing in boats, took pictures with a small box camera and at the floating market bought a farmer's spreading straw hat which he donned in place of his baseball cap.

Humphrey had his boat turned to shore when he spotted about 100 Thai boys and girls in a schoolyard along the canal. The children didn't know who he as but they clapped wildly when their principal told them in Thai.

He stood surrounded by upturned faces, teaching them to say "a-okay" and "goodby."

Humphrey reached Bangkok from Saigon. He promptly sought to reassure Thailand's leaders that there as nothing to warrant their concern that the United States might be weakening in its resolve to defeat communism.

Borrowing, Bonds On The Ballot

Polls will open at 7 a.m. tomorrow in the Lagunitas School library for school district voters to decide whether the district will issue $200,000 worth of bonds and borrow another $400,000 from the state to build a second school.

The outcome of the election will ride to a large extent on voters' reactions to a prolonged controversy over location of the proposed school. Polls will close at 8 p.m.

CENTRAL SITE

The school district board has proposed a central Woodacre site north of the Woodside Improvement Club. This site would require the displacement of eight homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pederson, whose home is located at the intersection of Oak Grove and Garden Way and is one of those which would have to be moved if the bond issue is approved, organized the Committee for Sensible School Sites early last month to fight the school board's proposal.

"The decision to build the new school site in Woodacre is based upon the fact that more than 50 per cent of the present enrollment in kindergarten through third grade live in Woodacre," one board member has said in defense of the proposed site.

Countering this, the opponents of the proposal have issued a statement which says in part: "The site would force out people and remove valuable property from the tax rolls, besides costing more than other sites. Hundreds of acres of less expensive undeveloped land are within walking distance of the site selected."

DANGER CITED

The anti-bond group also contends that the proximity of the proposed school site to the Marin County fire station in Woodacre would expose students to a "dagerous nuisance and distraction."

The school district is currently using five portable classrooms which cost the taxpayers $8,000 per year. Pro-bond issue residents argue that these portable classrooms should be immediately replaced by permanent rooms, while opponents of the issue say they would rather have to pay for more portable classrooms than locate permanent ones on what they consider an undesirable site.

Civil Rights Champion Will Run For Congress

A pacifist and a Quaker, Drath said his campaign will stress the need for "an immediate end to hostilities" in Viet Nam." Recognizing that "we cannot leave immediately," Drath said, "we can stop shooting and withdraw to the coast."

Drath also called for recognition of China and for an end to "the blind anti-communism which has dominated our foreign policy for the past 20 years."

In his campaign, he said, he will point to "substantial liberalization . . . in Russia in recent years" and to his expectation of the same trend in China.

On the domestic front, Drath said he favors the poor having a substantial voice in the anti-poverty program. He endorses fair employment legislation, he said.

Last year, Drath was a construction supervisor for the Friends Mississippi Project which rebuilt 27 burned churches in that state.

He lives at 35 Bellevue Avenue, San Rafael.

Beach Within Park Closed To Swimmers

Stinson Beach within the boundaries of Stinson Beach State Park has been closed to swimming and surfing until further notice, Robert G. Carlson, park supervisor, announced today.

Motorcyclist Dies In Crash On Shoreline

Larry Joseph Garcia, 22, of San Francisco, was killed instantly yesterday while on a sunny Sunday morning motorcycle ride on the Shoreline Highway, four miles north of Bolinas.

Garcia was a part-time ambulance driver for United Ambulance Co. Ironically, he had probably had driven the very ambulance which carried his body from the scene yesterday following the tragedy at 10:45 a.m.

Garcia's death was the third traffic fatality on Marin highways in 1966, compared to four at this time last year.

California Highway Patrol Officer Arthur W. Krebs reported Garcia was riding close to 60 miles per hour on his Honda motorcycle when it failed to make a sharp left turn two and one-half miles north of the Bolinas-Olema Road.

Garcia was thrown from his motorcycle, through a barbed wire fence, and smashed headfirst into a tree, 35 feet from the roadside, Krebs reported.

Though the youth was wearing a helmet, it was violently shattered againsta the tree. He died of severe head and facial injuries, according to Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

Garcia, who had been driving a motorcycle for five months, was on an outing with three friends, Nelson Fine, 23, Charles Fechner, 22, and Roy M. Fairchild, 15, of San Francisco.

Brown Is Sick, Embarrassed

Brown

The embarrassment stemmed from a telegram last week to CDC president Simon Casady—with whom Brown has been at sharp odds—in which the governor said:

"I said I would not accept CDC endorsement as long as you are president and that decision will not change."

What Brown meant to say, aides explained Saturday, was that Brown would not "seek" CDC endorsement with Casady at the helm, rather than "not accept."

"It was purely a mechanical boot somewhere," said press secretary Jack Burby. He said Brown and several aides had re-read the telegram, but no one caught the error.

Casady reacted with delight to the contretemps, announcing he was pleased that Brown had given "recognition to the power and value of 40,000 CDC members.

Rabbi Fighting For Life

Rabbi Adler

Rabbi Morris Adler, a prominent Detroit religious and civic leader, remained near death from a bullet wound in the head. He was shot by a member of his congregation, Richard Wishnetsky, during services Saturday. Wishnetsky, 23, then turned the gun on himself.

Rabbi Adler, 59, suffered brain damage when one of four shots fired at him entered the back of his head. Mount Sinai Hospital officials said he required an artificial aid in breathing and it would be several days before any prognosis could be made.

Officials at the hospital where Wishnetsky was taken said there was little hope for his recovery. He had fired one shot into his own right temple.

The young man strode to the front of the Shaarey Zedek Synagogue in surburban Southfield, fired a shot into the ceiling, and picked up a microphone. The former college honor student who had been under psychiatric treatment for a year, criticized the 1,000 persons sitting in the synagogue, as hypocrites. Then he shot the rabbi and himself.

Big Austin Trial To Start

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—James C. Cross Jr., 23, a handsome son of an advertising executive, goes on trial today, charged with strangling two pretty University of Texas coeds in a sexual frenzy.

Judge Mace B. Thurman Jr., expecting an overcrowded courtroom, said he would admit only four newsmen during early stages of jury selection.

The state wants Cross, who has never been in trouble before, sent to the electric chair.

Cross, a former English major at the university, is accused of strangling Susan Rigsby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21 and from Dallas, last July 18 when they came to his apartment to change clothes and take a shower. He once had dated Miss Stark.

Sources close to the district attorney said Cross's statement said he choked Miss Rigsby because she resisted his advances and strangled Miss Stark when she came out of the shower and found what happened.

Disorder Grows In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Sporadic gunfire broke out today in parts of the Dominican capital, shaken by another fatal shooting of a policeman and wounding of another in continued public disorder.

The latest police fatality occurred last night in a local business area. The wounded officer was hit by grenade shrapnel in a separate incident.

Five national policemen have been killed during the rioting sparked Wednesday when police opened fire on a student demonstration and four demonstrators were killed. An American paratrooper was critically wounded by sniper fire Saturday.

The American soldier, whose name was withheld, was shot by a terrorist on El Conde, Santo Domingo's main street, in one of more than 20 sniper attacks Saturday night. Troops of the inter-American peace force searched six houses and confiscated more than 3,000 rounds of ammunition in an effort to prevent such incidents.

A general strike, called Thursday to protest the police action at the demonstration and demand the ouster of two Dominican military chiefs, has idled more than 80 percent of the economic activity of this capital.

Spain Bomb Search Aid Plane Crashes

PALOMARES BEACH, Spain (AP)—Air and ground searchers today located the wreckage of a U.S. Air Force Globemaster with eight Americans aboard which crashed while delivering material for the search for the U.S. nuclear bomb missing off the coast of Spain.

A U.S. spokesman said the wreckage was sighted six miles northest of the village of Trevelez, on the snow - covered slopes of 11,423-foot Pico Mulhacen, in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

There was no mention of survivors.

The giant C-24, based at Hunter Air Force Base, Ga., disappeared Saturday night after leaving Seville with two buses for use by bomb searchers here on the southern coast.

A day-long search yesterday by ground and air teams, hampered by a bitter winter storm, failed to turn up any definite clues.

"It would be a miracle if anyone emerged alive from this one," said a Spanish air force officer who had scanned the jagged mountain range without spotting any trace of reckage.

Villagers reported they had seen lights and heard an explosion on 11,423-foot Pico Mulhacen, one of Spain's tallest mountains, about the time the Globemaster was scheduled to fly over the area. Civil Guards began climbing the mountain to check.

Standard Oil Denies Charge Of Main Pollution Offender

Standard Oil Co. of California has indignantly denied charges that it is one of the "biggest offenders" among industries polluting San Francisco Bay.

The oil company was among those cited by Dr. Joel F. Gustafson of San Francisco State College in a talk last month to the Marin Medical Society.

In a letter to society president Robert L. Mills, the company said it has "expended hundreds of thousands of man-hours and several millions of dollars over the past 20 years" on pollution control.

The company said: "It is true that our Richmond plant discharges the largest total volume of water of an industry in the area—about 1.5 million gallons daily. However, 95 per cent of this is . . . used as a coolant . . . and does not come in contact with pollutants of any kind."

The rest of the waste water, the company asserted, is treated in a settling pond where oils and solids are removed before the water is returned to the bay.

Although this "is not a perfect solution," the company said, "its effectiveness is such we feel we should not be singled out as one of the worst offenders."

Student Teacher Plan Readied In Sausalito

Sausalito schools are to be a training ground for San Francisco State College education students under a $182,000 state grant.

About 70 college students specializing in teaching disadvantaged children will participate to acquire confidence in working with children of the poor.

Other grants approved by the California Board of Education included allocations of federal funds for compensatory education at Tomales Joint Union High School and Kentfield Elimentary School. Tomales will receive $11,869 and Kentfield $2,740.

The funds go for such programs as pre-school classes, improved reading and language development instruction, stepped up counseling, in-service teacher training and reducing teacher class loads.

Of the $77.8 million available to California during the current school year for compensatory education, the board reported it has now approved allocations of $60 million in federal funds to nearly 700 school districts.

Sausalito School Aid Plan Opens Tomorrow

Sausalito School District will become a teacher training center under a new program approved Friday by the California State Board of Education.

Ten student teachers from San Francisco State College will begin orientation for the program tomorrow. Thirty others will start the program within the next week.

They will work in classrooms, as teacher aides, and in the afternoon study center. Portable classrooms will be set up at Richardson Bay School within two weeks for the project—the first of its kind in the state.

The $180,000 project is paid for by federal funds and administered under the California State Compensatory Education fund. There is no cost to the Sausalito district.

"Impetus for centering the program in Sausalito comes from the fact that the school district took such a dramatic step in desegregating its schools last fall,' said Dr. James Bixler, project director. Bixler is chairman of the Elementary Education Department at San Francisco State College.

Sausalito School District trustees, at a meeting Saturday, were told by Bixler that "the tutorial aspect of the program will provide more opportunities for development of special interests and enrichment activities for Sausalito students."

He said the college and district staffs will work on a "focus of inter-group and intercultural relations and new approaches to teaching evolving out of current practices and research."

1. It will provide more individual and specialized instruction for pupils.

2. It will offer on-the-spot inservice teaching assistance and special resources to the Sausalito teachers.

3. The Sausalito district is making a tangible contribution to the training of future teachers for the public school system.

College students and faculty will be housed in a special facility, about 2,300 square feet in size, at Richardson Bay School.

cently had to import 600 tons a month because the Viet Cong controlled a major portion of the crop.

The airborne brigade, which with Allied troops has killed 137 Viet Cong and captured 75 weapons in Operation Van Buren, reported that 51 per cent of the harvest is in, a total of 27,100 tons of rice now in government warehouses.

Patrols found new Viet Cong hideouts today, including abandoned tunnels and fortifications. A battalion-sized camp was discovered near where the farmers were blasted. A spokesman said it contained about 40,000 rounds of small-arms ammunition and had been deserted for about a week when the paratroopers converged on that district.

Some 50 miles southwest of Saigon, the Viet Cong early today attacked an outpost in Dinh Tuong Province manned by about 240 government militiamen. Planes and artillery finally drove the guerrillas back, killing five, a Vietnamese military spokesman said. Government losses were described as light.

U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division troops with air and artillery support reported killing 68 Viet Cong Sunday around the An Lao Valley 280 miles northeast of Saigon. The action brought to 219 the number of Communist dead in three days of Operation Eagle's Claw.

U.S. Marines in a coordinated action north of An Lao reported killing 15 guerrillas, bringing their total in the operation to 280.

South Vietnamese forces killed 14 Reds near Quang Ngai in central Viet Nam and 3 others 15 miles northeast of Saigon, a spokesman said.

U.S. Air Force F-105 Thunderchiefs and Navy FC-4 jets, guided throug dense clouds by radar, destroyed 10 warehouses in a military complex near Vinh. They also said they reaided three highway bridges, two railroad spans, gun installations and a radar site in the Vinh sector.

U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy pilots hit Viet Cong areas in South Viet Nam yesterday and early today with a total of 338 sortieswhich aspokesman said destroyed 530 buildings and damaged another 360, sank 16 sampans and killed an estimated 70 Viet Cong,according to reports from spotter planes.

word the Thais were worried that President Johnson might have tried at the Honolulu conference to nudge South Viet Nam's leaders into dropping their opposition to dealing with the Viet Cong in any peace negotiations.

After telling Premier Thanom Kittikachorn and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman that the United States will continue to stand firm, the vice president turned to his other major objective here.

This is to point up U.S. interest in getting the nations of the Mekong River basin to work together on a cooperative Southeast Asia development program as proposed by Johnson in a speech last April.

DEATH DRAMA ON HIGHWAY

Seven hundred Oregon residents sprawl on a sweeping freeway curve near Portland to dramatize the number of highway deaths that occurred in the state during 1965. The demonstration was staged Saturday for inclusion in a safety film being produced by an oil company to promote automobile safety. (UPI Telephoto)

Republicans Rip Johnson Policies

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Republican leaders are targeting Viet Nam, inflation and big government as the issues they hope will spell comeback for the GOP in the November elections.

In Lincoln day speeches and statements across the nation they zeroed in on the Johnson administration's decision-making in Viet Nam and its spending policies at home.

Although Republicans in congress generally have backed President Johnson's conduct of the Viet Nam war, their complaints in weekend speeches centered on what House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford, Mich., called the need for "a full, frank and public disclosure ofthe facts."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird,Wis., chairman ofthe House Republican Conference,demanded that the administration clarify apparently conficting statements about the progress of the war.

In a speech at Wisconsin Rapid, Wis., he asked why, if Americans were told they were winning, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said, "we have stopped losing the war."

Laird also called for a full report on how effective U.S. bombing raids have been in slowing down the Communist Viet Cong; how much military support is reaching the Viet Cong by sea, and what kind of agreement the administration is willing to negotiate with the Communiststo end the war.

House Republican Whip Leslie C. Arends, Ill., in a statement taped for broadcast today on "Comment," the Gop National Committee's weekly radio program, said that the Pentagon's decision to defer multi-mullion dollar military construction projects "doesn't make sense."

Arends said there were reports that soldiers were living in tents "in zero temperatures at Ft Gordon, Ga., and in Columbia, S.C."

"It doesn't make sense to defer proper living quarters for our boys entering the service in increasing numbers returning from Viet Nam and, at the same time, propose large ing and health programs both at home and abroad,"Arends said.

Liquor License Out On Shelf 10 Days

The State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control Friday ordered a 10-day suspension of the off-sale beer and wine license of Ruth and Seth Dole, operators of the Speedee Mart at 2402 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax.

The suspension, made on charges of sale to a minor, will take effect March 1.

Pike Defended By Episcopal Colorado Bishop

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Colorado's Episcopal bishop has defended California's Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike as "a brilliant, troubled and controversial man . . . certainly not a heretic."

The Rt. Rev. Joseph S. Minnis, speaking yesterday to a conformation class, said he had read several times a national magazine (Look) article and could find "nothing heretical" in statements attributed to Bishop Pike.

Pike said in the article that he felt the concept of the Holy Trinity was misleading. He went on to say he did not believe God had chosen Jesus Christ, but that Jesus Christ, as a man, had chosen God.

Some interpreted this as a heretical rejection of the divinity of Christ. Pike has been exonerated of heresy charges in the past by Episcopal officials.

Traffic Gore Nears World War I Toll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traffic deaths last year were almost equal to the toll of Americans killed in battle in World War I.

The Insurance Information Institute said 49,000 highway deaths were reported in 1965, an increase of 1,300 over the 47,700 reported in 1964. About 53,000 Americans were killed in action in the First World War.

'SAD SPECTACLE'

Goldwater Despises 'Groveling' By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona says an American demonstration of determination — and not what he calls "groveling" peace offensives — will bring Communist North Viet Nam to the conference table.

"I don't think it's our job to get the Communists to the conference table by begging, by going through other emissaries, by going through other leaders," the 1960 Republican presidential candidate said yesterday on ABC's radio-television program "Issues and Answers."

"I think we'll get the Hanoi government to the conference table when we convince them that we have the will to attack and that we are attacking them," Goldwater said.

"It is a very sad spectacle to see the greatest power on earth sort of groveling," he added.

Goldwater coupled his first public attack on Johnson's peace offensive with another plea for more reliance on U.S. air power and less reliance on American ground troops.

"We should use air power and rely on our allies and South Vietnamese for ground fighting," he said. "Our boys are not acclimated to that type of fighting."

He repeated his suggestions that air power should be used to attack the industrial complexes in North Viet Nam, bomb railroads and destroy the Ho Chi Minh Trail and said North Viet Nam's ports could be shut down by mining them or sinking ships in them.

Kidnaping Plot Alleged At Trial

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An Arkansas State Penitentiary convict testified today that Melvin Lane Powers asked him to kidnap Jacques Mossler in 1962.

"We don't want him back, we want him killed," Powers was quoted by the witness, Arthur Grimsley.

Powers is on trial with his aunt, Candace Mossler, accused of slaying the 69-year-old Mossler in 1964. Mrs. Mossler, the widow, was said by the state to have engaged in an illicit love affair with Powers.

Mrs. Mossler return to court today after illness had forced her to miss last Friday's session.

During cross-examination of Grimsley, Mrs. Mossler became ill again, and Judge George Schulz called a recess. She was helped from the courtroom, apparently faint and with nausea.

Grimsley testified that Powers had worked with him on a magazine sales crew in 1961. He said that on June 15, 1962, they met again in Truman, Ark., and continued:

"He related to me that he was living with a distant relative in Houston, but she was married to an old mooch. He asked me if I was interested in making some money. I said yes. He talked to me about a kidnaping. He talked about the relations he was living with."

"Did he tell you who he wanted kidnaped?" the witness was asked.

"It was the husband of this relative," Grimsley replied.

Zone Hearing

The Corte Madera Planning Commission, meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation room of the public safety building, will hold its second hearing on numerous proposed changes in the town zoning ordinance. The changes are primarily in the town's highway commercial zone.

They also deal with commercial sign space and undersized lots.

Fire Destroys Air Building At Burbank

BURBANK (AP) — Lockheed Air Terminal officials promised business as usual today, despite a $2 million blaze that destroyed the administration and passenger terminal building and the flight control tower.

The terminal—second largest in the Los Angeles area and the largest privately-owned airport in the nation — was swept by flames yesterday, as stout breezes fanned the blaze over the frame structure.

TRAFFIC DIVERTED

About 150 workers were evacuated from the building without injury. Workers in the flight control tower descended to safety on an aerial ladder.

Air traffic was diverted for a few hours to nearby Van Nuys Airport and to Los Angeles International Airport. An emergency flight control center was set up in the rear of a station wagon about 6:30 p.m., however, and the airport resumed takeoffs and landings.

A spokesman said the fire began in a greasy flue in the kitchen of the Skyroom restaurant. Flames from the flue were spread throughout the building's ventilation system, he said.

The fire, which broke out about 3:30 p.m., was contained about 6:30 p.m.

Louis Wulfekuhler, terminal president, said about one-third of the estimated $2 million damage consisted of electronic equipment in the Federal Aviation Agency control tower.

OTHER SERVICE

Other electronic equipment would be brought in today from Los Angeles International and temporary baggage and passenger service would be set up in a nearby hangar, Wulfekuhler said.

The terminal, a subsidiary of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., was the main one for Los Angeles when it opened in 1930, handling up to 1.3 million passengers a year.

Clausen Joins Free Asia Advisory Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-Calif., said today he had accepted a seat on the advisory council of Friends of Free Asia, Inc.

The organization was created earlier this year to promote freedom in Asia, primarily by means of education.

HERO IS SUSPENDED

Paul Murray, 18, was a hero when he rescued a drowning clam digger from the Pacific on Feb. 3. A.F. Transfers Trainees In Meningitis Outbreak

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) —The Air Forcemoved ahead today with preparations to transfere thousands of basic trainees from Lackland Air Force Base in an effort to prevent a major outbreak of spinal meningitis.

One serviceman has died of meningitis at Lackland and six other trainees are hospitalized with the disease. Three are listed in serious condition and three in fair condition.

Meningitis has claimed three other servicemen's lives in military basis throughout the nation recently.

To limit the spread of the disease, the Air Force training command plans to move several thousand Lackland trainees 500 miles northwest to Amarillo Air Force Base in the Texas Panhandle. Furthermore, no new trainees will be sent to Lackland, the largest Air Force training center, until the outbreak has been stopped.

Airman Jerry Slagle, 19, Akron, Ohio, died of meningitis at Lackland Thursday.

Gen. William W. Momyer, commander of the Air Training Command, was expected to announce further details of the troop exodus today. He conferred during the weekend with Maj. Gen. Loren G. McCollum, commander of the Amarillo AFB, who said his base could handle 4,500 more airmen without "overly taxing" the spinal meningitis symptoms on their early stages are much like those of a cold or flu but can result in delirium and death.

Besides Lackland, three Army facilities — Fort Gordon, Ga., Fort Knox, Ky., and Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., have reported deaths from the disease.

Child's Slayer Must Be Insane

That was the reaction today of Sgt. Douglas Premo of the Crescent City police who undoubtedly mirrored the feelings of fellow townsmen to the brutal slaying of an 11-year-old girl Saturday in a vacant lot near her home.

Little Myra Gerling was slashed around the throat and her body had been pierced at least 40 times with a knifeblade.

The girl's clothing had been ripped from her and a medical examination was planned to determine whether she had been sexually molested.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning star is Venus; the evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

English economist and sociologist Thomas Malthus was born on this day in 1766.

On this day in history:

In 1903, President Theodore Roosevelt signed into law an act creating the Department of Commerce and Labor.

In 1933, $50 million was rushed to Detroit to bolster banking assets as Michigan's governor declared an eight-day bank holiday.

A thought for the day: President Theodore Roosevelt said: "The first requisite of a good citizen in this republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his own weight."

More than 90 per cent of the 1,850,000,000 Asians subsist mainly on rice. In some places, the word for rice is the same as that for food.

Stingy Players Lose Out When They Hold Back Good Card

It's easy to be a liberal spender when you're rolling in the stuff, but when you're down to your last nickel you hate to spend it all in one place.

WEST TAKES KING

West took the king of diamonds and returned a club. When East played low, declarer took a deep finesse with the eight of clubs.

West had to win and had to give South a trick. If West returned a club, South's king would win a trick.

THANKS PARTNER

"What could I do?" East demanded. "All I had was just one queen."

"You had only one card, and you couldn't even play that at the right time," West pointed out.

East could defeat the contract by playing the queen of clubs when declarer first led the suit from dummy. If South played the king, West would take three clubs at once.

If South played low, East would win the trick and lead another club.

The correct play became obvious when South cleared out both red suits from dummy and his own hand. If West had to win the first club trick he would be unable to get out safely.

The only chance was to step up with the queen of clubs in the hope of rescuing West from the end play.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 11 points in high cards and 1 point for doubleton, enough for an optional opening bid.

In this case you refuse the option because your suit is only mediocre and because the distribution is only so-so.

HOW NOT TO PARK

An auto dives 10 floors from a rooftop in Los Angeles—but it was no accident and no one was injured. The drop to the parking lot below was made to simulate what happens to a vehicle when it hits something stationary at a speed of 60 MPH. Cameras anchored in the driver's seat recorded the plunge and the footage will be used in a driving safety film. (UPI Telephoto)

Russ Writers Sentenced To Years Of Hard Labor

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Russian writers were convicted today of anti-Soviet propaganda because of books they published abroad under pen names.

Andrei D. Sinyavsky was sentenced to seven years at hard labor, and Yuli M. Daniel was sentenced to five years at hard labor, Tass news agency reported.

Both men pleaded innocent, arguing that the satirical writings they published in the West under pen names were not political and therefore were not anti-Soviet propaganda.

The Soviet press said there was no question of their guilt.

Sinyavsky, whose pen name was Abram Tertz, and Daniel, writing as Nikolai Arzhak, published work abroad showing brutality, corruption and degradation in Soviet life.

In their defense they contended they had exercised legitimate freedom of artistic expression. But early in the trial the judge declared: "We do not have a matter for literary dispute here but a criminal trial."

The trial, which began Thursday, was closed to foreign newsmen.

Tass, said the writers, arrested Sept. 13, were sentenced to what was called "a strict regime corrective labor camp."

The case has aroused protests from writers in the West and caused considerable concern in Russian intellectual circles. Throughout the trial young people gathered outside the courtroom in support of the defendants, although they were outnumbered by plainclothes policemen and Communist party youths.

The term Mach 1, used to describe bodies traveling at the speed of sound, derives from the Czech physicist Ernst Mach, who contributed to the study of sound.

'Minor Criminals' May Be Drafted

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service system, says "minor criminals" should be drafted as part of the push to satisfy Viet Nam manpower needs.

Hershey said yesterday local draft boards have been ordered to re-examine men rejected on a moral basis in conjunction with the overall lowering of mental and physical standards for military service.

According to Hershey, there have been incidents of "young men committing crimes to escape the draft. I feel the armed forces should take some of these minor criminals."

More State Control Planned In Special Welfare Centers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Brown administration disclosed today that it will try to require counties to obey state orders in providing welfare help in "one stop" social service centers for potential racial troublespots.

Gov. Brown last week proposed the centers, prompted by last summer's violence in Los Angeles' Negro districts.

Today, an administration spokesman spelled out details of the $16.8 million program for the first time.

He said two centers would be located in Los Angeles and at least one each in Oakland, Hunter's Point and the Western Addition in San Francisco, San Diego, Long Beach, Stockton, San Bernardino, Riverside, Bakersfield, Fresno and Vallejo.

The spokesman said the residents of the areas—mostly poor members of minority groups—would be able to obtain all the government services they need at the centers—welfare aid, education and employment guidance, vocational rehabilitation, parole services, mental hygiene help and consumer advice. The Fair Employment Practices Commission would also be represented.

Now, the recipients must go to one office for welfare, for example, another for vocational rehabilitation, and still a third for educational advice.

Under the administration plan, one person — a "master case worker" — would take charge and handle all the services for the recipient.

Since the master case worker is likely to be a state employe, the Brown administration expects controversy to develop over provisions giving him the power to tell the county how and when to administer social services now under its jurisdiction.

At present, programs such as Aid to Families with Dependent Children and adoptions are under county administration, with little control by the state, the spokesman said.

The social service centers are part of a program costing about $60 million to prevent a recurrence of last summer's violence.

This weekend, the administration finished work on another section — providing $16 million to hire more teachers to reduce class sizes in the trouble spots. The state will provide $12 million and local governments the rest.

Meanwhile, the governor prepared to place his $4.61 billion budget in the hands of legislative committees this week.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee scheduled its first budget meeting for tomorrow.

Army Reservists Will Hold Drill

Two San Rafael Army Reserve units will participate in a three-state test of mobilization plans and methods March 26, the Army has announced.

They are Headquarters and Headquarters Company and Company G of the Second Battalion, both of the 362nd Regiment of the 91st Division.

Kentfield Trustees May Seek Funds

Kentfield School District trustees, meeting at 8 p.m. today in the multi-use room of Wolfe Grade School, will be asked to apply for $1,735 in federal funds for the purchase of books and audio- visual aids for the school libraries.

Trustees will also meet in closed session with Supt. Howard C. Harmon to review his evaluations of the district's probationary teachers.

Money For Rent, Teaching Is Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson today asked Congress for $55.8 million in supplemental funds to activate the National Teacher Corps and the rent supplement program, and to meet the cost of increased draft calls.

Congress last year authorized the Teacher Corps and the rent supplement program but did not provide funds to put them into action.

In his request today for fiscal 1966, Johnson asked $12.6 million for the Selective Service system to meet the substantially increased cost of higher inductions due to the war in Viet Nam.

The President estimated that inductions for the fiscal year ending next June 30 would total about 260,000. When the 1966 appropriations request was submitted about a year ago, the number of estimated inductions for the fiscal year was 125,000.

The President, in a letter to House Speaker John W. McCormack, said the Teacher Corps and rent supplement programs were "vital to our efforts to improve the quality of life in America."

The Teacher Corps would consist of 3,700 experienced teachers and teaching interns to serve in schools with concentrations of children from low-income families. They would be made available upon request by local school boards that are operating under the 1964 school aid bill in which they were given more than $1 billion to improve education in poverty areas. The Teacher Corps would augment that program.

The rent supplement program would provide federal assistance for those in some areas of low-income housing. The government would make up the difference between the market rent for modestly designed dwellings and 25 per cent of the occupant's income.

Mother Stops Attack By Lion

HUNTINGTON PARK (AP) — An African lion attacked a young mother and her 5-year-old daughter, but was stopped abruptly when the quick-thinking woman thrust her arm down the beast's throat, police said today.

Mrs. Paul DeVita, 27, of Hawthorne, suffered only toothmarks on her arm.

Her daughter, Nedine, was bitten about the head, right shoulder and right hip, officers said, and was taken to White Memorial Hospital in satisfactory condition.

Mrs. DeVita said the incident took place when the family visited the California Stables in Huntington Park, where an employee kept the lion as a pet.

Civil Defense Offers Course On Radiation

The Marin County Office of Disaster and Civil Defense will offer an 18-hour course in radiological monitoring beginning Feb. 23 at 7 p.m. at San Rafael High School, Room 95.

The class, taught by Hugh Paterson of San Rafael, a former San Rafael High School mathematics and science teacher, will meet for three hours on Wednesday nights through March 30.

Rent Subsidy Request Goes To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson made a three-pronged request to Congress today for urgent action to provide $55,881,000 for a rent subsidy program for the poor,a National Teacher Corps and expansion of the Selective Service System.

Johnson said the first two are "vital to our efforts to improve the quality of life in America" and the third is "a direct effort of our commitment to freedom in Southeast Asia.

His request was a letter to Speaker of the House John W. McCormack.

The funds the President requested — will provide extra money for the present fiscal year ending June 30 — $30 million for the rent supplement program, $13.2 million for the Teachers Corps and $12,681,000 for handling the added load on the Selective Service System.

The rent subsidy program was approved by the last congressional session but not the funds to finance it. It is aimed at overcoming some of the shortages in decent, low-cost housing in cities.

The President said the Housing and Urban Development Department already has received proposals to build nearly 70,000 housing units under the program. These involve 424 projects in 43 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Backing up the request for extra funds for Selective Service, Johnson said the original appropriation for this year was based on an estimate of 125,000 draftees. Now the estimate is about 360,000.

As for the Teacher Corps, authorized by last year's Higher Education Act, Johnson said funds are needed now so the first teams for the corps can start training this summer.

Smoker's Condition Fair After Blaze

A Tamalpais Valley woman was in "fair condition" today at Kaiser Foundation Hospitals, San Francisco, after she reportedly fell asleep while smoking in bed last night.

Mrs. Louise O'Connor, 47, of 28 Loring Avenue was being treated for second degree burns on her hands, legs, and torso.

Tamalpais firemen received a call at 8:40 p.m. yesterday, relayed from the Mill Valley Fire Department.

They said they found Mrs. O'Connor, who said she was alone in the house, standing on the porch. An ambulance took her first to Marin General Hospital. She was later transferred to Kaiser.

The bed, bedclothes and frame were completely ruined by fire and the rug beneath the bed was burned, firemen reported. There was smoke damage throughout the house. Mrs. O'Connor told firemen she had been smoking in bed and may have fallen asleep.

McCarthy Takes Election Papers

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Robert McCarthy, former director of the State Department of Motor Vehicles, filed his declaration of intention today as a Democratic candidates for state senator from San Mateo County.

McCarthy previously served as an assemblyman and senator from San Francisco and currently is a member of the motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board.

Fourth Street Rezoning On Novato Plans Agenda

Rezoning of all lots on the east side of Fourth Street and both sides of Third Street and Second Street between Olive and Grant avenues will be considered by the Novato Planning Commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

The proposed rezoning, from multiple family to multiple family with highway frontage regulations, was initiated by the planning commission itself. Some of the residents of the area protested the rezoning when it came up two weeks ago, and asked for more time to get signatures on petitions against it.

Harker Development Corp.'s request for three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin Drive and San Andreas Drive, will come before the commission again. It has been postponed several times.

The commission will also consider Hi-Valley Development Corp.'s tentative map of Marin Riviera of 54 lots for town houses on four acres within the Scottsdale master plan, south of Rowland Boulevard and west of Highway 101.

J. R. Coleman and J. A. Calleri have asked rezoning from agricultural to retail commercial at 1945, 1949 and 1951 Novato Boulevard.

Tire Is Slashed At Community House

Someone slashed a tire on a car parked outside the Novato Community House Saturday night, police reported.

Robert James Luchetti, 16, of 328 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, member of a combo that played for a teen-age dance at the community house, said one tire of his car was slashed and the air let out of two others. Another of the musicians, Howard George Lazzarini, 16, of 32 Heather Way, Larkspur, said air was let out of one tire of his car also.

Pravda Urges China Friendship

MOSCOW (UPI) —The official party newspaper Pravda today called for Soviet-Chinese relations to "revert to the tried path of ardent friendship" on the 16th anniversary of the Moscow-Peking friendship treaty.

In the past years, Pravda said, "through no fault of the Soviet side, difficulties unfortunately arose in Soviet-Chinese relations." These "difficulties" are blocking any unified Communist action in Viet Nam, it said.

But both the Soviet government and party "are still making every effort to overcome these difficulties and normalize relations with the Chinese Communist party and the Chinese Peoples Republic," Pravda said.

William Howard Taft is the only man who served both as President and as Chief Justice of the United States.

Souza Joins The Ranks Of Candidates

Fairfax City Councilman Robert R. Souza, 42, today announced he will be a candidate for another term in the April 12 city council election.

Souza was appointed to the council May 15, 1964, following the resignation of Freeman Blake. He was chairman of the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission at the time of his appointment.

"We should spend more money to fill the needs in recreation and street improvements," he said.

"I will continue to support my earlier prosopal for the routing of Highway 17 along the ridge route north of Fairfax and sleepy Hollow, while at the same time supporting any reasonable suggestions to alleviate the traffic flow on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard."

Souza called for better communication between the council and Fairfax citizens and endorsed the council's hiring of City Administrator David Sumbardo a year ago.

"The use of the city administrator - council system has brought benefits for our people with on increase in taxes," he said.

Souza, a native of San Francisco, has been a Fairfax resident for 10 years. He graduater from College of Marin in 1948 and from the University of San Francisco, with a degree in psychology, in 1950.

He lives with his wife and four children at 18 Claus Circle, Fairfax, and works as employment service supervisor and assistant manager of the State Department of Employment office in San Rafael.

Australia Gets Dollars, Cents

Banks were crowded with persons trading in pounds, shillings and pence for gleaming new coins and crisp dollar notes. The banks, closed since Wednesday while they converted accounting systems to handle the new style coinage, reopened today.

The new Australian dollar is worth $1.12 at the official rate of exchange. The pound in Australia had been equivalent to $2.24.

West Marin Board Sets Salary Session

Teachers' salary schedule for next school year will be discussed by the West Marin School District Board in its next meeting at 8 p.m. today at the West Marin School in Point Reyes Station.

The board will also act on use of some $16,000 in federal funds allocated to the district for library assistance, books and educational materials, and will hear a report on how West Marin pupils did in last year's state testing program.

Lack Of Motive In Slaying Continues To Plague Police

The lack of apparent motive in the brutal murder of Marjorie S. Rudolph continued today to plague investigators and create apprehension in the quiet Terra Linda section of San Rafael where she was slain.

The senselessness of the crime is as disturbing as its violence to the neighbors of the 60-year-old victim, wife of San Rafael banker Leroy Rudolph. "Was she killed by someone she knew, or is there a psychopath who strikes at random in the area?" they ask.

The police investigation indicates that sometime between 5:30 and 7:55 p.m. Feb. 1, Mrs. Rudolph admitted her slayer to her home at 19 Carroll Court.

The earlier hour is established by a neighbor who phoned her then to invite her over for dinner, knowing she was alone at home since her husband was recovering from major surgery at Marin General Hospital. Mrs. Rudolph refused, saying she had on her robe and would fix her own dinner.

The later hour is the time her watch stopped after her stabbed and bludgeoned body was put in a filled bathtub by her killer.

Marks on the kitchen door at first suggested forced entry, but these proved to be old dents and scratches, according to San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa. "We believe she let the murderer in," the chief said.

Her family, friends and neighbors have insisted, however, that Mrs. Rudolph was a "very cautious woman" who would never had let a stranger into the house.

Whether a random killer or someone she knew, Mrs. Rudolph was the victim of an "unusually violent assault," according to Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton. She suffered four skull fractures, 17 broken ribs and a crushed sternum. "A heavy pointed weapon was used," Keaton said.

Nothing that might have been the murder instrument has been found in the thorough search of the house and grounds. Even storm drains in the community have been scoured on the possibility the killer may have thrown the weapon away as he fled the house.

Investigation since her body was found the following morning by neighbors has turned up no evidence of anyone who knew and had a grudge against Mrs. Rudolph.

Neither was there any evidence as a result of the autopsy that she had been the victim of a sexual assault, according to Coronor Keaton.

Despite what Chief Chiesa called "an attempt to make it appear the work of a burglar," robbery has been ruled out as a motive.

Two drawers in a bedroom were open, one thrown on the floor, their contents scattered about the room. But considerable jewelry was left in one of the drawers and her rings were still on her hands.

Other things which would have presumably been targets of a burglar were undisturbed. A valuable collection of guns was left over the mantelpiece. Bottles of liquor were untouched in an open cabinet. Her purse with some change in it was left alone on the kitchen table.

About 30 fingerprints in the house, including some on the bathtub, are still under study. The clearly innocent ones have to be separated from any that might be suspicious, a long task, according to Inspector Thomas Cheetham, who has been assigned full time to the case.

Questioning of neighbors who might have seen suspiciously behaving strangers in the vicinity turned up a brief but inconclusive report of a man in a dark hat and tan raincoat who first approached the Rudolph home and then disaperaed behind it.

"But," said Inspector Cheetham, "the date couldn't be fixed, and that's led to nothing."

Neither have numerous phone calls to police headquarters offering tips and leads proved friutful. "We check them all out, no matter how strange," Cheetham said.

Lindsay Crosby Is Married Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Crooner Bing Crosby's son, Lindsay, 28, was married last Saturday night to Janet Sue Schwartze, 23, Los Angeles, at the Little Chapel of the "strip."

Crosby previously was married to former Las Vegas showgirl Barbara Frederickson. The pair was divorced April 2, 1963. They have a son, David, 4.

Honorary Badges Given Volunteers

Six Bolinas volunteer firemen were presented honorary fire badges at a surprise party Saturday night on their retirement from the volunteer association.

Fire Chief Jose Silva presented badges to Norman Ford, Edward Genazzi, Louis Pepper, Alvin C. Pfefferkorn, Walter Wagner, all of Bolinas, and Charles Cahill of San Rafael, a former Bolinas resident. All six helped organize the department after World War II with mechanical equipment. They had also been with the department prior to that, pulling two-wheel hose carts to fires from a small cubicle in front of Jack Pepper's store.

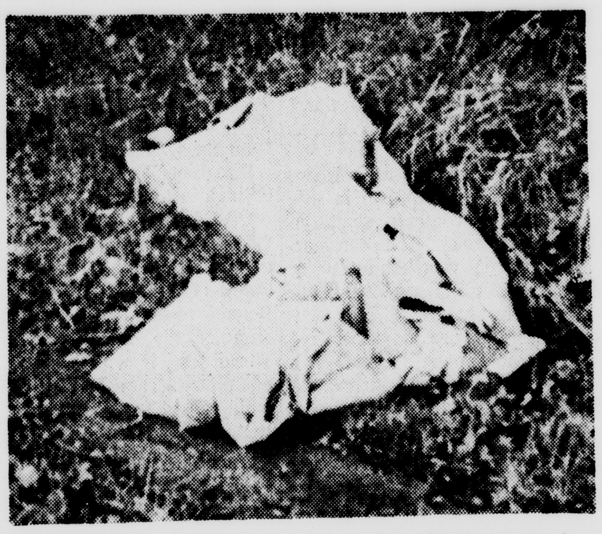
Marvelous Marin: A Dumping Place For Cans, Trash

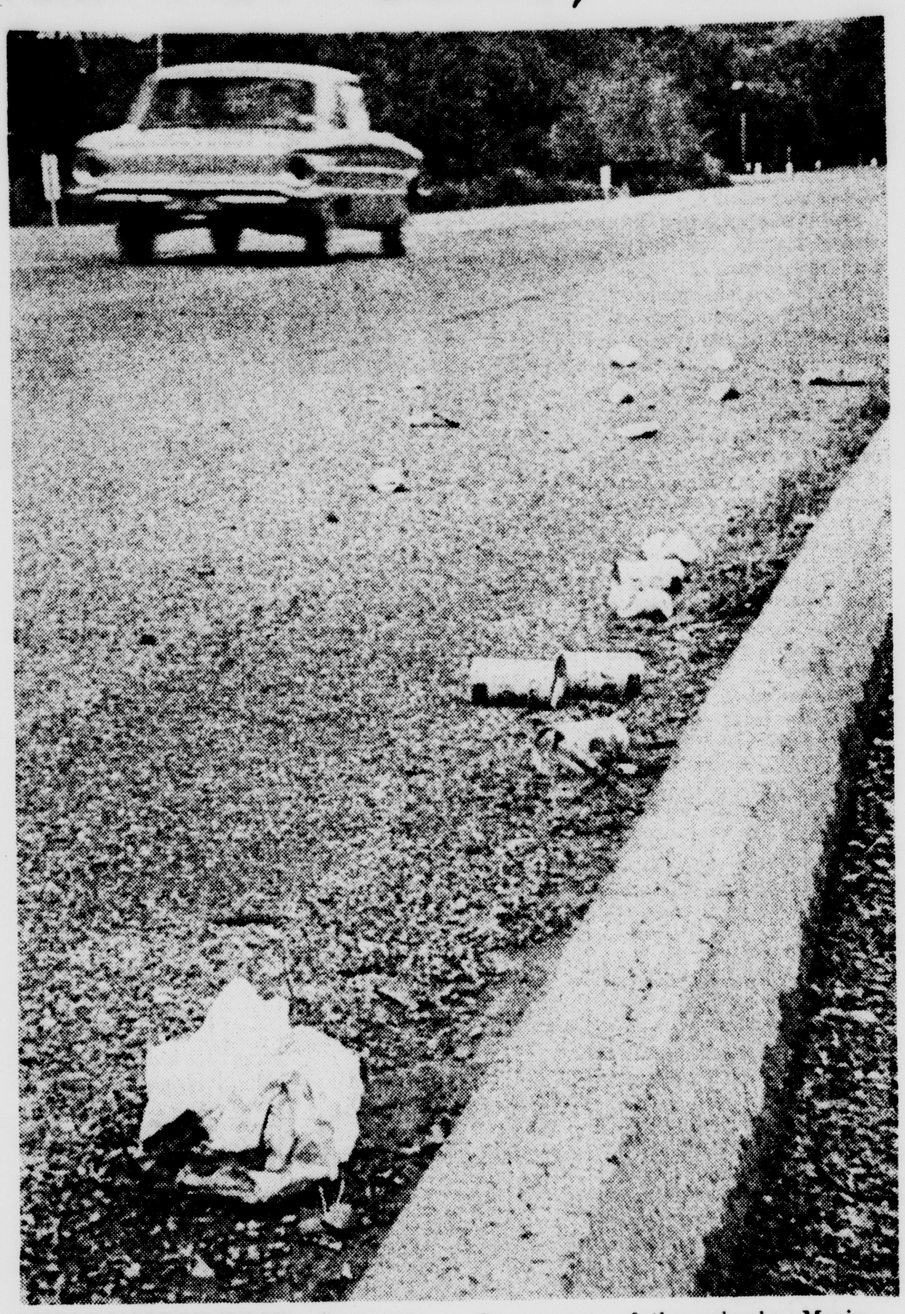
UNPLANNED DUMP—There is a wide spot in the pleasant winding road from Mill Valley to Corte Madera and drivers pull their cars to a halt to deposit garbage over the brush of the hillside. The sign put up by the City of Mill Valley has had little effect on this spot on Camino Alto.

(I-J photos by Ellen Bry)

ARTISTIC—This pop can was carefully placed alongside Novato Boulevard, just outside Novato, possibly to be used as a target for rifle practice from moving cars. (Independent-Journal photos)

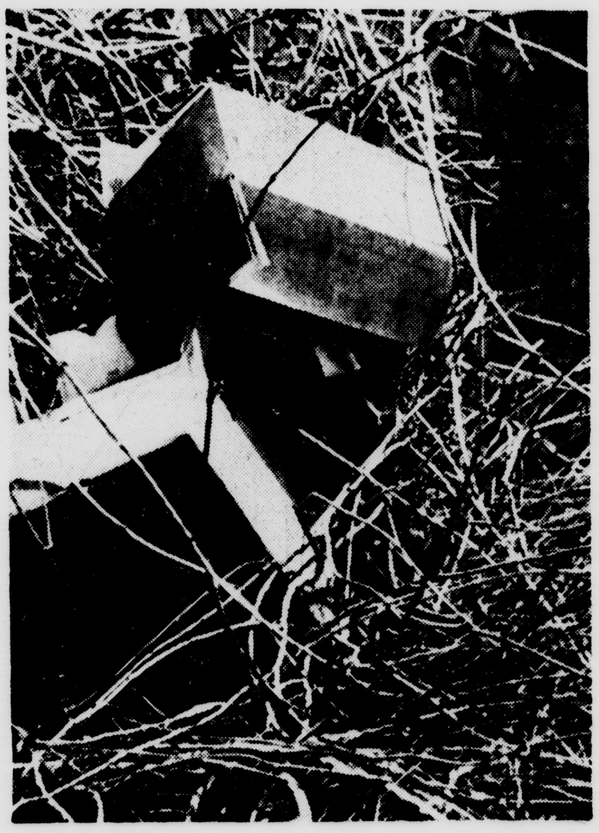


DECORATION—This handsome piece of mouldering paper is alongside Lucas Valley Road at Marinwood. This stretch of road is a prime dumping place for beer cans and trash which give the landscape a certain novelty.



LUCAS VALLEY ROAD—Someone couldn't heave the beer cans far enough from a car window to get them off the road, so they brighten the scenery of the suburbs. Marin litter consists almost entirely of beer cans and bottles and some paper.

FAVORED PLACE—Smith Ranch Road just off Highway 101 north of San Rafael is a favorite dumping ground for beer bottles and cans which form a continuous line of litter to smudge the foreground of Marin scenery. Beer containers are favored, but paper is a close second.



CONVENIENT—It was convenient for someone to dump two cartons of beer bottles at the edge of the creek at Saunders Avenue, just off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo.

BRIDGE VIEW—Driving along Paradise Drive at the base of the Tiburon Peninsula, there is a view over the litter and the clear waters of the bay to the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge in the distance. Construction litter vies with cans and old clothes to spoil the view.

LITTER LINE—Litter along side state highways is a constant pick-up problem for road maintenance crews. Trash mercifully usually is hidden from the road, since it ends up in a ditch, where this collection from Highway 37 was found.

DUMP? — No. Smith Ranch Road, which has a continuous line of rubbish along its sides. Motorists find it easy to heave the cans out car windows, rather than filling their garbage cans with evidence of beer drinking bouts.

NO DUMP—Someone inadvertantly dumped a car over the edge of Paradise Drive on the Tiburon Peninsula. The valuable engine apparently was carefully carted away, leaving the rusting carcass of the car, hanging in the brush.

Classification Of Numbers

By Prof. W. F. Lloyd
University of Tampa

Extremely primitive man had no need for numbers. All he cared about was to be warm and dry and well fed. But this carefree state of affairs could not last forever.

The caveman wanted to brag about how many spears he owned, how many wives looked on him as master and how much he had won in gambling. To boast he had to have numbers.

The first numbers invented were the Counting Numbers, or to use a more erudite name, Natural Numbers. These are the whole numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, ... Notice, no zero. Zero came later. (Anyway nobody brags about having zero spears.)

Of course the symbols or names (numerals) he used were far different from those used today, but the number idea was born. Then came the struggle to perform operations with these numbers.

The demands of expanding commerce and trade found the natural numbers inadequate and forced the development of fractions. The ancient Egyptians and the Romans had fractions, but they were clumsy to use. Many advances in mathematics were brought about by the businessman.

The ruling class and the church did not, in general, look with favor on these newfangled inventions. The medieval baron had little use for arithmetic. (He had a scribe to do this menial work.) He had little patience with fractions. (When in doubt, he took all.) As for the church, it was just naturally conservative.

The Hindu-Arabic number system lent itself naturally to the development of decimal fractions.

The value of a digit is multiplied by 10 as the digit is moved one place to the left. Conversely, the value of a digit is divided by 10 when the digit is moved one place to the right. For example $2 \times 10 = 20$, $20 \times 10 = 200$, $200 \times 10 = 2000$, etc. Conversely $2000 \div 10 = 200$, $200 \div 10 = 20$, $20 \div 10 = 2$.

Some savant asked, "Why stop at the ones column? Let us keep moving to the right, dividing by ten." Thus decimal fractions were born and the decimal point was invented.

Love That Decimal!

I have a strong personal conviction that mathematicians made one of their biggest booboos at this point. Not in the idea of the decimal point, but in using such an insignificant thing as a period for such an extremely important job.

We all tend to equate size with importance. If they had chosen a more noble symbol, people might be more impressed with its importance and treat it with proper respect.

The final inadequacy of natural numbers was the lack of a simple means of expressing "bad" numbers, or measurements in the opposite direction.

This problem was met by the development of Negative Numbers. Prior to this innovation, certain numbers had to be accompanied by a descriptive word or phrase, i.e., a $100 loss, 15° below zero, 6 feet backward, and other similar expressions.

With the help of Negative Numbers and a knowledge of the context, the words can be omitted and the quantities written as -$100, -15°, -6.

The Natural Numbers, the zero, and the negative whole numbers make up the set of numbers we now name the Integers. The set of Integers, together with the set of Common Fractions, and certain Decimal Fractions make up the set of Rational Numbers.

It is intended to mean the set of all numbers that can be expressed as the ratio or quotient of two integers. Rational numbers are also defined as those numbers that can be expressed as repeating decimals. (Repeating decimals are those decimals where some digit or group of digits repeats endlessly.) Some examples of rational numbers and their repeating decimal equivalents: $7 = 7.00000\ldots$, $1/2 = .5000000\ldots$, $1/3 = .33333333\ldots$, $1/7 = .142857142857$.

Real and Irrational

In contrast to the set of Rational Numbers we have the set of Irrational Numbers. These are the numbers that cannot be expressed as the quotient of two integers. They are the non-repeating decimals.

The Irrational Numbers are not as familiar to the average person, but there is an infinite number of them. The most widely used irrational number is pi, which is used in finding the area and circumference of a circle. Pi has been computed to several thousand decimal places but never do groups of digits repeat regularly.

The most common form of Irrational Number is the surd or root. The square root or the cube root of 2, 3, 5, 6, etc., is irrational.

The set of Rationals and the set of Irrationals together, form the set of Real Numbers. The Real Numbers can all be represented physically. That is, 5 silver dollars, 1/2 a watermelon, a line that is $\sqrt{3}$ inches long.

Distinct from the set of Real Numbers is the set of Imaginary Numbers. This is an unfortunate name because they are not fairy tale numbers nor mere flights of fancy, but good usable numbers that cannot be represented physically. Imaginary numbers are even roots of negative numbers. (The square root of -4 is factored into the square root of 4 times the square root of -1. 2 is the square root of 4 and i is the symbol used to represent the square root of -1.)

In electronics and advanced mathematics, Imaginary Numbers play an important role.

Mrs. Tognoli had all of her necessary "red" points (for winning in major tournaments) previously, and accumulated enough points in local tournaments last week to bring her over the magic 300-point mark.

Marin County has only about a dozen life masters.

Money May Be Thorn In Rosy Marriage

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Money is as "beautiful as roses," said Ralph Waldo Emerson. He did not add that it is sometimes also the thorn in the side of a marriage.

Many observers of the marital scene list conflicts over money as among the most frequent causes of marriage failures, with the trouble often starting when husband and wife cannot agree on who is to control the family finances.

SOME FAMILIES still work a system in which the husband gives the wife housekeeping and personal allowances. This method is fine for some couples but in other cases the wife resents having a sum "doled out" to her each payday. She feels she should be free to run the home financially as well as domestically.

Let's face it, also—some men never see their paychecks. They go directly to the bank or to the missus and she does all the check writing, even doling out his allowance for lunch, maybe a drink with the boys and his golfing fee.

ONE SUGGESTED way for easing financial tension is the joint checking account, in which his salary and hers—if she's also working—go into the account and the financial responsibilities are shared. It trains the couple to think of "our" money rather than "my" money.

The suggestion is from the Foundation for Commercial Banks, whose 5,700 members hold nearly three-quarters of the nation's deposits. But the foundation cautions: A joint account works well only if both partners keep a strict eye on the number of checks each draws and the balance in the account.

The joint account makes it easier to see where the money goes, because one set of check stubs summarizes the whole month's spending and one statement records every transaction. Be sure to use only one checkbook; "his" and "hers" checkbooks would be chaos.

RESPONSIBILITY for checking the bank statement each month should be done by the one "with the better head for figures and the greater patience," said a foundation spokesman.

Another advantage of the joint account—it can be opened with "rights of survivorship," which means that if one party dies, all the money in the account automatically goes to the survivor.

Fairfax Singer Achieves Recording Artist's Goal

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

A former Marin girl whose family "always knew" she would make the big time as a popular singer appears to be on the verge of doing just that.

Known as Barbara Norris when she went to Sir Francis Drake School and College of Marin, she is called Bobbe Norris on her Columbia recording, "The Beginning," scheduled for nationwide release within a few days.

Two songs on the new long-playing record— "Quiet Room" and a slow version of the old song, "Put Your Little Foot Right Out"—have already been released on a 45 rpm. single record and local stores report they quickly sold many copies to friends and relatives of the 24-year-old singer.

BOBBE NORRIS
Makes the big time

In addition to recording an album for a big-name record company, Miss Norris is scheduled to open June 1 at the famed Persian Room of New York's Hotel, and will appear four days later on Ed Sullivan's network television show. Two other network guest shots are also scheduled.

She grew up in Homestead Valley and San Anselmo and, according to her aunt, Mrs. Peter P. Bann of 16 Junipero Serra Avenue, San Anselmo, was encouraged by her music-minded family to sing at every opportunity. This included school choirs and "every talent contest they could sign her up for."

"She was going to be a professional singer from the time she was two years old," recalls Mrs. Bann.

To help pay her tuition at the College of Marin, and later at University of San Francisco, she took outside singing jobs. She finally got booked into the Purple Onion in North Beach, which led to engagements in Las Vegas, at Lake Tahoe, and in another well-known San Francisco club, the Hungry I.

Her sights set on the big time, Bobbe went to New York and undertook the seemingly impossible task of wangling an audition with John Hammond, Columbia Records' official finder of new talent.

New York's Cue Magazine, which carried Miss Norris's picture on its Jan. 29 issue, quoted Bobbe as saying she "pestered his secretary half to death until I got an appointment. I guess he liked me."

Hammond said Bobbe "came in cold—no pull, no contacts, no nothing. It just doesn't happen, but it did. I could hardly believe it—she was so marvelous."

the story, because her niece, besides having a throaty contralto voice, has always had a "kooky" manner and a lot of nerve.

The appearance on Ed Sullivan's shown was granted solely on the basis of her voice, said Mrs. Bann. Sullivan had heard only an audition tape and said he wanted her on the show whether she was young or old, pretty or homely. He was glad to find out she was both young and pretty, however, Mrs. Bann added.

The Norris family now lives in San Francisco, where a 17-year-old sister, Cindy, goes to high school. Cindy, says her aunt, "sings badly—like the rest of us."

Her nearness to success is the biggest thing right now in Mrs. Norris's life, which was saddened in late 1964 by the death of Bobbe's father, Vincent Norris, and her grandfather, Peter Bann, within a few weeks time.

Both men were painters and maintenance men for the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, starting on the same day, Dec. 27, 1937, a few months after the bridge opened. Bann retired April 1, 1959, and his son-in-law took over his job as foreman on the bridge. He held the job until he died.

The record company obviously hopes it has a new star on its hands. It featured her in its weekly trade publication, Insight, and sent the article, along with her 45 rpm. record, to every radio station in the country.

Bobbe Norris's friends and relatives in Marin are hoping Columbia's big push will make the family dream come true.

Tornado Hits South, Moves Out To Sea

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A tornado-spawning wind and rain storm that raked portions of the South for hours moved out to sea today.

Tornadoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Georgia yesterday caused heavy damage to private property. At least one death was reported.

Rain and flash flooding was widespread. Heavy rain fell over sections of Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Mississippi, Ohio, West Virginia, Alabama and portions of New England.

An 11-year-old boy died at Troutman, N.C., when a small building collapsed on him during a storm yesterday. Four to five inches of rain fell over northestern North Carolina, flooding many low-lying areas.

In Virginia, rain, hail and several small tisters marked a variety of weather Sunday. Wind gusts reached 70 m.p.h. and caused some damage.

Houses and house trailers were damaged when tornadoes hit Griffin and Wintersville, Ga. At Nicholson, Brazelton and Winder, Ga., tornadoes toppled 10 chicken houses. One farmer estimated he lost 75,000 chickens in the storm.

New York received nearly two and one-half inches of rain yesterday — the heaviest fall for the date since 1893 — and added nearly a billion gallons to the city's upstate watershed.

Low areas around Pittsburgh and in estern Pennsylvania were flooded by rapidly rising streams and rivers. Flood stages were expected today on the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. Between two and three inches of rain fell over the weekend in Pennsylvania.

The Ohio River in West Virginia and Ohio also was to reach flood stage today.

Melting snow and heavy rains brought flash floods to portions of Tennessee. At Gatlinburg, Tenn., flood damage to private property may reach $1 million, city officials said.

Rain-swollen rivers continued to rise in Mississippi. In Louisiana, rivers in the southern portion were rising and evacuations ere ordered.

The Mississippi River and the Rock River, ice jammed in the Rock Island, Ill., area, caused some flooding and families were ordered out of low lying sections.

Police Find 'Students' In School

Corte Madera police yesterday found 15 boys who even go to school on Sunday—but not for classwork.

Hearing noises from inside, he crawled through the window and tiptoed in the direction of the kitchen and multi-purpose room, where the sounds seemed to be coming from. Rounding a corner, he found 15 boys, ringing in age from 10 to 14, milling about the two rooms.

The boys, he said, could give no "plausible reason" for their attendance at school on a Sunday. They all admitted they should not be there, he said.

He cleared them out of the building, and turned their names over to school authorities.

Marin Schools Honored For U.N. Performances

Three Marin County high schools were among those awarded top honors for outstanding performances Saturday at the close of the annual High School United Nations Conference at University of California, Berkeley.

Students from Sir Francis Drake, Terra Linda and Redwood high schools are in the best 10 delegations at this year's conference, selected from a total of 120 schools taking part from all over Northern California.

At the three-day conference which began Thursday, the high schools represented every United Nations member nation.

Other delegations from Marin attending the conference included Marin Catholic High School, representing Upper Volta; Tamalpais High School, representing Malawa, and Dominican Convent, Upper School, representing Yemen.

Committee work, done mainly on Friday, dealt with such subjects as Viet Nam, the Jordan River crisis, and the peaceful uses of outer space.

At the mock United Nations meeting, students dealt with and attempted to reconcile toward peace the issues which are actually confronting the countries concerned.

Russ Richeda, who headed the delegation from Drake, declined the elected post of spokesman on the special commission for the peaceful uses of outer space Friday in order to speak on a resolution from Saudi Arabia.

Redwood, in its role of Albania, urged in every committee that no discussion take place until the Republic of China is seated as a member.

Marin Catholic, representing Upper Volta, submitted the only resolution passed in the discussion on charter revision.

The work of the committees was ultimately brought to the floor of the General Assembly Saturday and final speeches were made for and against the passage of the issues.

The judging of the best 10 delegation was made on how well they represented each country and how well members of the delegation spoke on the issue.

Six Mailboxes Reported Stolen

Six Kent Woodlands residents reported to sheriff's deputies Saturday that their mailboxes were stolen.

Eric Wagner of 3 Idlewood Road, reported at 8:50 a.m. that his mailbox was taken.

About 15 minutes later Milton Bromberg of 130 South Ridgewood Road, reported his mailbox stolen, and then about a half an hour later, W. D. Wamsley of 4 South Ridgewood Road, reported someone took both mailbox and post.

At 11:45 a.m. J. Stewart Harrison of 124 Rancheria Road reported his mailbox stolen, and at 1:45 p.m. W. W. Gray of 27 Rancheria Road reported his mailbox, too, was gone.

Spree On Credit Ends In Arrest

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — A man who told police he had lived it up in Atlanta, Miami, Los Angeles and San Francisco on stolen credit cards, as arrested yesterday.

Arrested for a forgery investigation was David McNeil, 27, ho told police he once had worked in New York restaurants. Police said they found dangerous drugs and a hypodermic syringe in his luggage and were deciding whether to file additional charges.

Harold Francis, a San Mateo County sheriff's deputy, quoted him as saying he obtained the cards four days previously from a man named Melvin Perry Hawkins in Atlanta.

The suspect said he told Hawkins he could read fortunes from the credit cards.

Luci Johnson's Wedding Will Be Family Affair

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President and Mrs. Johnson bid the Nugent family farewell today with all in agreement that Luci's marriage to young Pat Nugent will be a family affair.

The Nugents, Gerard and Tillie, planned to drive the 900 miles to their home in Waukegan, Ill., after a White House weekend that was the first meeting for the families and the Nugents first trip to Washington.

Luci and Patrick are to be married in late summer. Pat is on active duty as an airman and is stationed at nearby Andrews Air Force Base.

Yesterday was a blustery, rainy day which the two families spent in a leisurely fashion, chatting and recapping the Saturday night party for Luci and Pat.

White House sources said yesterday that it was agreed the wedding would be a family affair, not a state function; a "sentimental" occasion instead of a public spectacle with a good deal of fanfare.

The plans for a family affair gives no indication of the size of the wedding, however, although the accent will be on gathering old friends and loved ones from Luci's babyhood on.

The Saturday night dinner dance, a romantic affair with the accent on valentines, hearts and flowers, was the first post-engagement party for Luci and her fiance.

It was given at the fashionable city Tavern Club in Georgetown by Luci's debutante friend, Helene Lindow, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lestor Lindow of Washington.

DRAMA REVIEW

Ross Valley Players Keep Up The Suspense

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

It's fun to be fooled at a murder mystery, and those who have not seen or read "Witness for the Prosecution" (or who saw Marlene Dietrich in the movie so long ago they've forgotten it) are bound to be fooled by the surprise denouement

The Ross Valley Players keep the suspense and puzzlement until the proper moment in their production of the Agatha Christie "whodunit" masperpiece. This sends the crowds away happy.

Opening weekend saw some fumbling and lack of pace in the first act — which director Karl Barron no doubt is striving to correct by the time "Witness" is shown on the stage of the Art and Garden Center Barn again Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. (Final showings will be March 4 and 5).

Acts 2 and 3 — the trial of Leonard Vole for the murder of the wealthy spinster Amelia French—lacked nothing in pace.

Much of the success of "Witness" must depend on how well the actors play the three lead roles of Vole, the accused; Sir Wilfred Hobarts, who leads for the defense, and Romaine, Vole's German refugee bride.

Hal Fenton fits perfectly in the role of Sir Wilfred Robarts —even though he does fumble for his lines sometimes. James Perry seems well cast as Vole, but somehow never quite submerges himself completely in the role. There is always a little of the feeling that this is just someone playacting.

But it is Phyllis Courtney as Romaine who really captures the audience. In her first appearance in Act 1, she does not seem quite real, perhaps because of an assumed accent that is not quite identifiable but certainly not German.

When she starts her testimony from the witness stand in Act 2, however, any such minor flaw as fault in accent is soon forgotten. And she later proves a real master of an assumed accent—if not of the German.

The play has two scene-stealers, big and little. The big scene stealer is Regina Waldon as Janet MacKenzie, Miss French's longtime housekeeper who was done out of her inheritance by the friendly young Leonard Vole. Here is not just someone playing a role. She is Janet MacKenzie; and the audience identifies with this character more than with any other.

The little scene stealer is Hugh Philo as clerk of the court, who makes an unassuming triumph out of a few lines that are not even dialogue.

George Shistar as Mr. Mayhew, Vole's solicitor, is an excellent foil for Sir Wilfred. Alain Flower turns in his usual more-than-able performance as Mr. Myers, the prosecutor. Brian Pierce as Justice Wainwright is something of a scene-stealer himself.

Others in the cast all do their work well enough to do credit to playwright Christie's art, and to make "Witness for the Prosecution" an enjoyable evening—and a pleasant change from the psychological problem plays so popular of late with our little theater group.

Youth Conclave Views Quizzed By Governor

LONG BEACH (AP)— The Governors Conference on Youth has concluded with a liberal, wide-ranging flock of recommendations — some of which were viewed askance by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Prominent among the resolutions adopted Friday was one approving civil disobedience as an effective means of achieving justice and change when other methods fail.

But Brown asked the delegates, aged 14 to 19:

"What is the best way to correct social ills? Believe me, it is not to throw yourself in front of a troop train. It is not to riot. What good is the negative waste of energy?"

Among other recommendations:

Inter-racial dating, which should not be discouraged or interfered with by adults; abolition of curfew laws; sex education early in elementary schools; citizens' review boards on cases of alleged police brutality; better understanding of youth by police; more freedom and participation of students in school curriculum choice; de-emphasis on grades and de-emphasis on college as an acceptable means for achieving a satisfactory life.

Pound Reports Canine Houdini

Everytime Marin County Humane Society picks up a certain black cocker spaniel in San Anselmo, it does the disappearing act in the dead of night.

Like a canine Houdini, the dog vanishes into thin air. Next morning, attendants find the chain in the kennel at the society's San Rafael shelter cut —and the main gate pried open. It has happened three times.

Irving Souza, an inspector with the society, has told San Rafael police he believes he knows how the trick is done. The dog gets a helping hand from its owner who wants to avoid paying the enforced boarding fee.

The inspector considers the Mrs. Bann says she believes joke has gone far enough.

LIBERACE GETS SOUND ADVICE

Liberace, pianist and entertainer, was a visitor to a music store in Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera, Saturday but was in such a hurry he had no time to sign autographs. He had been staying the past few weeks with friends in Corte Madera while appearing on stage at the Circle Star Theater, San Carlos. He visited Andersen's Sound Studio Thursday, saw the equipment he liked, and returned to talk over matters with Sam Arab, service manager (right).

Restaurant Loses $1,070 To Burglars

Burglars early today looted a safe at Elwood's restaurant in Stinson Beach of $1,072.50 cash, sheriff's officers reported.

Mrs. Harry Shurtleff, wife of the owner, said entry was apparently by the front door, but there was no sign of its being forced. The floor safe, about 17 by 21 inches, apparently had been left unlocked, she said.

The entry was discovered at 6:45 a.m. today by a restaurant cook, Mrs. Roberta Patterson. The restaurant closed at midnight.

Tarr's General Store, Woodacre, also reported a burglary. Officers said entry was by breaking a large plate glass window. Loot included a .22 caliber revolver, a B-B pistol, shotgun shells, and B-B pellets.

Hub Trustees Set Land Sale Hearing

Trustees of the San Anselmo School District will conduct a public hearing on sale of some district property at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Isabel Cook School.

Also on the agenda is a $10,000 claim against the district brought by Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon W. Boese of 124 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, for injury suffered by Mrs. Boese and damage to their home from a falling treetop in a storm last December.

Wife, 18, Severely Injured As Car Skids On Highway

An 18-year-old San Rafael woman was severely injured when the car in which she was riding skidded off Shoreline Highway and overturned at 4:05 p.m. yesterday one-half mile north of the Bolinas county road.

Mrs. Carolyn Dukes of 224 Marin Street was thrown from the car. She was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, with multiple bruises.

Her husband, David Dukes, 20, escaped unhurt. California Highway Patrol Sgt. James C. Dukes, who investigated, said the car failed to negotiate a curve and went over an embankment.

Two youths were thrown from a motorcycle in a collision with a station wagon on Paradise Drive, one-half mile east of Trestle Glen Road, at 3:15 p.m. Saturday, and each suffered a broken right thigh bone.

Injured were Laurence Buskirk, 16, of 4420 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, driver of the motorcycle, and has passenger, Roger Warner, 15, of San Francisco.

The highway patrol reported the youths were thrown about 50 feet down an embankment when the motorcycle collided with a car driven by Mrs. Dorothy Price Kelly, 42, of 36 Seafirth Road, Tiburon.

The eastbound motorcycle was rounding a curve when it swung onto the wrong side of the road, the patrol reported.

Buskirk was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital. Warner was taken to Children's Hospital in San Francisco. The hospital refused to disclose his condition today.

A 43-year-old San Rafael man suffered a sore neck in a two-car accident on East Francisco Boulevard, north of Vivian Way, at 5:05 p.m. Saturday.

Injured was James N. Lidell, 43, of 22 Calavista Drive, one of the drivers, who was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

The highway patrol reported a car driven by an unidentified driver struck the rear of Lidell's car, which was stopped.

A car driven by a 16-year-old Larkspur boy crashed into a power pole beside Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, near Marin Catholic High School, in Kentfield, at 2:30 a.m. yesterday, resulting in minor injury to a passenger.

The car, driven by Robert L. Davis of 116 Ward Street, broke the pole in two places, the highway patrol reported. Steven Edward Bigelow, 15, of 300 William Avenue, Larkspur, a passenger, suffered a bump on his head. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Three persons suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Highway 101 at Luca Valley Road at 8:20 a.m. yesterday.

A car driven by Richard R. Thomas, 59, of 2000 Redwood Highway, Kentfield, collided with one driven by Ronald M. Salveson, 35, of 8 Rubicon Court, Lucas Valley, the highway patrol reported.

Salveson, who was thrown from his car, suffered a bruised right hand. Estelle Salveson, 30, suffered a broken nose, and Genevieve Salveson, 66, a bruised right hand. All were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Three persons were injured at 10:15 p.m. yesterday when the car they were riding in careened over the Waldo Grade guardrail on Highway 101 south of Rodeo Avenue and shot across the travel lanes on the opposite side.

Denny F. Ragan, 37, and his wife, Barbara, 34, both of Millbrae, and Jacqueline Brunton, 39, of San Mateo, suffered multiple bruises. They were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Ragan's southbound car sideswiped one driven by Clifford W. Dorman, 27, of San Francisco, according to the highway patrol.

Sebastino John Russo, 50, of 100 San Carlos Way, Novato, suffered back injury in an accident at 4:10 p.m. Saturday near 1130 Simmons Lane, Novato, according to police.

Russo was driving north on Simmons Lane when his car was hit by a southbound pickup truck driven by Robert Alan Kreiger, 24, of 1941 Indian Valley Road, Novato, police reported. Russo drove into the ditch trying to avoid the accident, according to police. He was to see his own doctor.

Runaway

Corte Madera police booked a 14-year-old Corte Madera boy into juvenile hall as a runaway early Saturday. They found him walking along Tamalpais Avenue, five hours after his mother reported he walked away from her in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

WOODROW V. CAPURRO

Re-Election To Be Sought By Capurro

Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro, 45, of 79 Lincoln Avenue, San Anselmo, has taken out papers of nomination for re-election to the San Anselmo City Council.

Capurro, who was unavailable for comment today, was elected to his first term on the city council in 1962, when he defeated then councilman Carleton G. Little by seven votes. He was appointed mayor in April, 1965, and served a term as vice mayor the year before.

Capurro is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and he attended two years at College of Marin. He is a lather superintendent for Weber Plastering Co. of San Rafael. He lives with his wife, Jermaine, and two daughters, Wanda, 8, and La Lisa, 5.

Little also has entered the race for the April election.

Marincello Alternative Is Rejected

The Marin County Planning Commission today recommended against allowing a 20-acre commercial center as an alternate development in the Tennessee Valley portion of the Marincello master plan.

David Van Pelt of the county planning department said the 20 acres would be shown for single family use under a plan amendment. He said Frouge Corp. wanted the alternate to try development of motels, restaurant or motels in connection with residential uses.

MASTER PLAN

Commissioners, however, agreed that a master plan can be changed through the application and hearing process and establishing an alternate would give one portion of the land a special designation.

Mrs. Jean Barnard of Mill Valley asked what "constant" these questioning the plan can rely on if it is constantly subject to change.

Planning Director Paul Zucker answered that there is nothing to prevent a property owner from requesting a change of zone. "You just have to hope that the planning commission and the board of supervisors are on the right side."

Only uses other than single residential to be allowed in Tennessee Valley, according to the commission's recommendation today, will be 10 acres for an elementary school and eight to 10 acres for a neighborhood shopping center.

OTHER PLANS

The commission also recommended that the commercial area adjacent to Sausalito, where a hilltop hotel is planned, be retained, and that the 164 acres for business and professional development and light industry remain along the southern boundary of the planned community, adjacent to the proposed headlands state park.

These recommendations will be considered by county supervisors tomorrow afternoon.

The commission put off until March 7 consideration of a proposed access through the Bunker Hill Road route, covenants that would assure development as proposed, and a request for an additional 4.5 acres of commercial zoning.

The bid for additional commercial zone was heard by the commission for the first time today. Van Pelt said the developer wants to locate a sales office and restaurant on a knoll halfway down toward the bottom of the Marincello bowl.

Students Are Cleared In Syrup Bottles Find

Sheriff's officers today continued their investigation of reported use of marijuana on campus at Tamalpais High School but cleared students of any connection with some 30 bottles of habit-forming cough syrup found in an abandoned snack bar nearby.

Deputy William Bradford, who had the restaurant, the Canteen, under surveillance for the past two weeks, said the bottles were purchased and the contents consumed by Robert Duane Bryant, a former tenant for several months.

He said the syrup, containing codeine phosphate, was purchased at various Mill Valley and Tiburon pharmacies. No prescription is required, he added, but the buyer must sign for each purchase.

Bradford said there is evidence that teen-agers have been using the building as a "party pad" since Bryant and his wife moved out, but there was no sign of marijuana use. He said only a few cigarette butts were found, and none warranted an analysis for marijuana content.

The building, south of the school parking lot, was declared off-limits to students and went out of business. Bradford said Bryant apparently leased it from the owner, Blanda Telander, 75, of 5 Homestead Boulevard, Homestead Valley.

Mrs. Telander today said Bryant and "a beatnik friend" lived in the building for a year. She said they left behind the box spring and innerspring mattress which are in the building—as well as the litter of cough syrup bottles.

Robert H. Prather, principal of Tamalpais High, said he has asked the county health department to order the abandoned building to be destroyed as a nuisance.

Asked what she planned to do with the building, Mrs. Telander said he hoped to sell it.

The investigation followed a report by a 17-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl of use of marijuana and the drug, LSD, on campus by several students. Sheriff's juvenile officers and the State Narcotics Bureau said they will question 11 students—including eight girls—whose names she supplied.

Harvey Teague, juvenile inspector, said today he talked with the girl's mother Friday, but has not yet queried the students. He also said he will attempt to have the building "boarded up."

McCarthy Files Candidacy Intent

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, was first candidate to declare an intent of candidacy with the Marin County clerk's office, as filing period for legislative candidates opened today.

Senator McCarthy is seeking re-election from the new Fourth District, which includes Solano and Napa counties as well as Marin.

Three Reports On Vandalism

Three cases of vandalism on one block of Bella Vista Avenue, Belvedere, between 10 a.m. and midnight Saturday, were reported to Belvedere police yesterday.

Henry Balcom of 136 Bella Vista found the license plate bent on his car and a light fixture in a tree ripped loose. Next door, at 140 Bella Vista, Dr. Ivan Bronstein reported his car window smashed.

At 172 Bella Vista, home of Wallace Marinko, two lights were broken on the garage and a railing was smashed on the carport.

Wreck Blocks Span Traffic

A three-car, rear-end collision in the Funston Tunnel south of the Golden Gate Bridge at 4:10 p.m. yesterday tied up southbound traffic on Highway 101 for more than three hours and caused several more minor collisions.

The accident occurred when Ernest Leroy Grabstein, 32, of San Francisco, stopped with traffic in the southbound lane of the tunnel, the California Highway Patrol reported.

No one was injured.

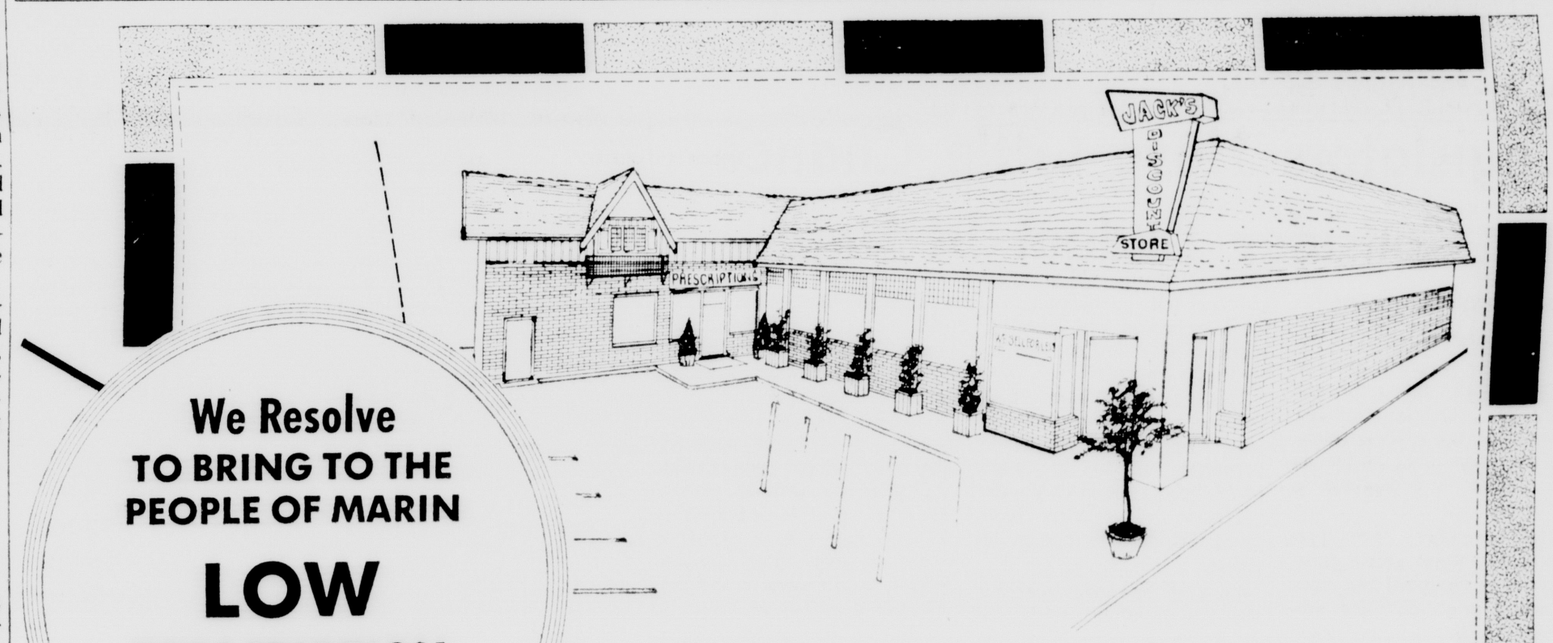
Dog Bites

Kenneth Fuetsch, 11, of 3 Hickory Avenue, Corte Madera, was bitten on the leg by a dog at 534 Tamalpais Avenue, Corte Madera, as he walked his paper route Saturday afternoon. The dog belongs to Ralph E. Bliss of that address, police reported.

Route Man Wanted For Questioning

Novato police today sought Roger Herbert Hilton, 21, who formerly lived at 897 Eucalyptus Avenue, Novato, for questioning in an alleged shortage in funds from his dry-cleaning route.

Elmo A. Sasselli of 825 Atherton Avenue, proprietor of Orchid Cleaners at 1531 South Novato Boulevard, told police Hilton operated a cleaning pickup route for him in December. He vanished, said Sasselli, and unaccounted for is more than $500 of the company's money from the route.



We Resolve
TO BRING TO THE PEOPLE OF MARIN
LOW
PRICES

The high drug costs of today are a serious money problem to many families, especially to those with fixed income and those with chronic illnesses. As a solution to this problem we apply modern methods to the prescription department by selling at low prices, thus producing volume sales. This decreases costs and overhead. The result will be low prices for you, and we believe a low cost prescription service is just what the public wants.

HERE'S WHY WE CAN DO IT:

1. We have reduced our overhead by closing at 6:00 p.m. every day—a saving which we pass on to you.
2. We own our building and parking lot—there is no rent to pay — a saving which we pass on to you.
3. Ours is a self-service store—serve yourself and save—a saving which we pass on to you.
4. We do a big business—we buy in big volume, thus we buy at a lower cost—a saving which we pass on to you.
5. We buy from a discount-store wholesaler in San Francisco (the only drug store in Marin having this privilege). Again we buy at a lower cost—a saving which we pass on to you.
6. Our employees have all been with us many years—they are happy here and they try harder—thus a saving by efficient operation—a saving which we pass on to you.
7. In many drug stores the profit from the prescription department carries the "front end" of the store—not so at JACK'S. We do a big volume of business in the "front end" of our store—stop in to see our low prices and great variety of merchandise and you will understand why—another saving which we pass on to you.
8. Last but not least, we just plain take a smaller mark-up on merchandise and on prescriptions—a saving which we pass on to you.

We MEET or BEAT any prescription price. We will NOT be undersold

We can refill any refillable prescription regardless of where it was originally filled. We will be happy to call your physician for his authorization.

JACK'S GUARANTEED-LOW PRESCRIPTION PRICES

If you have had any problems with prescription service or prices elsewhere please be assured that I will consider it a privilege to discuss them with you personally.

Sincerely,

Parallel Parking Solves Just One Traffic Problem

The controversy over parallel parking for San Rafael's Fourth Street was a heated one, but the decision is made, and we are confident that the community will be better for it.

Bravo to the San Rafael city fathers, who brought the matter up on their own initiative and then stuck to their guns despite stiff opposition from some merchants and others.

The business district should benefit from the smoother flow of traffic and from the shopper appeal that a "widened" street will offer. And this benefit will extend to all taxpayers in the city because greater shopper appeal will bring in more sales tax revenue to meet the expenses of running city government.

Individual drivers who are less than experts at wheeling their cars into parallel spaces may be somewhat inconvenienced. But even they should be compensated by less street congestion.

And offstreet spaces with angle parking are available in city parking lots just a block or two away from main street. The upper deck on the offstreet lot at Third Street and Lootens Place will probably get better usage.

San Rafael has come a long way in facing up to its traffic problems. Entrance and exit at Highway 101 have been improved, and the initial phase of the one-way street program is operating satisfactorily.

Now is the time to start pushing ahead for the next phase of the one-way street program — providing one way traffic on Fifth and Mission avenues.

This second phase will be more difficult because the streets will need widening, especially Mission Avenue behind St. Raphael's Church.

If we allow this obstacle to serve as an excuse for procrastination, San Rafael may have to wait for another 10 years before any expansion is forthcoming on the present one-way pattern.

The same type of forthright and decisive action shown in converting Fourth Street to parallel parking is needed to complete the one-way pattern that is on the city's drawing board —to make Fifth one-way eastbound, and Mission one-way westbound.

Other suggestions have been advanced, such as one-way cross streets running north and south to provide traffic "loops." Whether these are feasible, we must await traffic engineers to determine.

Much has been accomplished in the past few years, but more remains to be done if the San Rafael's downtown is to compete effectively with the growth of outlying shopping areas.

Mice And The Boob Tube

Do your house mice (assuming that you have some) enjoy television? We have it, from nature-loving friends, that it is a common occurence for a mouse to creep into a darkened room and sit for hours, gazing in fascination at the lively action on the idiot box.

Perhaps the next thing we know, the more intellectual mice will be trying for fellowships at Berkeley after being exposed to KQED repeatedly.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Legislators Have Little Chance To Consider Budget In Detail

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — As the budget adoption process gets underway again for another year, one is reminded again what a surface-scratching operation it is, as far as the California legislature is concerned.

The lawmakers were presented this week with a document of more than 1,500 pages in small print, detailing proposals of the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown for spending in the year which runs from July 1, 1966, to June 30, 1967.

Under provisions of the constitution, the legislature must complete its action on the budget within 30 working days. After a recess of that session for committee work, it's expected the budget will be up for adoption toward the end of March.

WHAT THIS means, in actual operation, is that about 30 legislators from the two houses' financial committees will be spending part of the time for some 30 days or less, and the full membership of the two houses will spend a couple of days in floor debate on the document.

This is a document that thousands of state workers have spent several months in preparing and the big team of financial experts in the department of finance have spent considerable time in refining.

Thus it becomes apparent that the sheer physical nature of the task must limit the scrutiny given the budget by the legislature. One top administration aide remarked some time ago that the cries from the press and public for economy in government are somewhat misdirected.

This official pointed out that the only real economy in government would have to start at the lower levels, by the individual office, in fact, and this is not a very likely possibility under the civil service system.

MUCH OF THE budget, of course, is presented to the lawmakers only for review purposes as the legislature has no authority to alter the appropriations. This is true of the more than $650 million in the budget for highway construction.

Millions more are spent under special formulae, such as the constitutional requirement that provides how much money must be spent for each child in the public schools. Millions more are spent in conjunction with federal programs and are tied to federal formulae.

All of which is why, when the final budget is adopted, it likely will vary from the one introduced by only a matter of a few million dollars. The state administration, like the federal one, no doubt will be in with some requests for augmentations to proposals in the budget.

Under this plan, the budget often is approved finally in a higher amount than it was submitted, although the legislature is not necessarily to blame.

SOME INDICATION of the complexity of the budget process is the fact that Hale Champion, director of finance, and his experts, do not feel a total figure for the budget even should be used as it is not realistic.

They point out that some money in the budget (this year about $20 million) is for the payment of principal on bonds and the bond funds were listed in earlier budgets as expenditure.

By the same token, although this was not pointed out by Champion, the budget is listed as a $4.6 billion document but actually calls for expenditure of another $500 million or so in federal funds for capital outlay program. Thus the budget could be termed a $5.5 billion spending program.

There are carry-overs of millions of dollars that are budgeted for a year but remain unspent and then must be listed again in the following year. Despite these inconsistencies, the press always has insisted upon some total figure.

Otherwise, it would be impossible to make any comparisons with previous years and the taxpayer would have even less of an idea of where his money is going.

Unpaid Experts In Marin City Meet

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Wednesday, Jan. 26, made reference to "the Supervisors had hired a foundation to station some experts in the audience during the first meeting. . . . The hired experts met supervisors in a private 'critique' session."

I was not aware that anyone had been hired by the Board and upon checking on this point, learned that in fact no money was expended for anyone to sit in the audience at either of the Marin City hearings.

Members of a foundation with wide experience in problems similar to those which we have in Marin City were asked to be in the audience and to give us the benefit of their experience in our attempting to arrive at proper decisions regarding Marin City. I certainly would not consider these people to be spies or sneaky or something that the Board would be ashamed of. They were there in what we considered to be the best interests of the county. They were not paid; they were of help in assisting us to arrive at a decision.

Dystrophy Drive On For Trading Stamps

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The newly formed Muscular Dystrophy Association Auxiliary of Marin is conducting a drive for Blue Chip Stamps, to be used for the purchase of specialized hospital equipment for the free use of the 32 afflicted children in Marin.

The financial burden of caring for these children is tremendous. We hope to be able to ease this somewhat by making available this specially built equipment.

Any amount of stamps may be mailed to 626 Vendola Drive, San Rafael, California. Anyone interested in joining our group of volunteers may contact membership chairman, Mrs. Hans Hartmann, at the same address.

Marin General Rates Under Fire

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Every time Marin General Hospital ups the room rates, it does for higher wages. Why don't they come right out and say it is for higher wages instead of upkeep for the hospital.

I don't see how the directors can live on $22,800 per year, as must the taxpayers live on much less and still have to pay higher room rates and higher taxes. But still somehow we get by. Of course we can't live as high as some can.

Concert, Lecture Group Gives Thanks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the College of Marin Concert and Lecture Committee, I wish to express my thanks to you and the members of your staff for the fine support given to bringing the San Francisco Symphony to the college for the Feb. 5 performance. We especially appreciate your brief editorial in the Feb. 4 issue of the Independent-Journal which encouraged the music loving citizens of the county to respond to this program. I believe that this and two other mentions of the Symphony in the same paper helped to boost sales during the last day.

We have always been appreciative at the college for your bringing our Concert and Lecture program to the attention of the citizens of Marin. I especially recall your editorial of Feb. 2, 1965, just a year ago, entitled "College Concert, Lecture Series on Firm Ground." I believe that our Concert and Lecture program is definitely moving toward a confirmation of this statement.

Thank you again for giving our program a fine assist. We at the college appreciate it, as I am sure do the citizens of Marin County.

All Free Men Are Not Equal'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Referring to the column To Be Equal:

It has been well said: "Equal men are not free, and free men are not equal".

Instead of self-pity, resentment, striving to be "equal", we should all try being grateful, grateful that our ancestors came to America, grateful that we are privileged to live in this blessed land!

"To him that hath (gratitude) shall be given, and from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath."

We all get what we deserve.

Longtime Bus Stop Going

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It may interest you to know that Greyhound is quietly planning to curtail its commute service to Marin by cutting out long established bus stops. For example, it is presently planning to abandon a long-established stop at the Reedlands on its line from San Francisco to Tiburon giving as its reason the argument that the new four-lane Tiburon Highway does not permit them to stop safely at that point. Apparently, Greyhound is not concerned with a much greater danger of depositing passengers at a point considerably down the highway requiring them to walk back along the heavily traveled route.

It is obvious that this is another effort on the part of a public carrier to curtail its service in such a manner as to discourage passengers from using the service with the ultimate purpose of abandoning the commute service altogether.

BENNETT CERF

ENDLESS are the adventures that may befall an intrepid golfer as, regardless of weather or obstacles, he plods doggedly around the links. Take the case of Rex Bartlett, for example, as told by Fred Beck in his highly amusing "89 Years in a Sand Trap." Mr. Bartlett was leading the field in an interclub tourney in California until he bounced an approach shot into a bowl of mustard on a hot dog stand. Or the plight of Carl Boies, a pro in Texas. Playing under the old rule that provided no player may touch his ball until he has holed out, Boies drove his ball into a sea of icky mud. He played out manfully, splattering himself and the gallery with mud in the process, and, miraculously, landed smack on the green.

He carefully stroked his ball toward the cup ten feet away when, alas, he discovered that the ball was stuck firmly to the blade of his putter!

IN A CHICAGO saloon a bouncer threw a drink-cadger out on his ear four times running, but the undaunted victim always kept coming back for more. An enthralled bystander finally solved the bouncer's difficulty. "You're putting too much backspin on him," he observed.

'Smell Of War' Means Inflation, According To Economic Advisors

By STERLING F. GREEN
(James Marlow is ill)

WASHINGTON (AP)—"There is a smell of war in the air," remarked Dr. Otto Eckstein, just-resigned member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The smell of war begins the remembrance of inflation. The remembrance can make people behave as if inflation were already here.

So they may rush to buy, before prices go higher. They may hasten to build, before building costs go up. They may place big orders for materials because no businessman dare be caught in an inflated market with his inventories down.

AND UNION leaders — if they think the smell of war is strong enough — may demand big wage boosts before wages can be frozen.

It's all called hedging against inflation. It can make a big inflation out of a little one, or even start an inflation where there isn't any.

All the aspects of what scholars call "the expectation of inflation" probably were in Dr. Eckstein's mind when he made his remark about the smell of war.

For the economist was making the point that inflation really isn't necessary. He was participating as a private citizen—and a distinguished professor at Harvard—in a panel discussion on the hazards and prevention of inflation. Naturally his views coincided with those of his former colleagues on the President's council.

At the height of the planned Viet Nam buildup, Dr. Eckstein pointed out, military spending will take just 7.6 per cent of the national output instead of the 7.5 per cent it has been taking.

NO CIVILIAN shortages are foreseen. Despite a tightening labor market, the stepping-up of draft calls still won't reduce joblessness to the long-sought minimum called "full employment." And there will still be a little slack left in manufacturing plant capacity.

Congress meantime is grinding out a short-term tax law to sop up excess buying power, and the money managers are squeezing down the money and credit supply.

And the administration has reaffirmed, as its underlying anti-inflation weapons, the voluntary wage-price guidelines. These have helped for four years to moderate labor's wage settlements and industry's price decisions.

IN THEORY, one could hardly disagree with Dr. Eckstein's view that inflation needn't happen. Actually many do disagree, and some of them are economists every bit as distinguished as he.

Said Dr. Burns, in effect:

The tax-boosting and credit-squeezing are correct moves, but they come too late to offset the mistake already made.

"We've been manufacturing money at a very rapid rate, and that is what has been pushing prices up," he said.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Johnson Key Posts Remaining Unfilled

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — While President Johnson seems to have an inexhaustible list of costly new programs and projects to send to Congress, his record is very different when it comes to filling key offices in the steadily expanding federal structure.

On this crucial administrative necessity, his batting is in a deep slump.

Important vacancies abound on every hand. Virtually every department and major agency is awaiting the appointment of one or more key officials, in some instances for as long as six months.

A glaring example is the comptroller general — who heads the big General Accounting Office that checks on government spending and operations. Although a 15-year appointment and the last incumbent, Joseph Campbell, quit last summer because of poor health, for some unexplained reason no successor has been named.

FROM TIME TO TIME, administration insiders have indicated that Representative Jack Brooks, D-Tex., close friend of the President, is slated for the job. But the White House has remained silent, and the place is still unfilled.

In some cases the top-level vacancies have had definite adverse effect. That is what happened to the Small Business Administration.

It has been without a head since last September when Eugene Foley was made assistant secretary of commerce for economic development. In October, on White House orders, SBA funds (around $160 million) were frozen to provide emergency loans for disasters resulting from the widespread ravages of Hurricane Betsy and Midwest floods.

Since then, loan applications from small businessmen have piled up unheeded.

VARIOUS REASONS are being advanced for the exceptional number of high-level vacancies, and the President's seeming inertia in filling them.

Most frequently heard in White House circles is the claim that prospects with the desired qualifications are loath to give up big-paying private jobs for government salaries. Assertedly, eagerly-sought possibilities time and again refuse to be persuaded to accept proffered appointments.

In other quarters it is contended the problem is not as simple as that. They hold that often it's a matter of merit versus politics; that well-qualified prospects are available, but don't meet the President's political criteria.

In 1964 the President directed Civil Service Chairman John Macy to submit recommendations for important vacancies as they developed. Macy has done this conscientiously and with high-minded objectivity. His lists have been top quality.

But from the number of long-pending vacancies, it would appear that Macy's recommendations may have been of the best, but in vain.

IN CONGRESS strong suspicions have developed that President Johnson is planning to shift the Small Business Administration to the Commerce Department under recently named Assistant Secretary Eugene Foley, former head of SBA.

George Burger, vice president of the National Federation of Independent Business, wrote the President asking for assurance that SBA "will not be merged or consolidated with any other federal agency." President Kennedy, Burger noted, gave such a promise.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RICK LYTTLE

Our Poor Man's Ogden Nash Comments On Censorship Splash

Is to write a bad book, get it published and then have somebody ban it.

When it comes to mean tricks, no one is more guillible than I am.

Unless it is John J. Merganzer who bought an airline ticket for Philadelphia and ended up in Siam.

When they told him it was actually Thailand he began to holler ('cause here he stood with an open collar.)

Knowing full well that you cannot tell a book by its cover,

One usually likes novels by the British.

But that was one I could not finish.

Recently I invested in Jack Kerouac.

Now I want my money back.

I think herewith, whereas and therefore that whenever anyone bans a book, or thinks he should,

We insist it be good.

Surely banning a book makes it wider read

I have often argued that for good results

Shakespeare should be banned for both students and adults.

Fie on those who say he's only trying to jest with us.

There is only one word for it, and I hope you will forgive me for saying so, but it's incestuous.

Even drop-outs would read all 37 plays and every sonnet.

It would also provide readers considerable excitement.

We would have to meet in secret to avoid indictment.

We could form cells for secret reading,

And if the FBI agents or members of the House Un-American Activities Committee asked questions, we could smile and be misleading.

We could out birch the Birch Society.

What we should call ourselves I cannot say.

It should be cryptic like "P-TA."

These fellows have been publishing books for years

And banning never caused them any fears.

Those who remember the Spanish Inquisition will recall how Christians tried to ban the Torah

Anyhow after about 200 years the Christians all said they were very sorrah.

Not only had the book multiplied far beyond anyone's wildest estimate,

But the Christians also discovered they had been banning a great chunk of the Old Testament.

In short, with all the thousands of works of quality to forbid,

Civic Center's Portrait Adorns State Report

The cover of State Controller Alan Cranston's annual report of "Financial Transactions Concerning Counties of California" for fiscal 1964-65 bears a picture of Marin's Civic Center.

Inside the book, it appears that Marin was among the leaders in increase of assessed valuation.

Assessed valuation in Marin went from $377,770,860 in fiscal 1963-64 to $429,466,950, an increase of 13.68 per cent.

Only four counties showed higher rates of increase: San Mateo County, a whopping 33.67 per cent; Ventura County, 18.04 per cent; Mariposa County, 14.47 per cent, and Shasta County, 13.82 per cent. State-wide average increase was 7 per cent.

Personnel Commission Sets Complaint Airing

The Marin County Personnel Commission will meet at 11 a.m. March 1 at the Civic Center to hear a complaint of Walter R. Noll of the county department of public works.

Noll claims a de facto demotion through an adjustment in engineering classifications which put him in the lower of two grades after he had been in the middle of a three-grade classification.

Only Columnist Can Make Final Decision On War In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — The Vietnamese war has called for some agonizing decisions, but none has been more agonizing than those which have to be made by the Washington political columnists.

Although they can seek out the advice of everyone, including the President of the United States, they alone can make the final decision as to what we should do in Southeast Asia.

This burden weighs heavily on each Washington pundit, and every morning, as the people of the world wake up from another fitful night of sleep, they look to the Washington columnists for the solution to the thorny problems that confront us all.

As I walked into the office of Joseph Wallstop, the widely read syndicated columnist, I saw him silhouetted against the window, bent over a map of the world. I thought to myself how lonely his job must be and how great the risks he must take every day in his column.

HE INVITED me to sit down.

"I'm going to have to call up the reserves tomorrow."

"So soon?" I said.

"I don't see how we can do it any other way. As you know, I was against the peace offensive from the start. I warned the President not to do it. Since he would not take my advice, I see no other choice but to get this country on a war footing."

"But Mr. Wallstop, the President promised us guns and butter," I pleaded.

"He obviously didn't read my column of Oct. 1,2 1965, where I pointed out that the only thing the Communists understood was force.

"TO UNDERSTAND this war, you must understand what happened in the Tang dynasty of 987 B.C. The situation was exactly similar except that the Tangs thought they could do business with the Yangs. They found out differently. I hope we're not going to go the way of the Tangs."

"I hope so, too. But how can we avoid it?"

"We must bomb more expensive targets, we must burn bridges and rice fields, oil depots and railroad yards, and we must escalate the escalation. It's all here in my piece of Nov. 26th."

"Aren't you afraid of a war with China?"

"Afraid? I'd welcome it. I declared war on China in 1947 and Congress turned me down. Well, the United States pussyfooted for almost 20 years and where did it get us? No one has ever accused me of trying to prevent a war or win a peace."

"Would you advocate using nuclear weapons in South Viet Nam.

"SPARINGLY. We don't want to win the war and lose the natives. I would'nt use nuclear weapons against the terrorists in Saigon, for example, but once you get out in the boondocks I think you should use everything you've got."

"Mr. Wallstop, you've advised four Presidents since World War II on how to handle world affairs. How would you say they did?"

"They all let me down sooner or later.

"Under our present form of government, I can only advise a President what to do; I can't make him do it. I believe this is the weakness in our Constitution."

"HOW DO YOU think President Johnson shapes up compared to the others?"

"It's too early to tell yet. If he follows my recommendations, he'll be a great President. If he doesn't, he'll have only himself to blame."

"Suppose he doesn't call up the reserves."

Mr. Wallstop looked at me with his firm jaw jutting out and said, "Then I'll have to call them up myself."

All you'd lose would be your freedom . . .

Newspapers are familiar things, but extremely dangerous. They're dangerous to any kind of government that operates in secrecy. They're dangerous to corruption in high places. They're dangerous to those who would use public concerns for private ends.

But they don't LOOK dangerous . . .

They appear, as does the Independent-Journal, to be a journal of events. They tell you of Congress, of Viet Nam, of births, health and education, of fashions and business, of politics, a charity drive—a thousand things. Newspapers APPEAR so familiar because you see them every day. And they're written by people who don't look dangerous at all.

But don't be fooled. The news is a lot more than it seems. It arms you with something more powerful than any government, any weapon, any faction. It arms you with the ONE thing which alone can protect your freedoms—the simple act of KNOWING what government is doing, from city hall to national capitol. It puts in your hands the means to correct, to change, to ward off any encroachment on the democratic process.

The I-J is part of this ever-flowing stream if information. Our reporters sit in for you at the inner councils — and make them public. They extend your eyes and ears to any meeting where the public concern is at stake. With pad and pencil they take you across the critical thresholds of knowledge . . . turning acts into the unmistakable fact of print.

This is why newspapers are dangerous things to have around . . . in anything but a free society.

This is why, if you would be free, the press MUST BE FREE to serve and preserve the laws of freedom.

As you read your newspaper, take a second look: Is it really just a journal of events? Or is it perhaps a Bill of Rights, printed daily, affirming even your liberty to read?

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Driver Injured On Waldo Grade

William C. Phillips, 21, of San Francisco, suffered multiple cuts at 3:30 a.m. Saturday when he fell asleep at the wheel of his 1965 Corvair and careened into an embankment at the side of Highway 101 on the Waldo Grade.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Phillips was driving south when he fell asleep near the Spencer Avenue interchange. Phillips was driving at about 60 miles per hour when the mishap occurred, reported the CHP.

He was treated and released from Marin General Hospital.

Drunken Driving Fines Imposed

Richard Eugene Punchak, 31, San Francisco, was given a suspended $250 fine on condition that he pay $150, and placed on six months probation Friday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

He was arrested Tuesday by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

William John Zunkel, 29, of 802 Chamberlain Court, Mill Valley, was fined $300 and placed on six months probation, also for drunken driving. He was arrested Wednesday by sheriff's officers on Tiburon Boulevard.

School District Told Joint Venture Is Out

There is no authority which would empower Mill Valley and Sausalito School Districts to enter a joint building project, Thomas G. Hendricks, deputy county counsel, has informed the Mill Valley district. His letter is on the Mill Valley board of trustees agenda at its 8 p.m. meeting today in the district office.

The board will also hear a report on the traffic situation adjacent to Park School at East Blithedale and Elm Avenue, following questions of trustee William P. Everts Jr. for investigation of drivers running the stop-light.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Dial A Dietician Programs Set Up In Several Big Cities

VAN DELLEN

In certain cities a person can obtain facts on normal nutrition by dialing the regional dietetic association. An answering service records the query with the caller's name, address, and telephone number. The questions are referred to a dietician and the individual gets the answer within 24 to 48 hours.

The organization answers only questions dealing with normal nutrition and dietary modifications. They do not prescribe diets used in treating obesity, diabetes, peptic ulcer, or other medical conditions.

DETAILED DIETARY instructions are avoided by phone. They also answer questions on the health value of foods, food preservation and sanitation, and how to modify or substitute edibles in a therapeutic regimen. They do not recommend any one retailer or brand and usually include the names of three of the best.

According to the Journal of the American Dietetic Assn., the response has been successful and educational. The association also is obtaining information on the dietetic knowledge of the inhabitants in cities where dial-a-dietician is available.

After analyzing 3,415 questions they found that they could be categorized. The most numerous queries were on food composition followed by those in dietary modification, food sanitation and preparation, and food in relation to health and metabolism.

There were 10 categories in all and the questions varied considerably.

The middle class, unemployed homemaker was the most frequent caller. The society found that newspaper columns were the best media to publicize the service.

THE MAJORITY of calls come from persons interested in losing weight. They asked for literature on weight reduction or caloric charts. In contrast, there was little concern about vitamins, fat, cholesterol, and polyunsaturated fatty acids.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

RINSE REACTION

Mrs. S. Q. writes: Could allergy to a hair rinse cause the neck glands to swell? This has been happening for six months.

REPLY

Infections of the scalp may lead to enlargement of lymph glands in the neck, but it is questionable whether allergy would do the same. Why not change to another rinse or stop using your present product and see what happens? Should glandular enlargement continue, the condition should be investigated by a physician.

FOOT PAIN

P. P. H. writes: How can a person determine whether foot pain is caused by hardening of the arteries or fallen arches?

REPLY

An untrained person might have difficulty in differentiating between the two causes. Accurate diagnosis requires an evaluation of the circulation and arches of the foot.

NOT NEEDED

K. J. writes: Will the coccyx be missed after it is removed because of severe pain?

REPLY

No. Humans have no use for a tailbone and never miss this vestigial structure after its removal. On the other hand, the pain in this area may not disappear after the bone is removed.

LIVER DISEASES

M. G. writes: What can be done for liver disease?

REPLY

Feed it with a diet rich in proteins and carbohydrates and protect the liver from harm by avoiding toxic agents such as alcohol. Your physician may wish to prescribe amino acids such as methionine or choline.

SMOKE IRRITATES

W. V. D. writes: My husband and I are nonsmokers. I would like to know if "second-hand smoke" is dangerous? We often find ourselves in a smoke filled room.

REPLY

No, because it is diluted. On the other hand, I have been in "smoke filled rooms" that are so dense, my eyes burn and tear, coughing occurs and my head aches.

WE WONDER

K. G. writes: Are the new drugs for tuberculosis classed as wonder drugs?

REPLY

No, even tho they are excellent antibacterial products. The term "wonder drugs" was coined by science writers and applied chiefly to the sulfonamides and penicilin, which still retain their priority rank.

HAIR STRAIGHTENING

Carol writes: Some girls iron their hair to make it straight. Is there any harm in doing this?

REPLY

Yes, if the shaft or scalp is burned.

Tax Agent Slated To Discuss IRS

County Board To Ask Rehabilitation Fund

The rehabilitation would be provided in San Rafael and Tamalpais High School Districts and Novato Unified School District. The State Department of rehabilitation would provide $13,892 for the last three months of this fiscal year and $98,034 next fiscal year. Much of this aid partment of Rehabilitation, acwould be in terms of time spent by workers from the State Decording to Kenneth W. Lowry, administrative consultant in the county schools office.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Gleason Coming Back In Color With Art Carney At His Side

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —A reuniting with Art Carney on a regular series basis has helped persuade Jackie Gleason to return to his weekly CBS-TV show next season after he had announced he would take a hiatus "to work on new ideas."

A statement yesterday from Miami, Gleason's base of operations, said he would star "in a completely new comedy variety series," in color. His programs now appear in black-and-white. Gleason siad:

"In a much shorter span of time than I thought possible, we came up with a new concept. What's more important, I've got a whale of a guy to work with (Carney) . . . we'll be announcing details very soon."

Reached by telephone in Miami, Gleason's executive producer, Jack Philbin, said that the details of the "new concept" probably would center around a three-pronged approach to the weekly show:

About one-third of the season's 30 programs, he said, probably will be full-hour versions of the old Gleason-Carney-Audrey Meadows "Honeymooners" series, either in straight comedy or musical form.

Another third or so of the season's programs, said Philbin, probably will be full-hour original musical-comedy satire efforts, another idea recently tried out by the Gleason show in its attempts to combat the tough ratings competition of NBC-TV's "Flipper" series.

The remaining third of the Gleason programs, said the executive producer, probably will be straight, standard "sketch-variety-girlie revue" type hours. In short, barring changes, the "new" series will be essentially what the Gleason show has been in recent weeks, except for the apparent added number of "Honeymooners" outings.

Philbin said Carney currently is committed to do at least 20 of next season's shows, adding: "I'd love to use him for 30, and so would Jackie." The producer said there had also been discussions with Miss Meadows, and there was no definite answer, "but she indicated she'd like to do four or five shows", depending on whether she can arrange her family life to make it possible.

FBI Fumbled Arrest, Spy Says

MOSCOW (AP)—Col. Rudolph Abel, former Soviet master spy in the United States, says fumbles by FBI agents allowed him to ditch a recorded radio message from Moscow and a decoder while he was being arrested.

Abel was convicted in 1957 but exchanged five years later for U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Writing in Moscovsky Komsomolets, a youth newspaper, Abel said he had contact with Moscow the night before his arrest and the equipment was still in his hotel room when six FBI agents arrived.

While a careless FBI man was supposed to watch him, Abel claimed, he dropped the decoder down a toilet, then used the tape recording to wipe an artist's palette and flushed the tape down, too. While a spy in New York he had posed as an artist.

Short Hair Edict For Athletes

It may be getting harder to tell the boys from the girls these days, but at Redwood High School it's going to be easy to tell the athletes from the rest of the student body.

Haircuts must be "brushing length," the coaching staff has ruled. This means "hair too short to be combed out," the staff said. The traditional short haircut for athletes had grown longer and longer, prompting the rule.

Members of the Redwood Letterman Club must keep short haircuts for the remainder of the year or face expulsion from the club.

Britain Losing Protectorate

LONDON (AP)—The machinery for dismantling the British Empire slipped smoothly into gear again today to prepare the way for independence for the 550,000 Africans of Bechuanaland.

The constitutional conference that opened at Malborough House was expected to be one of the quietest as well as one of the last of its kind.

Barring accidents, by Sept. 30 the Bechuanaland protectorate will become the Independent Republic of Botswana, with Seretse Khama, now its prime minister, as its first president.

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors will hold a special meeting at 11 a.m. Saturday, at 201 Caledonia Street, Sausalito, to appoint a director to take the place of Frederick Palmer III who moved from the district, Edwin S. Long, secretary, said today.

Strongarm Men Steal Cash

Charles E. Sheehan of 54 Park Drive, San Anselmo, reported to sheriff's deputies Saturday that he was robbed of $75 when he stopped at a restaurant in Richmond at 1:30 a.m.

Sheehan said five or six men pushed him around when he stopped at the Slick Chick restaurant, just on the Richmond side of the Richmond-San Rafael bridge. They took his wallet containing $50 and also took $25 from his pants pocket, he said.

Planning matters will come up in the afternoon session, which starts at 1:30 p.m.

The planned community zoning proposed for the 170-acre Dias Ranch was earlier held up by the board, pending submission of the master plan for the property.

The planning commission has approved a master plan with considerable cluster housing and a density of 3.41 units per acre.

Amendments to be considered for the Marincello Master Plan are deletion of multiple zoning from the Tamalpais Valley portion of the planned community and study of some other location for business and professional and light industrial use now shown next to the proposed headlands state park.

Supervisors will also consider deletion of commercial zoning next to Sausalito city limits.

At 11 a.m. tomorrow, the board will again hold a public hearing on the future width lines of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield, between Laurel Grove Avenue and the Ross town limits.

Logging Men Reject Park Plan

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—President Johnson's proposed national redwood park in northern California has been unanimously rejected by 1,200 delegates to the 17th annual Sierra-Cascade Logging Conference.

The delegates adopted a resolution Saturday which said federal purchases of any more redwood forests would upset local economy. It said "sizable and very suitable" redwood forests already were under public ownership.

David M. Williams of the U.S. Plywood Corp., Redding, was elected the 1966-67 president of the conference. Other officers selected were Tom Taylor of Northfork, vice president, and L. D. aWmobold of Redding, secretary-treasurer.

Drysdale, Mays Exchange Barbs At Baseball Banquet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays and Don Drysdale, enemies on the diamond, traded friendly compliments last night at the annual banquet of the San Francisco Baseball Writers.

Drysdale, the ace right-handed pitcher of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, even suggested that the San Francisco center fielder was worth $200,000 a year. Willie just Friday had signed a two-year pact believed to call for $125,000 per season.

The repartee proved a hit of the show and started when Willie said, "His pitches sometimes come a little close. I'm not saying he's trying to hit me. He just wants to let me know he's out there . . . like I can't see him."

Mays added, "We didn't lose the pennant last season, the Dodgers won it."

Drysdale was honored by the writers and presented the Joe Cronin Award as the native California player of the year, while Mays was named the "Man of the Year" for 1965.

Casey Stengel was presented the Walter Judge Memorial Award, honoring the late baseball writer of the San Francisco Examiner, in recognition of Casey's 50 years in baseball as player and manager.

Stengel referred to Mays as one of the greatest center fielders in baseball history and recalled humorously his own dilemmas in trying to stop Willie's batting and watching his New York Mets try to solve Drysdale's pitching.

When the Dodger hurler told of pitching against the Giant power and named some of the hitters, Mays interrupted to say, "You name eight guys on our club and five of us have got to go down." The reference was to the close pitches that sent batters into the dirt and kept them from digging in for additional power.

Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto, former star player and now coach with the Giants, was presented the "Good Guy Award" after hearing a recording of his double for Brooklyn in the 1947 World Series which broke up New York Yankee Bill Bevens' bid for a no hitter in the ninth inning. Lavagetto, whose hit drove in both runs in a 2-1 Dodger victtory, recalled that two days later he struck out.

Stu Miller, former Giant and now the star relief pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles in the American League, won the Comeback Award and wondered, "Where have I been."

Mike Epstein, former University of California at Berkeley football and baseball player, was presented the "Hometown Boy Makes Good" trophy and wondered: "How did I get this when I live in Santa Monica in Southern California."

Epstein, a Baltimore property, won the Most Valuable Player award in the California League last season playing with Stockton.

Marin Tars Win Again; Face Santa Rosa Next

The Tars added Yuba to its list of victims for the second time last Saturday, dumping the visiting 49ers 82-56 before about 700 fans in the Kentfield gym. First time the two teams met this year, Marin thumped the 49ers 85-61.

The Tars, now 7-0 in conference action and 16-6 over-all, held Yuba to only six field goals in the first half while doubling the 49ers on the scoreboard, 44-22.

"Our team defense was very good," said Marin coach Cal Riemcke after the triumph.

"And it was good to have (Fred) Arnold back," he added. Arnold, the 6-7 forward for Marin, sat out two games because of an ankle injury. He got back to action Saturday, leading his team in scoring and rebounding, 16 points and 18 rebounds. Don Hanson, guard, scored 15 points.

Riemcke said Rod Monti played his best defensive game of the year. He also felt reserve guard Jeff Chapman did a good job of filling in for Lorry Galassi, out of action with strep throat.

Things should be a little rougher for the Tars Friday night when they go to Santa Rosa for a battle with the second place Bear Cubs. Then Saturday Marin hosts Sierra, both games starting at 8 p.m. The first time around this year, Marin whipped Santa Rosa 88-78—its only loss in conference play—and dumped Sierra 80-60.

Last Saturday's scoring summary:

Yuba: Don Hall, 2-3—7; Mike Gage, 0-2—2; Gary Eagleton, 3-0—6; Mike Mattingly, 3-2—8; Ken Griffin, 2-2—6; Pete Kingren, 4-1—9; Pete Borich, 5-8—18. Totals: 19-18—56.

Marin: Fred Arnold, 7-2—16; Rod Monti, 4-1—9; Jim Halm, 5-1—11; Bill Pandiani, 1-2—4; Don Hanson, 7-1—15; Larry Wolfe, 4-2—10; Bill Brody, 4-0—8; Rick Henika, 1-1—3; Kraig Kilby, 1-1—3; Jeff Chapman, 1-0—2; Arnold Schuch, 0-1—1. Totals: 35-12—82.

Total fouls: Marin 15, Yuba 19. Officials: Don Payne, Mike Levenson.

Willie Only Third Giant In History With Two-Year Pact

HANLEY

Willie Mays naturally is delighted with his new two-year contract calling for a quarter of a million dollars. He is particularly pleased with the way the Giants will spread his salary over several years in deferred payments to ease his tax problem.

"With taxes so high now," said Willie, "a two-year contract is a good one to have."

Indeed, it is. Two-year contracts for ball players, even superstars like Mays, are rare. In the entire history of the Giants only two other players, Walker Cooper and Alvin Dark, were given two-year pacts. Bill Terry also had one but it covered combined player-manager duties.

There have been cases of managers demanding two-year contracts, such as Charlie Dressen did unsuccessfully some years ago when he was with the Dodgers. But there is no recorded case of a player insisting upon a two-year contract, even in the present case of Mays.

IT WAS not quite clear whether Mays or the Giant management first thought of the two-year agreement for Willie. "Willie asked for it," said the Giant front office. When Mays was asked whose idea it was, he hesitated momentarily and then said: "Both."

Surely, the Giant front office wouldn't fib about such a matter. Maybe Willie and the Giant management simultaneously thought of the idea.

IT'- PREPOSTEROUS to think that an exclusive story last week, reporting Mays signed a $125,000 agreement for 1966, prompted the idea of a two-year contract so that there would be some hard news in the formal announcement of Mays' signing instead of mere corroboration of the exclusive.

THAT, INDEED, would be a fatuous presumption on the part of the fellow who authored the exclusive which the Giant front office called "premature" among other things. Not only was it four days premature but $125,000 and one year short of the 1966-67 contract ultimately announced for Willie.

MAYS UNDERSTANDABLY is elated about the whole thing—doubly elated, you might say. He was happy last Monday when he visited Candlestick Park and left with the look of a man who had just signed a one-year contract for $125,000. He was bubbling with happiness last Friday when he left Candlestick Park with a two-year $250,000 deal in his pocket.

DICKINSON AILING

Phoenix Leader May Quit Tour

By BOB EGER

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gutty little Gardner Dickinson, pain pills in hand for his ailing back, set out today in quest of a victory in what may be his last golf tournament for some time—the $60,000 Phoenix Open.

Dickinson fought off the pain in his back and the charges of several contenders yesterday, and his even par 71 game him a three-round total of 206 and a three stroke lead over Bob Rosburg.

"I almost called it quits after the second hole," said Dickinson, a 38-year-old, 130-pounder who plays out of Los Tree Village, Fla.

"I took three pain killers before the round," he said. "The pain subsided a little, but the pills upset my stomach. I was very satisfied with the round under the circumstances."

Regardless of his fate in today's final round, Dickinson plans to leave the tour to have his back checked. "I can't go on like this, that's for sure," he said. "I'll just have to quit until the back is fixed."

Dickinson has carved out rounds of 66-69-71 over the 6,765-yard Phoenix Country Club course, a par 36-35—71 layout which most of the pros haven't solved.

Dickinson's steady round yesterday—a birdie and two bogeys on the front nine and a birdie on the back—withstood challenges by Rosburg and several others.

Mason Rudolph came the closest, drawing to within one stroke after Dickinson's bogeys on eight and nine. But Rudolph double bogeyed the par 3 13th and tripple bogeyed the par 4 17th and finished with a 73 for 212.

Gene Littler came within two strokes but fell back to four at the end of the round. Littler lost a stroke when his caddy inadvertently stepped on his ball on the 16th fairway.

Littler was tied at 210 with Doug Sanders. Both have had identical rounds of 70-71-69.

Sanders well remembers last week, when he started the final round of the Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Springs, Calif., six strokes off the pace.

In that tourney, he fired an eagle and four birdies on the back nine and went on to beat Arnold Palmer in a playoff.

Palmer, who has cooled off a bit from his torrid start on the winter tour, was 11 strokes off the pace going into today's final round. He has had rounds of 71-74-72.

The best scores yesterday were 67s by Terry Dill and Kermit Zarley. Dill and Dick Crawford were tied at 213, and Zarley was one of four players grouped at 215.

Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash., used a two-iron to score a hole in one onthe par 3, 230-yard eighth hole. It was the third ace of Still's career and his second in a little more than a year.

Mill Valley Point Spree

The Mill Valley Boys Club varsity basketball team yesterday went on a scoring spree, as did the Marist Seminary cagers, with the Mill Valley boys winning out 136-109.

Five Mill Valley players scored more than 20 points, led by former College of Marin cagers Pete Bardea with 37 and Steve Anderson, 34. Jim Tupper scored 23 points, Terry Jarcik 22 and Dave Zehr 20.

High scorer for the game was Marist Seminary's Rene Iturbe with 42 points. The game was played on the losers' court.

It was the second time in a row the Mill Valley five has gone past the century figure, last Thursday the boys club whipping the team from the 666th Radar Squadron on Mount Tamalpais, 119-90.

ABOUT THE BIGGEST RUCKUS ever made around Jack Daniel's old office was the day Mr. Jack kicked the safe.

When Lem Motlow, Jack Daniel's nephew, started at our distillery as a bookkeeper, he generally opened the safe. But one day Mr. Jack tried to open it himself, and when he couldn't he got so riled he kicked it. Folks still talk about the fuss that went up. But they can also tell you Mr. Jack was never impatient with his whiskey. A sip of Jack Daniel's, we believe, will tell you we're not either.

Cepeda Rarin' To Go, Says Knee Is Fine

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Big Orlando Cepeda, the forgotten man of the San Francisco Giants, came to town during the weekend for a salary conference with owner Horace Stoneham, and indications are that he will sign within the next couple of days for the same $50,000 he got in 1965.

Cepeda, who appeared in only 33 games a year ago because of a slow healing knee injury, said he feels just fine and should be ready to play this year.

The big "O" sat with Stoneham and other Giants officials last night during the annual San Francisco Baseball Writers' awards banquet and saw teammate Willie Mays, who signed a two-year $250,000 contract last week, honored as baseball's "man of the year."

The Giants sent Cepeda a conditional contract to his home in Puerto Rico several weeks ago and they reportedly offered him a slight cut. However, they told Cepeda that it was not their last offer and they would discuss his 1966 salary further upon his arrival in San Francisco.

"I worked out all winter long," Cepeda said, "and I honestly believe my knee is stronger now than it ever was. I waded in the deep surf every day and lifted weights to strengthen the knee. It never once hurt me, although once in a while I feel a little stab of pain."

Cepeda said doctors told him that the pain he felt was nothing unusual and that he will feel it again from time to time. But, they added, the knee is sound and the big first baseman should be able to play this season.

Cepeda was one of baseball's most feared batters before his balky knee was operated on following the 1964 season. He hit a total of 222 home runs, all for the Giants, in seven big league campaigns, reaching a career high of 46 in 1961. In the pennant-winning 1962 season he smacked 35 homers and drove in 114 runs.

Last year, appearing mostly as a pinch-hitter, Orlando hit just one homer, but it came with two men on base in the bottom of the ninth inning late in the season and helped the Giants score an important victory.

SANDERS MAKES A SPLASH

Doug Sanders put his tee shot into the water hazard on the 15th hole in the Phoenix Open Golf Tournament over the weekend and had to remove his shoes and socks and roll up his pants to get a shot at the ball. However, he finally decided to take a penalty stroke rather than try to swing at the submerged ball. (UPI Telephoto)

All Eyes On NFL; Atlanta Starts Grabbing Veterans

By JACK HAND

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The expansion-minded world of professional sports will have its eye on the National Football League today when the owners tackle the job of stocking their newest baby, the Atlanta Falcons, with 42 veteran players.

In ordinary times, only the cities involved and the men who reportedly have a $8.5 million stake in Atlanta would be vitally interested. However, in this day of proposed expansion in baseball, hockey and basketball, every move to stock a new team is observed closely.

Baseball, deeply involved in a legal battle over the Braves' shift from Milwaukee to Atlanta, insists the National League can not expand at this time. A Wisconsin judge has ordered the Braves to stay in Milwaukee or for the league to expand in 1966 and make major league baseball of "competitive quality" available in Milwaukee.

Because of the expansion talk in all sports the manner of stocking a team becomes most important. When the NFL took in Dallas in 1960 and Minnesota in 1961 it froze a certain number of veterans and let the new teams pick three from each of the established clubs. A similar plan will be worked out for Atlanta.

With 45,000 season tickets already sold at Atlanta and new coach Norm Hecker anxious to come up with a representative team, there may be some surprising names on the lists of available players.

The owners must decide how many of their 40-man rosters to exempt or freeze. It is expected they will keep 30 or 32 out of the draft. That would give Atlanta three picks from the bottom eight or ten players on each team.

After they have agreed ona formula, probably tomorrow. The actual selections will be made Wednesday.

The Falcons have a strong base of rookies for they participated in the draft last November and signed 20 players.

The drafted and signed included linebacker Tommy Nobis, Texas' All-America, Randy Johnson, Texas A&I quarterback, and halfbacks Nick Rassas and Bill Wolski and end Phil Sheridan of Notre Dame.

It is doubtful if any of the 14 clubs that operated last year will see their way clear to putting a veteran quarterback on the list after the injury problems of the 1965 season. A goodly scattering of veterans from other positions probably will be made available along with fringe players and 1965 rookies.

When the American Football League recently stocked the new Miami team, 19 players were picked who at one time had been considered first string on other teams.

Dallas had to play the 1960 season without benefit of a college draft and finished withan 0-11-1 record. Minnesota did participate in the 1961 draft, selecting Fran Tarkenton, Tommy Mason and Rip Hawkins among others, and turned in a 3-11 record in its first season. The Vikings beat the Chicago Bears in their first game.

Dallas still has end-flanker Frank Clarke and linebacker Jerry Tubbs from the original veteran stocking and Minnesota still has tackle Grady Alderman. Some of the others still are in pro football but with different teams.

Warriors, N.Y. Play In Oakland Tonight

Anything but triumphant, the San Francisco Warriors basketball team returns from a six-game road trip to its home territory tonight to face the New York Knickerbockers at Oakland Auditorium, 8:30 o'clock.

The Warriors were 2-4 on their Eastern jaunt, including their Saturday night loss to Baltimore, 136-127.

The victory moved Baltimore into second place ahead of San Francisco in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division, 5½ games behind first-place Los Angeles.

The Knickerbockers could prove easier game for the Warriors. New York is last in the Eastern Division standings, a demoralizing 17 games behind front-running Boston.

Johnny Egan and Johnny Green combined for 40 points in the second half to help Baltimore overcome a 66-63 San Francisco halftime advantage. The Bullets caught the Warriors at 74-all early in the third period.

With Baltimore leading 108-106 with 7:10 remaining, two baskets by Egan and another by Green, followed by two free throws by Bailey Howell, put the Bullets ahead 116-106 and they coasted thereafter.

Egan scored a season-high of 30 points and was credited with 14 assists from his backcourt position. Green, a second-quarter substitute, made 19 of his 21 points during the second-half drive.

Litchfields In 3-3 Tie

Litchfield's semi-pro baseball team from San Rafael kept its two game lead in the San Francisco AAA Winter League yesterday by battling second place Ellis Brooks Chevrolet to a 3-3 deadlock. The game ended because of a time limit.

Doug Wilson of Larkspur was the batting star for Litchfield's, smashing three doubles and knocking in all three runs.

Chuck Murray and Ron Cole, Litchfield's righthanders, split the pitching chores, Murray going seven innings, allowing four hits and striking out 11 batters. Cole pitched the final four innings, allowed two hits and struck out six.

Brooks tied the game in the bottom of the ninth and the two teams battled until the time limit stopped the game.

Kestrel Is Winner In Yacht Finale

John Niesley of the Sausalito Cruising Club piloted his Kestrel to a victory over Bob Oakley's Filur by a half-minute yesterday in Folkboat Division of the final installment of the Corinthian Yacht Club five-race Mid-winter Regatta on San Francisco Bay.

It had to be just for fun, however, as John Werner's Windy of the San Francisco Y.C. already had piled up enough points for the division crown.

Disastrous Road Trip For Seals

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thirsting for a victory over an American Hockey League team after six straight defeats, the San Francisco Seals of the Western Hockey League get a last chance when they return from a road trip to play Quebec Wednesday night.

The latest setbacks the Seals have suffered in an interlocking schedule with the AHL were a 5-2 loss to the Hershey Bears Saturday night and a 6-3 defeat by the Providence Reds last night.

Quebec, leaders of the AHL's Eastern Division, appears a formidable obstacle. So far this season the team has won 34 and lost only 12.

Providence blitzed the Seals with four goals in eight minutes of the last period. Jules Bouchard, a rookie defenseman, started the flurry with a wicked 45-foot shot that sliced by Seals goalie Jack McCartan.

Following with other Providence goals were Jim Mikol, who paced the Reds' attack with two tallies, Eddie Kachur and Bob Leduc.

It was 2-2 after the first period with Gerry Brisson and Wayne Maxner scoring for the Seals and Mikol and Jim Bartlett for the Reds. The Seals took a second period lead on a score by Wayne Connelly.

On Saturday night Hershey got off to a 3-0 lead at 4:50 of the second period after goals by Nyron Stankiewicz, Bruce Cline and Stankiewicz again.

Terra Linda Scores JV Cage Victory

DAYTONA RECORD

Petty Captures 500 Qualifying

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard Petty is back in stock car competition on the super speedways and taken up where he left off at the front of the pack.

The 28-year-old champion of 1964, who laid out of the major NASCAR events last year, set a qualifying record speed yesterday and earned the pole position for the Daytona 500 to be run Feb. 27.

He collected $1,000 on the spot for his 175.165 miles per hour ride twice around the 2.5-mile high banked Daytona International Speedway. In addition, he is in a good position for the big slice off the $140,000 prize melon in the 500-miler.

Petty's record erased the 174.910 mph set by Paul Goldsmith in a Plymouth in 1964. Though a record was expected in view of 177 mph practice laps, it was remarkable in winds blowing 18 to 20 m.p.h. and gusting to 29.

Nine others who took qualifying times on opening day will get close-to-the-front spots in two 100-mile races for the late model stocks Feb. 25. As the cars finish in the 100-milers, so they will start in the 500 behind the first row of Petty and Hutcherson.

Coming up on the Daytona speed week's calendar before the NASCAR events of Feb. 25-27 is the 250-mile championship race of the Automobile Racing Club of America next Sunday.

Jack Bowsher of Springfield, Ohio, won the pole position by taking a 25-mile qualifying event yesterday at 168.164 mph in a 1966 Ford. Andy Hampton of Louisville, Ky., will have the outside front row in a 1965 Dodge.

NASCAR qualifiers in addition to Petty and Hutcherson:

Lee Roy Yarbrough, Columbia, S.C., 1966 Dodge, 172.446 mph.

Giants Sign McDaniel And Landrum

Lindy McDaniel and Don Landrum, two part-time players who figure importantly in plans of the San Francisco Giants this season, have signed contracts.

Rookie right-handed pitcher Joe Overton also returned his signed contract, the club announced Saturday, along with the pair picked up in trade with the Chicago Cubs for pitcher Bill Hands and catcher Randy Hundley.

The 30-year-old McDaniel has been one of the top National League relief pitchers the past 10 years and figures to help a hurling staff that turned in just 42 complete games last season.

Landrum operates as a utility outfielder who'll spell Willie Mays in center in late innings and days of rest. Although he hit only .239 last year, the 30-year-old Landrum is tops defensively.

Slam-Bang Marin Prep Cage Race Nearing Climax

With the Marin Athletic League basketball race nearing its slam-bang finish, three teams are still tied in the loss column and it's anyone's guess who will emerge the champion.

Redwood, Drake and Tam each has lost two games. Redwood has three games left on the schedule and Drake and Tam four apiece. Tam still has to play Redwood (Friday) and Drake (next Monday).

But first things first. Tam is at Marin Catholic tomorrow, Redwood is at San Rafael and Novato hosts Drake, the varsity games opening the programs at 4 p.m., followed by the Class B games. And Tam is running away with that lightweight division, boasting an 8-0 record.

Redwood guards Russ Smith and Andre Horn are running 1 and 3 in the varsity scoring, Smith with 143 points and 15.9 average and Horn 133 points and 14.8 average. Sandwiched between the two is Novato's John Dolinsek.137 points and 15.2 average.

Pat Schafer continues to lead the Class B individual scorers, the Tam hot-shot averaging 17.3 points per game. His nearest rival is Harry Matsinger of Marin Catholic, averaging 13.6.

Redwood is the top offensive team (63.7 average), and Marin Catholic has jumped to the lead in defensive statistics, allowing only 45.7 points per game.

Rams Hire Vet Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New Los Angeles Ram head coach George Allen has turned to experience in hiring Ray Prochaska to design the offensive attack.

Prochaska, 46, has spent the last 20 years as a coaching assistant. Since 1958, he has been in charge of the St. Loui sCardinals' offensive line.

He is still listed as a line coach, but sources close to the Rams indicated yesterday that Allen plans to let Prochaska design the team's whole attack.

"Prochaska is one of the finest coaches in the business," said Allen, who was schooled in defense with the Chicago Bears.

Replied Prochaska:

"I am impressed with Allen and the thoroughness with which he conducted the interview. It's a splendid opportunity to be with an up-and-coming club."

Prochaska, after playing end for Nebraska in the 1941 Rose Bowl against Stanford, played one year of offense for the Cleveland Rams and then entered World War II with the Army.

The end of the war brought the beginning of his coaching career. He started with Nebraska in 1946 and remained there under three head coaches until 1955. After three years with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian League, he joined the Cards in St. Louis.

STANFORD VIRTUALLY ELIMINATED

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fur should fly next Friday as the Oregon State Beavers try to prove they belong on the Pacific Athletic Conference basketfall ladder ahead of the go-go UCLA Bruins.

The Beavers are paddling along nicely in the PAC with a league-leading 7-1 mark and 15-5 overall record after two weekend victories, including a 63-57 triumph over Stanford at Corvallis Saturday night.

But the Bruins, at 6-2 in the league and 14-6 overall after weekend conquests at Washington State and Washington, recall they put that one loss on the Beaver record themselves in an overwhelming 79-35 victory at Los Angeles in a PAC opener Jan. 7.

Elsewhere around the PAC next Friday, third place Oregon hosts USC, sagging Stanford greets Washington and Washington State travels to California at Berkeley.

Saturday finds USC at Oregon State, UCLA at Oregon in an afternoon televised game, Washington's Huskies at California and Washington State at Stanford.

The Bruins, who keep losing and then finding themselves in the PAC this season, demolished Washington in the Husky den last Saturday by a 100-71 count.

Kenny Washington's 25 points and Mike Lynn's 23 paced the Bruins, whose roaring fast break contrasted with a studied zone defense that bottled up Husky scorers Dave Hovde, Gordon Harris and Bruce Brickner with just 13 points each. The Huskies are now 2-6 in the PAC and 8-11 overall.

Oregon State's victory over Stanford Saturday night for the second time in a week all but eliminated the once-potent Indians in the PAC. Stanford is now 4-4 in conference and 9-10 overall.

The Oregon State - Stanford game was notable for the Beavers' scoring pattern—all five starters hit double figures, paced by Scott Eaton's 16. Stanford's Bob Bedell led all scorers with 20.

Upsets Throw WCAC Into Turmoil; USF, Pacific Tied

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mark Feb. 26 as the next showdown date between the University of San Francisco Dons and the University of the Pacific Tigers in their battle for the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball crown.

Fans figured the issue would be clear after last weekend when the Dons and Tigers met at Stockton in a game sold out since Christmas. But upsets muddied the picture and left USF and Pacific tied 6-1 for the WCAC lead.

The biggest upset occurred Saturday night as the Tigers rose up and defeated USF 88-78 for the first USF conference loss and first defeat after 13 straight victories.

Saturday finds USF host to San Jose State, St. Mary's entertaining Pepperdine, Santa Clara at UC Santa Barbara and Loyola at Pacific.

Keith Swagerty's 26 points and Bruce Parsons' 21 helped Pacific snap USF's winning streak Saturday night. Swagerty, among the nation's top rebounders, pulled 17 shots off the boards. Erwin Mueller topped the Dons with 29. USF now has a 16-3 season record and Pacific 15-4.

Guards Mike Gervasoni and Eric Paulson each scored 18 points in Santa Clara's 83-60 victory Saturday night over St. Mary's. This boosted Santa Clara to fourth in the WCAC at 4-3 and 12-8 overall, while deflating St. Mary's to 2-5 in conference and 6-12 overall.

That game was stopped five minutes because of a fight among players. Both benches were emptied after an apparent elbowing incident between rival players.

Coaches went on the public address system to restore order. No one was hurt.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Head Of Household Status Requirements Outlined

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

You are the head of a household for federal tax purposes if:

You never married, or

Your spouse died in a prior year (if your spouse died in 1965, you may file a joint return and if he or she died in 1963 or 1964 you may be able to compute your tax as though you were filing a joint return), or

P. J. Wikel

You are divorced or legally separated under a court decree at the end of 1965, or

Your spouse was a non-resident alien at any time during 1965 AND you have maintained, by paying over one-half of the cost for all of 1965, a home in which a close rleative lived as his principal place of residence for the entire year, or until his death. It is not necessary that you or the relative actually stay at home every day, but that the home be the principal place of residence.

You may also qualify if you pay more than one-half of the cost of maintaining a household for your father or mother if you can claim either one as a dependent on your tax return. It is not necessary that you yourself live at this home.

If your taxable income is over $2,000 and you are the head of a household, do not use Form 1040A in filing your return. Use Form 1040 and figure your tax from the special head of household table B, or Schedule III.

For California tax purposes the rules are substantially the same, but you do not use a special tax table as in the federal. Being Head of Household on the California return qualifies you for a $3,000 exemption. You lose the $600 exemption for the person that qualifies you as Head of Household but are able to claim a $3,000 for both of you.

Bank Directors Slate Meeting

Directors of Bank of Marin have voted to move the annual meeting date of stockholders to March 3.

W. P. Murray Jr., president, said recent Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. regulations require issuance and approval of certain information to be given to bank stockholders before the meeting can be held. Bank of Marin ordinarily holds its annual meeting on the third Thursday in January.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Insurance Agency Relocates, Ventures Into New Services

Newly opened in the Mission Union Building, San Rafael is Hyams - Dressling Insurance Agency.

Owners John Hyams and Richard J. Dressling, both San Rafael residents, have been specializing in insurance work with military personnel and are now expanding into the civilian market, wth automobile, life and home coverage.

THE TOLSON AGENCY for Equitable Life Assurance Society, now located at 20 H Street, San Rafael, will be among the first tenants moving into the Margarita Plaza complex at the entrance to Northgate Industrial Park. The three-unit cluster should get under way in a few weeks.

The agency, which serves an eight-county north coast area

for Equitable, will occupy about 4,500 square feet in the first 10,000-square foot unit. The office will be more than double the size of present quarters to accomodate the agency's rapid growth. Agency manager William H. Tolson Jr. recently walked off with top honors in a sales campaign with all of the company's western division agencies.

The Margarita Plaza will also house Marin County Abstract and Title Co. and the Dohemann organization itself which needs more space, having doubled its sales force in the past year.

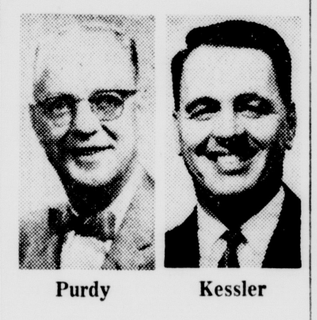
HEADS BUILDERS GROUP—Novato contractor John Novak has been installed as president of the Associated Home Builders of San Francisco and Marin. A director of the organization for many years and past secretary-treasurer, he succeeds another Novato builder in the top post, Richard F. Elam of Westwood Homes, Inc.

And Fred Esparza, who has the Gay Nineties Barber Shop in the Northgate Shopping Center and was recently featured in the February issue of Gentlemen's Quarterly men's fashion magazine, will be opening a new hairstyling salon here, to be called Fred's of Marin Razor Styles.

Probably no opening until sometime in August.

PHILIP L. MILLER of San Anselmo has been promoted to vice president at Crocker-Citizens' San Francisco administrative headquarters and will continue in his capacity of director of training in the personnel administration. He joined the bank in 1959 after extensive banking experience in Los Angeles and San Francisco. He has been involved in many of Crocker-Citizens training programs.

HENRY J. (BUD) WEISSER of Tiburon, a vice president at Crocker - Citizens National Bank's 1 Montgomery Street office, San Francisco, has just observed his 45th anniversary with the bank. He served in the collection, clearing, transit and note departments at the same office, and then became a bookkeeper, savings teller and commercial teller prior to joining the business development staff in 1951. He was made assistant cashier in 1957, assistant vice president in 1959 and a vice president in 1964.



Purdy Kessler

DON PURDY of San Rafael has been appointed a vocational placement specialist and assigned to the office of Boyd Bastian, vocational rehabilitation counselor for the State Department of Rehabilitation at 1299 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Purdy and his wife Berta, who has reactivated her real estate license and is now with Top Properties, recently returned from their "Castle in Spain" (Castillo Santo Domingo near Barcelona), which is now closed but may be subject to further development as a club or hotel.

L. E. (GENE) KESSLER of Marinwood has been appointed San Diego area manager for the Foster and Kleiser division of Metromedia. He joined the firm in 1953 and became local sales manager in 1962.

IT APPEARS that there are other women bankers who become officers. I understand that Mrs. Margaret Bennett of Mill Valley has just been named to the post of assistant secretary at Pacific National Bank, San Francisco. She is the second woman on that bank's official staff.

Sausalito Weaver Opens New Business

Cul-de-Sac, a shop featuring handwoven articles and yardage, has been opened at 349 Turney Street in Sausalito. It is owned and operated by weaver Maggie Maas of 509 Nevada Street, Sausalito.

The new shop, which is located in a cul-de-sac, is open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Store In Forest Knolls Is Destroyed By Fire

Arson Hinted In Blaze

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Arson was hinted in a $75,000 fire destroying the Moulton Mercantile Co. store at Forest Knolls today which owner Lawrence Moulton said put him out of business "it looks like for good."

The blaze, which started in two places towards the rear of the building, climaxed a year of bad luck for the 45-year-old former builder. He had had nearly a dozen breakins and thefts since he took over the business in November, 1964.

HE ASKS WHY

"Why have they done this to me now? Why? Moulton asked as he stood before the smouldering hunk of a grocery and wine business into which, he said, he had recently put an additional $9,000.

The fire was reported at 6:30 a.m. But about 6 a.m., Moulton received a telephone call at his home on nearby Royal Avenue.

"I was up already, wakened by a group of teen-agers who were whooping it up in a car. The telephone rang he said.

"I picked up the receiver and a teen-age girl's voice said: 'Moulton, there's someone in your store,' then she rang off.

ASKED IT OVER

"I didn't know what to do. I talked it over with my wife and decided to take a look. We have had a break-in as recently as Friday night.

"I got the car out, drove down here and sat in front of the building, watching it. I had a gun with me, although I doubt if I could have used it." Moulton lost his right hand in an accident two years ago.

He continued: "I must have sat there about 15 minutes. Then I saw the smoke and flames. They were coming from inside.

He ran to Forest Knolls Beauty Shop, part of the building, and telephoned the county fire department and sheriff's office.

LITTLE TO DO

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said when his men arrived there was little to be done to contain the blaze. It spread to the entire store and adjacent office, destroying about $25,000 worth of stock and equipment, said Moulton. It was under control by 8:45 a.m.

Moulton recalled the sheriff's department had been called two months ago to damage caused when two teen-agers threw lighted books of matches through a slit in the door.

GOOD RELATIONS

"Since I started this business, I've had such good relations with almost everyone. I suppose there is always some kids who think this is really living," said Moulton.

He said he was uninsured and this loss would probably end his career in the mercantile business.

"It couldn't have come at a worse time; I was going to renew my insurance this week," he said.

Chinatown Blaze Destroys Shops; 40 Flee To Safety

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Forty residents escaped to safety early today in a $100,000 four-alarm fire which roared through a five-story Chinatown building housing apartments, shops and offices.

Fire Chief William Murray said "it was just luck that everyone got out." Firemen complained that some of the windows of the brick building had bars and that the alley behind the building was almost too narrow for fire trucks.

One resident, Mong Doon Lew, 65, was plucked off the top of the pagoda-shaped building by a fire ladder after his frantic shouting was noticed. Injuries were confined to minor cases of one cut hand and smoke inhalation.

Badly damaged or destroyed before the fire was controlled were offices and rooms and apartments in the structure on upper floors and three street level shops, the Sun Loy Co. novelty shop, Wing Duck novelty store and the Chinatown Five and Ten.

Residents who fled from the building in bathrobes or under clothes quickly vanished from the scene — going to nearby friends and relatives or to cafes open all night.

Firemen said the fire started in a social room off an alley at the back of the structure. Flames quickly shotup a lightwell. Smoke—but not flames—carried to adjacent buildings, which firemen protected by streams of water.

Cause of the blaze was unknown.

The social room of the building, located at 924 Grant Street, was located in a basement opening on Wentworth Avenue. The Ming Yee Assn. is a clan type of organization.

Firemen climbed fire escapes on buildings across the alley to aim water hoses onto the flames.

Fourth Street Windows Are Broken Again

For the second time in two weeks, plate glass windows in establishments on Fourth Street, San Rafael, were broken by a pellet sharp-shooter and bottle thrower last night.

San Rafael police toured the downtown main street at 1 a.m. today and found 13 merchants and businesses had been hit.

Many windows had single B-B pellet holes, but a beer bottle had been thrown through a window of Marin Title Guaranty Co. at 1300 Fourth Street.

A five-by-10-foot window of Carpets Unlimited, 2232 Fourth Street was smashed by a beer bottle.

Police had no estimate of this weekend's rampage, which followed similar incidents reported Jan. 31.

Viet Cong Mines Slay 54 Civilians

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong mined three buses today, killing 54 Vietnamese civilians and wounding 18 in retaliation for an Allied operation that is protecting a huge rice harvest.

Allied ground forces reported killing 150 Viet Cong in scattered clashes elsewhere in South Viet Nam in the past 24 hours, while U.S. planes hammered Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam. Guerrillas overran an outpost in the Mekong Delta, at Dinh Mon, and killed or captured all 11 defenders.

The death-dealing Viet Cong mines were set off on a road 10 miles southest of Tuy Hoa, on the central coast where the U.S. 101st Airborne, South Korean marines and South Vietnamese troops have been scouring the countryside for several weeks while the rice was being harvested.

An American spokesman said the first blast was touched off about 7:30 a.m., catching a busload of farmers, killing 27 and wounding 11.

The explosion left a crater nine feet deep in the road, hurled the bus into a canal and scattered bodies along the roadside.

About an hour and a half later, the spokesman continued, a three-wheel vehicle used as a bus and jammed with passengers drove along the same stretch of road and touched off a second mine. Another 20 Vietnamese were killed and seven wounded.

An hour and a half later a second three-wheel bus drove onto the scene and set off a third mine. This time seven persons were reported killed.

The mining evidently was in retaliation for the rice harvesting, which has been highly successful in an area that until re-

Humphrey Says U.S. Won't Push For A Laos Alliance

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew from Bangkok to Laos for a brief visit today and told the Laotians he had come to reassure them of his government's pledge "to work with you in developing your resources."

Humphrey flew across the Mekong River from Thailand after making an aerial inspection tour of eight projects including sites for a huge power dam to serve both Laos and Thailand and a Mekong dam that will create a giant lake for irrigation.

Before reaching Laos, Humphrey told a reporter he also wanted to reassure Premier Souvanna Phouma and other Laotiaon leaders that the United States intends to remain firm against Communist encroachment in Southeast Asia.

Laos was the third country Humphrey has visited on his nine-nation tour.

Humphrey let the Laotians know the United States is not trying to draw their Communist-threatened kingdom into an alliance.

After lunch with Souvanna Phouma, Humphrey was due to board a helicopter for an inspection of an "accelerated rural development project" in northeast Thailand.

Before leaving for Laos, Humphrey sandwiched in an early morning cruise along Bangkok's canals. Wearing an open-necked polo shirt, the vice president waved and hailed Thais passing in boats, took pictures with a small box camera and at the floating market bought a farmer's spreading straw hat which he donned in place of his baseball cap.

Humphrey had his boat turned to shore when he spotted about 100 Thai boys and girls in a schoolyard along the canal. The children didn't know who he as but they clapped wildly when their principal told them in Thai.

He stood surrounded by upturned faces, teaching them to say "a-okay" and "goodby."

Humphrey reached Bangkok from Saigon. He promptly sought to reassure Thailand's leaders that there as nothing to warrant their concern that the United States might be weakening in its resolve to defeat communism.

Borrowing, Bonds On The Ballot

Polls will open at 7 a.m. tomorrow in the Lagunitas School library for school district voters to decide whether the district will issue $200,000 worth of bonds and borrow another $400,000 from the state to build a second school.

The outcome of the election will ride to a large extent on voters' reactions to a prolonged controversy over location of the proposed school. Polls will close at 8 p.m.

CENTRAL SITE

The school district board has proposed a central Woodacre site north of the Woodside Improvement Club. This site would require the displacement of eight homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pederson, whose home is located at the intersection of Oak Grove and Garden Way and is one of those which would have to be moved if the bond issue is approved, organized the Committee for Sensible School Sites early last month to fight the school board's proposal.

"The decision to build the new school site in Woodacre is based upon the fact that more than 50 per cent of the present enrollment in kindergarten through third grade live in Woodacre," one board member has said in defense of the proposed site.

Countering this, the opponents of the proposal have issued a statement which says in part: "The site would force out people and remove valuable property from the tax rolls, besides costing more than other sites. Hundreds of acres of less expensive undeveloped land are within walking distance of the site selected."

DANGER CITED

The anti-bond group also contends that the proximity of the proposed school site to the Marin County fire station in Woodacre would expose students to a "dagerous nuisance and distraction."

The school district is currently using five portable classrooms which cost the taxpayers $8,000 per year. Pro-bond issue residents argue that these portable classrooms should be immediately replaced by permanent rooms, while opponents of the issue say they would rather have to pay for more portable classrooms than locate permanent ones on what they consider an undesirable site.

Civil Rights Champion Will Run For Congress

A pacifist and a Quaker, Drath said his campaign will stress the need for "an immediate end to hostilities" in Viet Nam." Recognizing that "we cannot leave immediately," Drath said, "we can stop shooting and withdraw to the coast."

Drath also called for recognition of China and for an end to "the blind anti-communism which has dominated our foreign policy for the past 20 years."

In his campaign, he said, he will point to "substantial liberalization . . . in Russia in recent years" and to his expectation of the same trend in China.

On the domestic front, Drath said he favors the poor having a substantial voice in the anti-poverty program. He endorses fair employment legislation, he said.

Last year, Drath was a construction supervisor for the Friends Mississippi Project which rebuilt 27 burned churches in that state.

He lives at 35 Bellevue Avenue, San Rafael.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — "Look, it's Bob Hope," said a Thai boatman as Vice President Hubert H. Humphery rode by on a boat trip through Bangkok's floating market.

Beach Within Park Closed To Swimmers

Stinson Beach within the boundaries of Stinson Beach State Park has been closed to swimming and surfing until further notice, Robert G. Carlson, park supervisor, announced today.

Rough surf, Carlson said, has created gravel pockets which cause dangerous rip tides at the beach. "Anyone caught in those tides just can't get out," he said.

Honeymooners Robbed In Hotel

HONOLULU (UPI) — Three gunmen robbed a honeymooning California couple of $3,000 Saturday night in the Moana Surfrider Hotel room.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schinkel, Daly City. Schinkel, 35, told police he answered a knock on his hotel room door, and the men burst into the room. He said one of the robbers struck him on the head with a gun butt. Mrs. Schinkel was in the bathroom at the time.

Motorcyclist Dies In Crash On Shoreline

Larry Joseph Garcia, 22, of San Francisco, was killed instantly yesterday while on a sunny Sunday morning motorcycle ride on the Shoreline Highway, four miles north of Bolinas.

Garcia was a part-time ambulance driver for United Ambulance Co. Ironically, he had probably had driven the very ambulance which carried his body from the scene yesterday following the tragedy at 10:45 a.m.

Garcia's death was the third traffic fatality on Marin highways in 1966, compared to four at this time last year.

California Highway Patrol Officer Arthur W. Krebs reported Garcia was riding close to 60 miles per hour on his Honda motorcycle when it failed to make a sharp left turn two and one-half miles north of the Bolinas-Olema Road.

Garcia was thrown from his motorcycle, through a barbed wire fence, and smashed headfirst into a tree, 35 feet from the roadside, Krebs reported.

Though the youth was wearing a helmet, it was violently shattered againsta the tree. He died of severe head and facial injuries, according to Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

Garcia, who had been driving a motorcycle for five months, was on an outing with three friends, Nelson Fine, 23, Charles Fechner, 22, and Roy M. Fairchild, 15, of San Francisco.

He was riding about a quar-

Brown Is Sick, Embarrassed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, ill with the flu and embarrassed besides, awaited repercussions today of his weekend statements regarding acceptability of a California Democratic Council endorsement of his bid for re-election.

Brown

The embarrassment stemmed from a telegram last week to CDC president Simon Casady—with whom Brown has been at sharp odds—in which the governor said:

"I said I would not accept CDC endorsement as long as you are president and that decision will not change."

What Brown meant to say, aides explained Saturday, was that Brown would not "seek" CDC endorsement with Casady at the helm, rather than "not accept."

"It was purely a mechanical boot somewhere," said press secretary Jack Burby. He said Brown and several aides had re-read the telegram, but no one caught the error.

Casady reacted with delight to the contretemps, announcing he was pleased that Brown had given "recognition to the power and value of 40,000 CDC members.

Rabbi Fighting For Life

Rabbi Adler

Rabbi Morris Adler, a prominent Detroit religious and civic leader, remained near death from a bullet wound in the head. He was shot by a member of his congregation, Richard Wishnetsky, during services Saturday. Wishnetsky, 23, then turned the gun on himself.

Rabbi Adler, 59, suffered brain damage when one of four shots fired at him entered the back of his head. Mount Sinai Hospital officials said he required an artificial aid in breathing and it would be several days before any prognosis could be made.

Officials at the hospital where Wishnetsky was taken said there was little hope for his recovery. He had fired one shot into his own right temple.

The young man strode to the front of the Shaarey Zedek Synagogue in surburban Southfield, fired a shot into the ceiling, and picked up a microphone. The former college honor student who had been under psychiatric treatment for a year, criticized the 1,000 persons sitting in the synagogue, as hypocrites. Then he shot the rabbi and himself.

Big Austin Trial To Start

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—James C. Cross Jr., 23, a handsome son of an advertising executive, goes on trial today, charged with strangling two pretty University of Texas coeds in a sexual frenzy.

Cross

The biggest jury panel in the history of Austin was summoned in a small district courtroom.

Judge Mace B. Thurman Jr., expecting an overcrowded courtroom, said he would admit only four newsmen during early stages of jury selection.

The state wants Cross, who has never been in trouble before, sent to the electric chair.

Cross, a former English major at the university, is accused of strangling Susan Rigsby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21 and from Dallas, last July 18 when they came to his apartment to change clothes and take a shower. He once had dated Miss Stark.

Sources close to the district attorney said Cross's statement said he choked Miss Rigsby because she resisted his advances and strangled Miss Stark when she came out of the shower and found what happened.

Disorder Grows In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Sporadic gunfire broke out today in parts of the Dominican capital, shaken by another fatal shooting of a policeman and wounding of another in continued public disorder.

The latest police fatality occurred last night in a local business area. The wounded officer was hit by grenade shrapnel in a separate incident.

Five national policemen have been killed during the rioting sparked Wednesday when police opened fire on a student demonstration and four demonstrators were killed. An American paratrooper was critically wounded by sniper fire Saturday.

The American soldier, whose name was withheld, was shot by a terrorist on El Conde, Santo Domingo's main street, in one of more than 20 sniper attacks Saturday night. Troops of the inter-American peace force searched six houses and confiscated more than 3,000 rounds of ammunition in an effort to prevent such incidents.

A general strike, called Thursday to protest the police action at the demonstration and demand the ouster of two Dominican military chiefs, has idled more than 80 percent of the economic activity of this capital.

In a radio broadcast yesterday, former President Juan Bosch urged the public to continue the strike "without violence" until the demands are met.

Spain Bomb Search Aid Plane Crashes

PALOMARES BEACH, Spain (AP)—Air and ground searchers today located the wreckage of a U.S. Air Force Globemaster with eight Americans aboard which crashed while delivering material for the search for the U.S. nuclear bomb missing off the coast of Spain.

A U.S. spokesman said the wreckage was sighted six miles northest of the village of Trevelez, on the snow - covered slopes of 11,423-foot Pico Mulhacen, in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

There was no mention of survivors.

The giant C-24, based at Hunter Air Force Base, Ga., disappeared Saturday night after leaving Seville with two buses for use by bomb searchers here on the southern coast.

A day-long search yesterday by ground and air teams, hampered by a bitter winter storm, failed to turn up any definite clues.

"It would be a miracle if anyone emerged alive from this one," said a Spanish air force officer who had scanned the jagged mountain range without spotting any trace of reckage.

Villagers reported they had seen lights and heard an explosion on 11,423-foot Pico Mulhacen, one of Spain's tallest mountains, about the time the Globemaster was scheduled to fly over the area. Civil Guards began climbing the mountain to check.

The study showed that students transferring from College of Marin had an overall grade point average of 2.52 or .18 of a point higher than the average junior college transfers as a group. Grade points by individual colleges ranged from 2.52 to 1.97.

The study also showed 25 per cent of the College of Marin transfers earned a B average or better. Of the junior college transfers as a group, 18 per cent earned a B average or better.

Standard Oil Denies Charge Of Main Pollution Offender

Standard Oil Co. of California has indignantly denied charges that it is one of the "biggest offenders" among industries polluting San Francisco Bay.

The oil company was among those cited by Dr. Joel F. Gustafson of San Francisco State College in a talk last month to the Marin Medical Society.

In a letter to society president Robert L. Mills, the company said it has "expended hundreds of thousands of man-hours and several millions of dollars over the past 20 years" on pollution control.

The company said: "It is true that our Richmond plant discharges the largest total volume of water of an industry in the area—about 1.5 million gallons daily. However, 95 per cent of this is . . . used as a coolant . . . and does not come in contact with pollutants of any kind."

The rest of the waste water, the company asserted, is treated in a settling pond where oils and solids are removed before the water is returned to the bay.

Although this "is not a perfect solution," the company said, "its effectiveness is such we feel we should not be singled out as one of the worst offenders."

Student Teacher Plan Readied In Sausalito

Sausalito schools are to be a training ground for San Francisco State College education students under a $182,000 state grant.

About 70 college students specializing in teaching disadvantaged children will participate to acquire confidence in working with children of the poor.

Other grants approved by the California Board of Education included allocations of federal funds for compensatory education at Tomales Joint Union High School and Kentfield Elimentary School. Tomales will receive $11,869 and Kentfield $2,740.

The funds go for such programs as pre-school classes, improved reading and language development instruction, stepped up counseling, in-service teacher training and reducing teacher class loads.

Of the $77.8 million available to California during the current school year for compensatory education, the board reported it has now approved allocations of $60 million in federal funds to nearly 700 school districts.

Claude Stoller of Mill Valley, an architect and University of California educator, has been nominated by a Marin civic group to fill a vacancy on the Marin County Planning Commission.

Stoller is a member of the architectural firm of Marquis and Stoller, designers of St. Francis Square, the San Francisco town house redevelopment project. His work in Marin County includes the Temple Rodoph Sholom in Santa Venetia.

Sausalito School Aid Plan Opens Tomorrow

Sausalito School District will become a teacher training center under a new program approved Friday by the California State Board of Education.

Ten student teachers from San Francisco State College will begin orientation for the program tomorrow. Thirty others will start the program within the next week.

They will work in classrooms, as teacher aides, and in the afternoon study center. Portable classrooms will be set up at Richardson Bay School within two weeks for the project—the first of its kind in the state.

The $180,000 project is paid for by federal funds and administered under the California State Compensatory Education fund. There is no cost to the Sausalito district.

"Impetus for centering the program in Sausalito comes from the fact that the school district took such a dramatic step in desegregating its schools last fall,' said Dr. James Bixler, project director. Bixler is chairman of the Elementary Education Department at San Francisco State College.

Sausalito School District trustees, at a meeting Saturday, were told by Bixler that "the tutorial aspect of the program will provide more opportunities for development of special interests and enrichment activities for Sausalito students."

He said the college and district staffs will work on a "focus of inter-group and intercultural relations and new approaches to teaching evolving out of current practices and research."

1. It will provide more individual and specialized instruction for pupils.

2. It will offer on-the-spot inservice teaching assistance and special resources to the Sausalito teachers.

3. The Sausalito district is making a tangible contribution to the training of future teachers for the public school system.

College students and faculty will be housed in a special facility, about 2,300 square feet in size, at Richardson Bay School.

Republicans Rip Johnson Policies

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Republican leaders are targeting Viet Nam, inflation and big government as the issues they hope will spell comeback for the GOP in the November elections.

In Lincoln day speeches and statements across the nation they zeroed in on the Johnson administration's decision-making in Viet Nam and its spending policies at home.

Although Republicans in congress generally have backed President Johnson's conduct of the Viet Nam war, their complaints in weekend speeches centered on what House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford, Mich., called the need for "a full, frank and public disclosure ofthe facts."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird,Wis., chairman ofthe House Republican Conference,demanded that the administration clarify apparently conficting statements about the progress of the war.

In a speech at Wisconsin Rapid, Wis., he asked why, if Americans were told they were winning, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said, "we have stopped losing the war."

Laird also called for a full report on how effective U.S. bombing raids have been in slowing down the Communist Viet Cong; how much military support is reaching the Viet Cong by sea, and what kind of agreement the administration is willing to negotiate with the Communiststo end the war.

House Republican Whip Leslie C. Arends, Ill., in a statement taped for broadcast today on "Comment," the Gop National Committee's weekly radio program, said that the Pentagon's decision to defer multi-mullion dollar military construction projects "doesn't make sense."

Arends said there were reports that soldiers were living in tents "in zero temperatures at Ft Gordon, Ga., and in Columbia, S.C."

"It doesn't make sense to defer proper living quarters for our boys entering the service in increasing numbers returning from Viet Nam and, at the same time, propose large ing and health programs both at home and abroad,"Arends said.

Pike Defended By Episcopal Colorado Bishop

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Colorado's Episcopal bishop has defended California's Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike as "a brilliant, troubled and controversial man . . . certainly not a heretic."

The Rt. Rev. Joseph S. Minnis, speaking yesterday to a conformation class, said he had read several times a national magazine (Look) article and could find "nothing heretical" in statements attributed to Bishop Pike.

Pike said in the article that he felt the concept of the Holy Trinity was misleading. He went on to say he did not believe God had chosen Jesus Christ, but that Jesus Christ, as a man, had chosen God.

Some interpreted this as a heretical rejection of the divinity of Christ. Pike has been exonerated of heresy charges in the past by Episcopal officials.

Traffic Gore Nears World War I Toll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traffic deaths last year were almost equal to the toll of Americans killed in battle in World War I.

The Insurance Information Institute said 49,000 highway deaths were reported in 1965, an increase of 1,300 over the 47,700 reported in 1964. About 53,000 Americans were killed in action in the First World War.

'SAD SPECTACLE'

Goldwater Despises 'Groveling' By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona says an American demonstration of determination — and not what he calls "groveling" peace offensives — will bring Communist North Viet Nam to the conference table.

"I don't think it's our job to get the Communists to the conference table by begging, by going through other emissaries, by going through other leaders," the 1960 Republican presidential candidate said yesterday on ABC's radio-television program "Issues and Answers."

"I think we'll get the Hanoi government to the conference table when we convince them that we have the will to attack and that we are attacking them," Goldwater said.

"It is a very sad spectacle to see the greatest power on earth sort of groveling," he added.

Goldwater coupled his first public attack on Johnson's peace offensive with another plea for more reliance on U.S. air power and less reliance on American ground troops.

"We should use air power and rely on our allies and South Vietnamese for ground fighting," he said. "Our boys are not acclimated to that type of fighting."

He repeated his suggestions that air power should be used to attack the industrial complexes in North Viet Nam, bomb railroads and destroy the Ho Chi Minh Trail and said North Viet Nam's ports could be shut down by mining them or sinking ships in them.

Kidnaping Plot Alleged At Trial

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An Arkansas State Penitentiary convict testified today that Melvin Lane Powers asked him to kidnap Jacques Mossler in 1962.

"We don't want him back, we want him killed," Powers was quoted by the witness, Arthur Grimsley.

Powers is on trial with his aunt, Candace Mossler, accused of slaying the 69-year-old Mossler in 1964. Mrs. Mossler, the widow, was said by the state to have engaged in an illicit love affair with Powers.

Mrs. Mossler return to court today after illness had forced her to miss last Friday's session.

During cross-examination of Grimsley, Mrs. Mossler became ill again, and Judge George Schulz called a recess. She was helped from the courtroom, apparently faint and with nausea.

Grimsley testified that Powers had worked with him on a magazine sales crew in 1961. He said that on June 15, 1962, they met again in Truman, Ark., and continued:

"He related to me that he was living with a distant relative in Houston, but she was married to an old mooch. He asked me if I was interested in making some money. I said yes. He talked to me about a kidnaping. He talked about the relations he was living with."

"Did he tell you who he wanted kidnaped?" the witness was asked.

"It was the husband of this relative," Grimsley replied.

Zone Hearing

The Corte Madera Planning Commission, meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation room of the public safety building, will hold its second hearing on numerous proposed changes in the town zoning ordinance. The changes are primarily in the town's highway commercial zone.

They also deal with commercial sign space and undersized lots.

Fire Destroys Air Building At Burbank

BURBANK (AP) — Lockheed Air Terminal officials promised business as usual today, despite a $2 million blaze that destroyed the administration and passenger terminal building and the flight control tower.

The terminal—second largest in the Los Angeles area and the largest privately-owned airport in the nation — was swept by flames yesterday, as stout breezes fanned the blaze over the frame structure.

TRAFFIC DIVERTED

About 150 workers were evacuated from the building without injury. Workers in the flight control tower descended to safety on an aerial ladder.

Air traffic was diverted for a few hours to nearby Van Nuys Airport and to Los Angeles International Airport. An emergency flight control center was set up in the rear of a station wagon about 6:30 p.m., however, and the airport resumed takeoffs and landings.

A spokesman said the fire began in a greasy flue in the kitchen of the Skyroom restaurant. Flames from the flue were spread throughout the building's ventilation system, he said.

The fire, which broke out about 3:30 p.m., was contained about 6:30 p.m.

Louis Wulfekuhler, terminal president, said about one-third of the estimated $2 million damage consisted of electronic equipment in the Federal Aviation Agency control tower.

OTHER SERVICE

Other electronic equipment would be brought in today from Los Angeles International and temporary baggage and passenger service would be set up in a nearby hangar, Wulfekuhler said.

The terminal, a subsidiary of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., was the main one for Los Angeles when it opened in 1930, handling up to 1.3 million passengers a year.

Clausen Joins Free Asia Advisory Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-Calif., said today he had accepted a seat on the advisory council of Friends of Free Asia, Inc.

The organization was created earlier this year to promote freedom in Asia, primarily by means of education.

HERO IS SUSPENDED

Paul Murray, 18, was a hero when he rescued a drowning clam digger from the Pacific on Feb. 3. But when the story hit the newspaper in his home town of Salinas, Murray was placed on 10-day suspension from North Salinas High School for playing hookey to ride the surf. He pulled Johnny Cachola, 53, from the ocean at Moss Landing. (AP Wirephoto)

A.F. Transfers Trainees In Meningitis Outbreak

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) —The Air Forcemoved ahead today with preparations to transfere thousands of basic trainees from Lackland Air Force Base in an effort to prevent a major outbreak of spinal meningitis.

One serviceman has died of meningitis at Lackland and six other trainees are hospitalized with the disease. Three are listed in serious condition and three in fair condition.

Meningitis has claimed three other servicemen's lives in military basis throughout the nation recently.

To limit the spread of the disease, the Air Force training command plans to move several thousand Lackland trainees 500 miles northwest to Amarillo Air Force Base in the Texas Panhandle. Furthermore, no new trainees will be sent to Lackland, the largest Air Force training center, until the outbreak has been stopped.

Airman Jerry Slagle, 19, Akron,Ohio, died of meningitis at Lackland Thursday.

Gen. William W. Momyer, commander of the Air Training Command, was expected to announce further details of the troop exodus today. He conferred during the weekend with Maj. Gen. Loren G. McCollum, commander of the Amarillo AFB, who said his base could handle 4,500 more airmen without "overly taxing" the spinal meningitis symptoms on their early stages are much like those of a cold or flu but can result in delirium and death.

Besides Lackland, three Army facilities — Fort Gordon, Ga., Fort Knox, Ky., and Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., have reported deaths from the disease.

Child's Slayer Must Be Insane

That was the reaction today of Sgt. Douglas Premo of the Crescent City police who undoubtedly mirrored the feelings of fellow townsmen to the brutal slaying of an 11-year-old girl Saturday in a vacant lot near her home.

Little Myra Gerling was slashed around the throat and her body had been pierced at least 40 times with a knifeblade.

The girl's clothing had been ripped from her and a medical examination was planned to determine whether she had been sexually molested.

Myra had been sent to a nearby grocery store to get some ice cream for a party. She never returned.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning star is Venus; the evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

English economist and sociologist Thomas Malthus was born on this day in 1766.

On this day in history:

In 1903, President Theodore Roosevelt signed into law an act creating the Department of Commerce and Labor.

In 1933, $50 million was rushed to Detroit to bolster banking assets as Michigan's governor declared an eight-day bank holiday.

A thought for the day: President Theodore Roosevelt said: "The first requisite of a good citizen in this republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his own weight."

More than 90 per cent of the 1,850,000,000 Asians subsist mainly on rice. In some places, the word for rice is the same as that for food.

Stingy Players Lose Out When They Hold Back Good Card

It's easy to be a liberal spender when you're rolling in the stuff, but when you're down to your last nickel you hate to spend it all in one place.

WEST TAKES KING

West took the king of diamonds and returned a club. When East played low, declarer took a deep finesse with the eight of clubs.

West had to win and had to give South a trick. If West returned a club, South's king would win a trick.

THANKS PARTNER

"What could I do?" East demanded. "All I had was just one queen."

"You had only one card, and you couldn't even play that at the right time," West pointed out.

East could defeat the contract by playing the queen of clubs when declarer first led the suit from dummy. If South played the king, West would take three clubs at once.

If South played low, East would win the trick and lead another club.

The correct play became obvious when South cleared out both red suits from dummy and his own hand. If West had to win the first club trick he would be unable to get out safely.

The only chance was to step up with the queen of clubs in the hope of rescuing West from the end play.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 11 points in high cards and 1 point for doubleton, enough for an optional opening bid.

In this case you refuse the option because your suit is only mediocre and because the distribution is only so-so.

HOW NOT TO PARK

An auto dives 10 floors from a rooftop in Los Angeles—but it was no accident and no one was injured. The drop to the parking lot below was made to simulate what happens to a vehicle when it hits something stationary at a speed of 60 MPH. Cameras anchored in the driver's seat recorded the plunge and the footage will be used in a driving safety film. (UPI Telephoto)

Russ Writers Sentenced To Years Of Hard Labor

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Russian writers were convicted today of anti-Soviet propaganda because of books they published abroad under pen names.

Andrei D. Sinyavsky was sentenced to seven years at hard labor, and Yuli M. Daniel was sentenced to five years at hard labor, Tass news agency reported.

Both men pleaded innocent, arguing that the satirical writings they published in the West under pen names were not political and therefore were not anti-Soviet propaganda.

The Soviet press said there was no question of their guilt.

Sinyavsky, whose pen name was Abram Tertz, and Daniel, writing as Nikolai Arzhak, published work abroad showing brutality, corruption and degradation in Soviet life.

In their defense they contended they had exercised legitimate freedom of artistic expression. But early in the trial the judge declared: "We do not have a matter for literary dispute here but a criminal trial."

The trial, which began Thursday, was closed to foreign newsmen.

Tass, said the writers, arrested Sept. 13, were sentenced to what was called "a strict regime corrective labor camp."

The case has aroused protests from writers in the West and caused considerable concern in Russian intellectual circles. Throughout the trial young people gathered outside the courtroom in support of the defendants, although they were outnumbered by plainclothes policemen and Communist party youths.

The term Mach 1, used to describe bodies traveling at the speed of sound, derives from the Czech physicist Ernst Mach, who contributed to the study of sound.

'Minor Criminals' May Be Drafted

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service system, says "minor criminals" should be drafted as part of the push to satisfy Viet Nam manpower needs.

Hershey said yesterday local draft boards have been ordered to re-examine men rejected on a moral basis in conjunction with the overall lowering of mental and physical standards for military service.

According to Hershey, there have been incidents of "young men committing crimes to escape the draft. I feel the armed forces should take some of these minor criminals."

More State Control Planned In Special Welfare Centers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Brown administration disclosed today that it will try to require counties to obey state orders in providing welfare help in "one stop" social service centers for potential racial troublespots.

Gov. Brown last week proposed the centers, prompted by last summer's violence in Los Angeles' Negro districts.

Today, an administration spokesman spelled out details of the $16.8 million program for the first time.

He said two centers would be located in Los Angeles and at least one each in Oakland, Hunter's Point and the Western Addition in San Francisco, San Diego, Long Beach, Stockton, San Bernardino, Riverside, Bakersfield, Fresno and Vallejo.

The spokesman said the residents of the areas—mostly poor members of minority groups—would be able to obtain all the government services they need at the centers—welfare aid, education and employment guidance, vocational rehabilitation, parole services, mental hygiene help and consumer advice. The Fair Employment Practices Commission would also be represented.

Now, the recipients must go to one office for welfare, for example, another for vocational rehabilitation, and still a third for educational advice.

Under the administration plan, one person — a "master case worker" — would take charge and handle all the services for the recipient.

Since the master case worker is likely to be a state employe, the Brown administration expects controversy to develop over provisions giving him the power to tell the county how and when to administer social services now under its jurisdiction.

At present, programs such as Aid to Families with Dependent Children and adoptions are under county administration, with little control by the state, the spokesman said.

The social service centers are part of a program costing about $60 million to prevent a recurrence of last summer's violence.

This weekend, the administration finished work on another section — providing $16 million to hire more teachers to reduce class sizes in the trouble spots. The state will provide $12 million and local governments the rest.

Meanwhile, the governor prepared to place his $4.61 billion budget in the hands of legislative committees this week.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee scheduled its first budget meeting for tomorrow.

Kentfield Trustees May Seek Funds

Kentfield School District trustees, meeting at 8 p.m. today in the multi-use room of Wolfe Grade School, will be asked to apply for $1,735 in federal funds for the purchase of books and audio- visual aids for the school libraries.

Trustees will also meet in closed session with Supt. Howard C. Harmon to review his evaluations of the district's probationary teachers.

Army Reservists Will Hold Drill

Two San Rafael Army Reserve units will participate in a three-state test of mobilization plans and methods March 26, the Army has announced.

They are Headquarters and Headquarters Company and Company G of the Second Battalion, both of the 362nd Regiment of the 91st Division.

Money For Rent, Teaching Is Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson today asked Congress for $55.8 million in supplemental funds to activate the National Teacher Corps and the rent supplement program, and to meet the cost of increased draft calls.

Congress last year authorized the Teacher Corps and the rent supplement program but did not provide funds to put them into action.

In his request today for fiscal 1966, Johnson asked $12.6 million for the Selective Service system to meet the substantially increased cost of higher inductions due to the war in Viet Nam.

The President estimated that inductions for the fiscal year ending next June 30 would total about 260,000. When the 1966 appropriations request was submitted about a year ago, the number of estimated inductions for the fiscal year was 125,000.

The President, in a letter to House Speaker John W. McCormack, said the Teacher Corps and rent supplement programs were "vital to our efforts to improve the quality of life in America."

The Teacher Corps would consist of 3,700 experienced teachers and teaching interns to serve in schools with concentrations of children from low-income families. They would be made available upon request by local school boards that are operating under the 1964 school aid bill in which they were given more than $1 billion to improve education in poverty areas. The Teacher Corps would augment that program.

The rent supplement program would provide federal assistance for those in some areas of low-income housing. The government would make up the difference between the market rent for modestly designed dwellings and 25 per cent of the occupant's income.

Mother Stops Attack By Lion

HUNTINGTON PARK (AP) — An African lion attacked a young mother and her 5-year-old daughter, but was stopped abruptly when the quick-thinking woman thrust her arm down the beast's throat, police said today.

Mrs. Paul DeVita, 27, of Hawthorne, suffered only toothmarks on her arm.

Her daughter, Nedine, was bitten about the head, right shoulder and right hip, officers said, and was taken to White Memorial Hospital in satisfactory condition.

Mrs. DeVita said the incident took place when the family visited the California Stables in Huntington Park, where an employee kept the lion as a pet.

Puerto Rico is Spanish for "rich port."

Civil Defense Offers Course On Radiation

The Marin County Office of Disaster and Civil Defense will offer an 18-hour course in radiological monitoring beginning Feb. 23 at 7 p.m. at San Rafael High School, Room 95.

The class, taught by Hugh Paterson of San Rafael, a former San Rafael High School mathematics and science teacher, will meet for three hours on Wednesday nights through March 30.

Rent Subsidy Request Goes To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson made a three-pronged request to Congress today for urgent action to provide $55,881,000 for a rent subsidy program for the poor, a National Teacher Corps and expansion of the Selective Service System.

Johnson said the first two are "vital to our efforts to improve the quality of life in America" and the third is "a direct effort of our commitment to freedom in Southeast Asia.

His request was a letter to Speaker of the House John W. McCormack.

The funds the President requested — will provide extra money for the present fiscal year ending June 30 — $30 million for the rent supplement program, $13.2 million for the Teachers Corps and $12,681,000 for handling the added load on the Selective Service System.

The rent subsidy program was approved by the last congressional session but not the funds to finance it. It is aimed at overcoming some of the shortages in decent, low-cost housing in cities.

The President said the Housing and Urban Development Department already has received proposals to build nearly 70,000 housing units under the program. These involve 424 projects in 43 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Backing up the request for extra funds for Selective Service, Johnson said the original appropriation for this year was based on an estimate of 125,000 draftees. Now the estimate is about 360,000.

As for the Teacher Corps, authorized by last year's Higher Education Act, Johnson said funds are needed now so the first teams for the corps can start training this summer.

Smoker's Condition Fair After Blaze

A Tamalpais Valley woman was in "fair condition" today at Kaiser Foundation Hospitals, San Francisco, after she reportedly fell asleep while smoking in bed last night.

Mrs. Louise O'Connor, 47, of 28 Loring Avenue was being treated for second degree burns on her hands, legs, and torso.

Tamalpais firemen received a call at 8:40 p.m. yesterday, relayed from the Mill Valley Fire Department.

They said they found Mrs. O'Connor, who said she was alone in the house, standing on the porch. An ambulance took her first to Marin General Hospital. She was later transferred to Kaiser.

The bed, bedclothes and frame were completely ruined by fire and the rug beneath the bed was burned, firemen reported. There was smoke damage throughout the house. Mrs. O'Connor told firemen she had been smoking in bed and may have fallen asleep.

McCarthy Takes Election Papers

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Robert McCarthy, former director of the State Department of Motor Vehicles, filed his declaration of intention today as a Democratic candidates for state senator from San Mateo County.

McCarthy previously served as an assemblyman and senator from San Francisco and currently is a member of the motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board.

Fourth Street Rezoning On Novato Plans Agenda

Rezoning of all lots on the east side of Fourth Street and both sides of Third Street and Second Street between Olive and Grant avenues will be considered by the Novato Planning Commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

The proposed rezoning, from multiple family to multiple family with highway frontage regulations, was initiated by the planning commission itself. Some of the residents of the area protested the rezoning when it came up two weeks ago, and asked for more time to get signatures on petitions against it.

Harker Development Corp.'s request for three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin Drive and San Andreas Drive, will come before the commission again. It has been postponed several times.

The commission will also consider Hi-Valley Development Corp.'s tentative map of Marin Riviera of 54 lots for town houses on four acres within the Scottsdale master plan, south of Rowland Boulevard and west of Highway 101.

J. R. Coleman and J. A. Calleri have asked rezoning from agricultural to retail commercial at 1945, 1949 and 1951 Novato Boulevard.

Tire Is Slashed At Community House

Someone slashed a tire on a car parked outside the Novato Community House Saturday night, police reported.

Robert James Luchetti, 16, of 328 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, member of a combo that played for a teen-age dance at the community house, said one tire of his car was slashed and the air let out of two others. Another of the musicians, Howard George Lazzarini, 16, of 32 Heather Way, Larkspur, said air was let out of one tire of his car also.

Pravda Urges China Friendship

MOSCOW (UPI) —The official party newspaper Pravda today called for Soviet-Chinese relations to "revert to the tried path of ardent friendship" on the 16th anniversary of the Moscow-Peking friendship treaty.

In the past years, Pravda said, "through no fault of the Soviet side, difficulties unfortunately arose in Soviet-Chinese relations." These "difficulties" are blocking any unified Communist action in Viet Nam, it said.

But both the Soviet government and party "are still making every effort to overcome these difficulties and normalize relations with the Chinese Communist party and the Chinese Peoples Republic," Pravda said.

William Howard Taft is the only man who served both as President and as Chief Justice of the United States.

Souza Joins The Ranks Of Candidates

ROBERT R. SOUSA
Seeks full term

Fairfax City Councilman Robert R. Souza, 42, today announced he will be a candidate for another term in the April 12 city council election.

Souza was appointed to the council May 15, 1964, following the resignation of Freeman Blake. He was chairman of the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission at the time of his appointment.

"We should spend more money to fill the needs in recreation and street improvements," he said.

"I will continue to support my earlier prosopal for the routing of Highway 17 along the ridge route north of Fairfax and sleepy Hollow, while at the same time supporting any reasonable suggestions to alleviate the traffic flow on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard."

Souza called for better communication between the council and Fairfax citizens and endorsed the council's hiring of City Administrator David Sumbardo a year ago.

"The use of the city administrator - council system has brought benefits for our people with on increase in taxes," he said.

Souza, a native of San Francisco, has been a Fairfax resident for 10 years. He graduater from College of Marin in 1948 and from the University of San Francisco, with a degree in psychology, in 1950.

He lives with his wife and four children at 18 Claus Circle, Fairfax, and works as employment service supervisor and assistant manager of the State Department of Employment office in San Rafael.

Australia Gets Dollars, Cents

Banks were crowded with persons trading in pounds, shillings and pence for gleaming new coins and crisp dollar notes. The banks, closed since Wednesday while they converted accounting systems to handle the new style coinage, reopened today.

The new Australian dollar is worth $1.12 at the official rate of exchange. The pound in Australia had been equivalent to $2.24.

West Marin Board Sets Salary Session

Teachers' salary schedule for next school year will be discussed by the West Marin School District Board in its next meeting at 8 p.m. today at the West Marin School in Point Reyes Station.

The board will also act on use of some $16,000 in federal funds allocated to the district for library assistance, books and educational materials, and will hear a report on how West Marin pupils did in last year's state testing program.

Lack Of Motive In Slaying Continues To Plague Police

The lack of apparent motive in the brutal murder of Marjorie S. Rudolph continued today to plague investigators and create apprehension in the quiet Terra Linda section of San Rafael where she was slain.

The senselessness of the crime is as disturbing as its violence to the neighbors of the 60-year-old victim, wife of San Rafael banker Leroy Rudolph. "Was she killed by someone she knew, or is there a psychopath who strikes at random in the area?" they ask.

The police investigation indicates that sometime between 5:30 and 7:55 p.m. Feb. 1, Mrs. Rudolph admitted her slayer to her home at 19 Carroll Court.

The earlier hour is established by a neighbor who phoned her then to invite her over for dinner, knowing she was alone at home since her husband was recovering from major surgery at Marin General Hospital. Mrs. Rudolph refused, saying she had on her robe and would fix her own dinner.

The later hour is the time her watch stopped after her stabbed and bludgeoned body was put in a filled bathtub by her killer.

Marks on the kitchen door at first suggested forced entry, but these proved to be old dents and scratches, according to San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa. "We believe she let the murderer in," the chief said.

Her family, friends and neighbors have insisted, however, that Mrs. Rudolph was a "very cautious woman" who would never had let a stranger into the house.

Whether a random killer or someone she knew, Mrs. Rudolph was the victim of an "unusually violent assault," according to Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton. She suffered four skull fractures, 17 broken ribs and a crushed sternum. "A heavy pointed weapon was used," Keaton said.

Nothing that might have been the murder instrument has been found in the thorough search of the house and grounds. Even storm drains in the community have been scoured on the possibility the killer may have thrown the weapon away as he fled the house.

Investigation since her body was found the following morning by neighbors has turned up no evidence of anyone who knew and had a grudge against Mrs. Rudolph.

Neither was there any evidence as a result of the autopsy that she had been the victim of a sexual assault, according to Coronor Keaton.

Despite what Chief Chiesa called "an attempt to make it appear the work of a burglar," robbery has been ruled out as a motive.

Two drawers in a bedroom were open, one thrown on the floor, their contents scattered about the room. But considerable jewelry was left in one of the drawers and her rings were still on her hands.

Other things which would have presumably been targets of a burglar were undisturbed. A valuable collection of guns was left over the mantelpiece. Bottles of liquor were untouched in an open cabinet. Her purse with some change in it was left alone on the kitchen table.

About 30 fingerprints in the house, including some on the bathtub, are still under study. The clearly innocent ones have to be separated from any that might be suspicious, a long task, according to Inspector Thomas Cheetham, who has been assigned full time to the case.

Questioning of neighbors who might have seen suspiciously behaving strangers in the vicinity turned up a brief but inconclusive report of a man in a dark hat and tan raincoat who first approached the Rudolph home and then disaperaed behind it.

"But," said Inspector Cheetham, "the date couldn't be fixed, and that's led to nothing."

Neither have numerous phone calls to police headquarters offering tips and leads proved friutful. "We check them all out, no matter how strange," Cheetham said.

Honorary Badges Given Volunteers

Fire Chief Jose Silva presented badges to Norman Ford, Edward Genazzi, Louis Pepper, Alvin C. Pfefferkorn, Walter Wagner, all of Bolinas, and Charles Cahill of San Rafael, a former Bolinas resident. All six helped organize the department after World War II with mechanical equipment. They had also been with the department prior to that, pulling two-wheel hose carts to fires from a small cubicle in front of Jack Pepper's store.

Crosby previously was married to former Las Vegas showgirl Barbara Frederickson. The pair was divorced April 2, 1963. They have a son, David, 4.

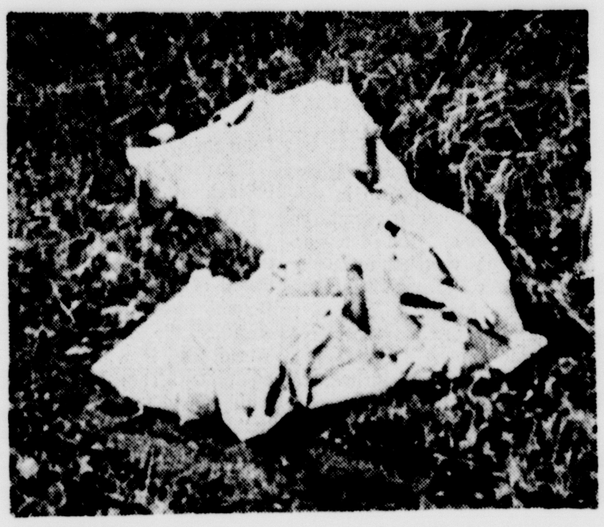
Marvelous Marin: A Dumping Place For Cans, Trash

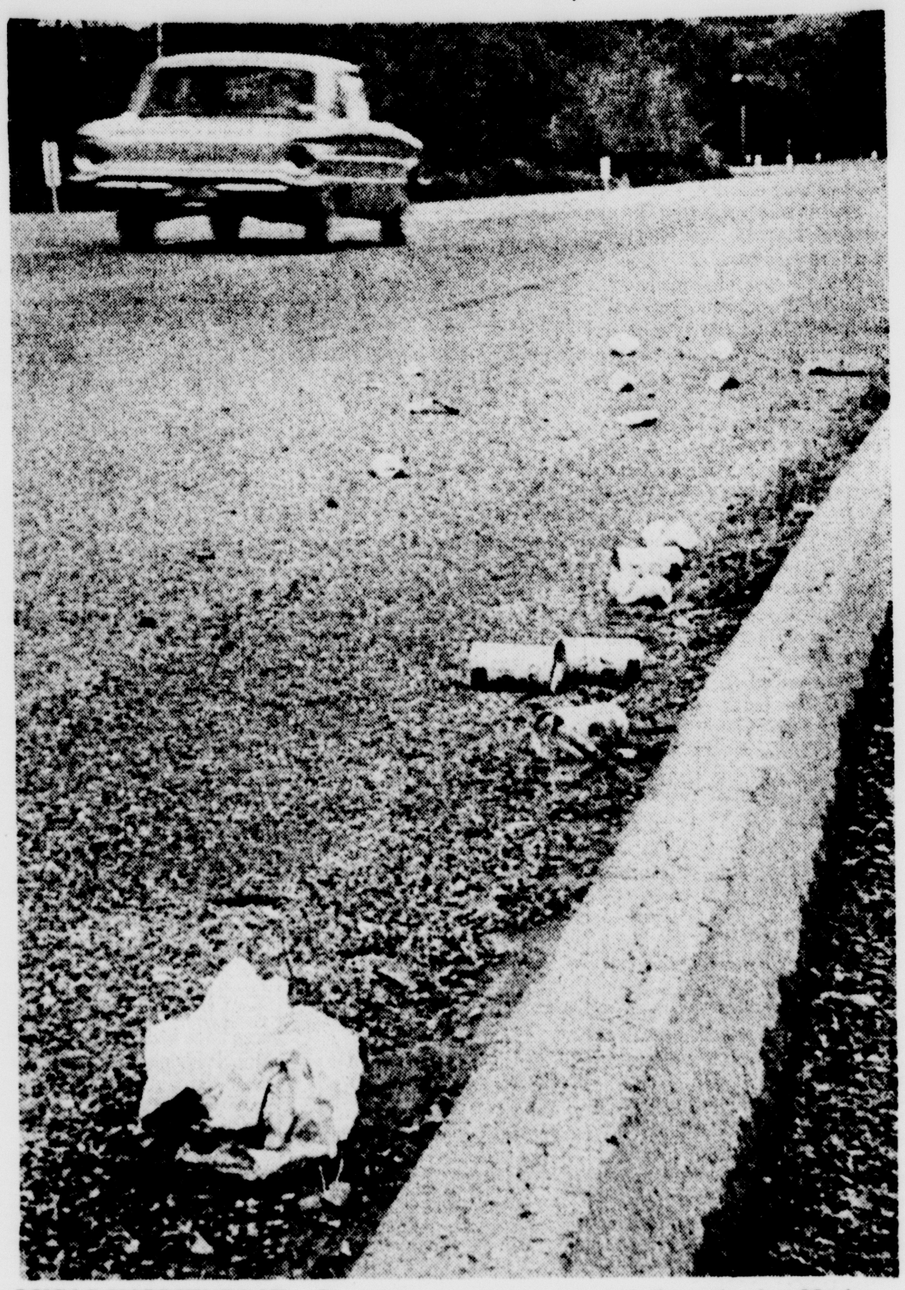
UNPLANNED DUMP—There is a wide spot in the pleasant winding road from Mill Valley to Corte Madera and drivers pull their cars to a halt to deposit garbage over the brush of the hillside. The sign put up by the City of Mill Valley has had little effect on this spot on Camino Alto.

(I-J photos by Ellen Bry)

ARTISTIC—This pop can was carefully placed alongside Novato Boulevard, just outside Novato, possibly to be used as a target for rifle practice from moving cars. (Independent-Journal photos)



DECORATION—This handsome piece of mouldering paper is alongside Lucas Valley Road at Marinwood. This stretch of road is a prime dumping place for beer cans and trash which give the landscape a certain novelty.



LUCAS VALLEY ROAD—Someone couldn't heave the beer cans far enough from a car window to get them off the road, so they brighten the scenery of the suburbs. Marin litter consists almost entirely of beer cans and bottles and some paper.

FAVORED PLACE—Smith Ranch Road just off Highway 101 north of San Rafael is a favorite dumping ground for beer bottles and cans which form a continuous line of litter to smudge the foreground of Marin scenery. Beer containers are favored, but paper is a close second.

CONVENIENT—It was convenient for someone to dump two cartons of beer bottles at the edge of the creek at Saunders Avenue, just off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo.

BRIDGE VIEW—Driving along Paradise Drive at the base of the Tiburon Peninsula, there is a view over the litter and the clear waters of the bay to the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge in the distance. Construction litter vies with cans and old clothes to spoil the view.

LITTER LINE—Litter along side state highways is a constant pick-up problem for road maintenance crews. Trash mercifully usually is hidden from the road, since it ends up in a ditch, where this collection from Highway 37 was found.

DUMP? — No, Smith Ranch Road, which has a continuous line of rubbish along its sides. Motorists find it easy to heave the cans out car windows, rather than filling their garbage cans with evidence of beer drinking bouts.

NO DUMP—Someone inadvertantly dumped a car over the edge of Paradise Drive on the Tiburon Peninsula. The valuable engine apparently was carefully carted away, leaving the rusting carcass of the car, hanging in the brush.

MODERN MATH 6

Classification Of Numbers

By Prof. W. F. Lloyd
University of Tampa

Extremely primitive man had no need for numbers. All he cared about was to be warm and dry and well fed. But this carefree state of affairs could not last forever.

The caveman wanted to brag about how many spears he owned, how many wives looked on him as master and how much he had won in gambling. To boast he had to have numbers.

The first numbers invented were the Counting Numbers, or to use a more erudite name, Natural Numbers. These are the whole numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, ... Notice, no zero. Zero came later. (Anyway nobody brags about having zero spears.)

Of course the symbols or names (numerals) he used were far different from those used today, but the number idea was born. Then came the struggle to perform operations with these numbers.

The demands of expanding commerce and trade found the natural numbers inadequate and forced the development of fractions. The ancient Egyptians and the Romans had fractions, but they were clumsy to use. Many advances in mathematics were brought about by the businessman.

The ruling class and the church did not, in general, look with favor on these newfangled inventions. The medieval baron had little use for arithmetic. (He had a scribe to do this menial work.) He had little patience with fractions. (When in doubt, he took all.) As for the church, it was just naturally conservative.

The Hindu-Arabic number system lent itself naturally to the development of decimal fractions.

The value of a digit is multiplied by 10 as the digit is moved one place to the left. Conversely, the value of a digit is divided by 10 when the digit is moved one place to the right. For example $2 \times 10 = 20$, $20 \times 10 = 200$, $200 \times 10 = 2000$, etc. Conversely $2000 \div 10 = 200$, $200 \div 10 = 20$, $20 \div 10 = 2$.

Some savant asked, "Why stop at the ones column? Let us keep moving to the right, dividing by ten." Thus decimal fractions were born and the decimal point was invented.

Love That Decimal!

I have a strong personal conviction that mathematicians made one of their biggest booboos at this point. Not in the idea of the decimal point, but in using such an insignificant thing as a period for such an extremely important job.

We all tend to equate size with importance. If they had chosen a more noble symbol, people might be more impressed with its importance and treat it with proper respect.

The final inadequacy of natural numbers was the lack of a simple means of expressing "bad" numbers, or measurements in the opposite direction.

This problem was met by the development of Negative Numbers. Prior to this innovation, certain numbers had to be accompanied by a descriptive word or phrase, i.e., a $100 loss, 15° below zero, 6 feet backward, and other similar expressions.

With the help of Negative Numbers and a knowledge of the context, the words can be omitted and the quantities written as -$100, -15°, -6.

The Natural Numbers, the zero, and the negative whole numbers make up the set of numbers we now name the Integers. The set of Integers, together with the set of Common Fractions, and certain Decimal Fractions make up the set of Rational Numbers.

It is intended to mean the set of all numbers that can be expressed as the ratio or quotient of two integers. Rational numbers are also defined as those numbers that can be expressed as repeating decimals. (Repeating decimals are those decimals where some digit or group of digits repeats endlessly.) Some examples of rational numbers and their repeating decimal equivalents: 7 = 7.00000..., 1/2 = .5000000..., 1/3 = .33333333..., 1/7 = .142857142857.

Real and Irrational

In contrast to the set of Rational Numbers we have the set of Irrational Numbers. These are the numbers that cannot be expressed as the quotient of two integers. They are the non-repeating decimals.

The Irrational Numbers are not as familiar to the average person, but there is an infinite number of them. The most widely used irrational number is pi, which is used in finding the area and circumference of a circle. Pi has been computed to several thousand decimal places but never do groups of digits repeat regularly.

The most common form of Irrational Number is the surd or root. The square root or the cube root of 2, 3, 5, 6, etc., is irrational.

The set of Rationals and the set of Irrationals together, form the set of Real Numbers. The Real Numbers can all be represented physically. That is, 5 silver dollars, 1/2 a watermelon, a line that is $\sqrt{3}$ inches long.

Distinct from the set of Real Numbers is the set of Imaginary Numbers. This is an unfortunate name because they are not fairy tale numbers nor mere flights of fancy, but good usable numbers that cannot be represented physically. Imaginary numbers are even roots of negative numbers. (The square root of -4 is factored into the square root of 4 times the square root of -1, 2 is the square root of 4 and i is the symbol used to represent the square root of -1.)

In electronics and advanced mathematics, Imaginary Numbers play an important role.

Money May Be Thorn In Rosy Marriage

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Money is as "beautiful as roses," said Ralph Waldo Emerson. He did not add that it is sometimes also the thorn in the side of a marriage.

Many observers of the marital scene list conflicts over money as among the most frequent causes of marriage failures, with the trouble often starting when husband and wife cannot agree on who is to control the family finances.

SOME FAMILIES still work a system in which the husband gives the wife housekeeping and personal allowances. This method is fine for some couples but in other cases the wife resents having a sum "doled out" to her each payday. She feels she should be free to run the home financially as well as domestically.

Let's face it, also—some men never see their paychecks. They go directly to the bank or to the missus and she does all the check writing, even doling out his allowance for lunch, maybe a drink with the boys and his golfing fee.

ONE SUGGESTED way for easing financial tension is the joint checking account, in which his salary and hers—if she's also working—go into the account and the financial responsibilities are shared. It trains the couple to think of "our" money rather than "my" money.

The suggestion is from the Foundation for Commercial Banks, whose 5,700 members hold nearly three-quarters of the nation's deposits. But the foundation cautions: A joint account works well only if both partners keep a strict eye on the number of checks each draws and the balance in the account.

The joint account makes it easier to see where the money goes, because one set of check stubs summarizes the whole month's spending and one statement records every transaction. Be sure to use only one checkbook; "his" and "hers" checkbooks would be chaos.

RESPONSIBILITY for checking the bank statement each month should be done by the one "with the better head for figures and the greater patience," said a foundation spokesman.

Another advantage of the joint account—it can be opened with "rights of survivorship," which means that if one party dies, all the money in the account automatically goes to the survivor.

Fairfax Singer Achieves Recording Artist's Goal

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

A former Marin girl whose family "always knew" she would make the big time as a popular singer appears to be on the verge of doing just that.

Known as Barbara Norris when she went to Sir Francis Drake School and College of Marin, she is called Bobbe Norris on her Columbia recording, "The Beginning," scheduled for nationwide release within a few days.

Two songs on the new long-playing record— "Quiet Room" and a slow version of the old song, "Put Your Little Foot Right Out"—have already been released on a 45 rpm. single record and local stores report they quickly sold many copies to friends and relatives of the 24-year-old singer.

BOBBE NORRIS
Makes the big time

In addition to recording an album for a big-name record company, Miss Norris is scheduled to open June 1 at the famed Persian Room of New York's Hotel, and will appear four days later on Ed Sullivan's network television show. Two other network guest shots are also scheduled.

She grew up in Homestead Valley and San Anselmo and, according to her aunt, Mrs. Peter P. Bann of 16 Junipero Serra Avenue, San Anselmo, was encouraged by her music-minded family to sing at every opportunity. This included school choirs and "every talent contest they could sign her up for."

"She was going to be a professional singer from the time she was two years old," recalls Mrs. Bann.

To help pay her tuition at the College of Marin, and later at University of San Francisco, she took outside singing jobs. She finally got booked into the Purple Onion in North Beach, which led to engagements in Las Vegas, at Lake Tahoe, and in another well-known San Francisco club, the Hungry I.

Her sights set on the big time, Bobbe went to New York and undertook the seemingly impossible task of wangling an audition with John Hammond, Columbia Records' official finder of new talent.

New York's Cue Magazine, which carried Miss Norris's picture on its Jan. 29 issue, quoted Bobbe as saying she "pestered his secretary half to death until I got an appointment. I guess he liked me."

Hammond said Bobbe "came in cold—no pull, no contacts, no nothing. It just doesn't happen, but it did. I could hardly believe it—she was so marvelous."

The appearance on Ed Sullivan's shown was granted solely on the basis of her voice, said Mrs. Bann. Sullivan had heard only an audition tape and said he wanted her on the show whether she was young or old, pretty or homely. He was glad to find out she was both young and pretty, however, Mrs. Bann added.

The Norris family now lives in San Francisco, where a 17-year-old sister, Cindy, goes to high school. Cindy, says her aunt, "sings badly—like the rest of us."

Her nearness to success is the biggest thing right now in Mrs. Norris's life, which was saddened in late 1964 by the death of Bobbe's father, Vincent Norris, and her grandfather, Peter Bann, within a few weeks time.

Both men were painters and maintenance men for the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, starting on the same day, Dec. 27, 1937, a few months after the bridge opened. Bann retired April 1, 1959, and his son-in-law took over his job as foreman on the bridge. He held the job until he died.

The record company obviously hopes it has a new star on its hands. It featured her in its weekly trade publication, Insight, and sent the article, along with her 45 rpm. record, to every radio station in the country.

Bobbe Norris's friends and relatives in Marin are hoping Columbia's big push will make the family dream come true.

Tornado Hits South, Moves Out To Sea

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A tornado-spawning wind and rain storm that raked portions of the South for hours moved out to sea today.

Tornadoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Georgia yesterday caused heavy damage to private property. At least one death was reported.

Rain and flash flooding was widespread. Heavy rain fell over sections of Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Mississippi, Ohio, West Virginia, Alabama and portions of New England.

An 11-year-old boy died at Troutman, N.C., when a small building collapsed on him during a storm yesterday. Four to five inches of rain fell over northestern North Carolina, flooding many low-lying areas.

In Virginia, rain, hail and several small tisters marked a variety of weather Sunday. Wind gusts reached 70 m.p.h. and caused some damage.

Houses and house trailers were damaged when tornadoes hit Griffin and Wintersville, Ga. At Nicholson, Brazelton and Winder, Ga., tornadoes toppled 10 chicken houses. One farmer estimated he lost 75,000 chickens in the storm.

New York received nearly two and one-half inches of rain yesterday — the heaviest fall for the date since 1893 — and added nearly a billion gallons to the city's upstate watershed.

Low areas around Pittsburgh and in estern Pennsylvania were flooded by rapidly rising streams and rivers. Flood stages were expected today on the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. Between two and three inches of rain fell over the weekend in Pennsylvania.

The Ohio River in West Virginia and Ohio also was to reach flood stage today.

Melting snow and heavy rains brought flash floods to portions of Tennessee. At Gatlinburg, Tenn., flood damage to private property may reach $1 million, city officials said.

Rain-swollen rivers continued to rise in Mississippi. In Louisiana, rivers in the southern portion were rising and evacuations ere ordered.

The Mississippi River and the Rock River, ice jammed in the Rock Island, Ill., area, caused some flooding and families were ordered out of low lying sections.

Luci Johnson's Wedding Will Be Family Affair

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President and Mrs. Johnson bid the Nugent family farewell today with all in agreement that Luci's marriage to young Pat Nugent will be a family affair.

The Nugents, Gerard and Tillie, planned to drive the 900 miles to their home in Waukegan, Ill., after a White House weekend that was the first meeting for the families and the Nugents first trip to Washington.

Luci and Patrick are to be married in late summer. Pat is on active duty as an airman and is stationed at nearby Andrews Air Force Base.

Yesterday was a blustery, rainy day which the two families spent in a leisurely fashion, chatting and recapping the Saturday night party for Luci and Pat.

White House sources said yesterday that it was agreed the wedding would be a family affair, not a state function; a "sentimental" occasion instead of a public spectacle with a good deal of fanfare.

The plans for a family affair gives no indication of the size of the wedding, however, although the accent will be on gathering old friends and loved ones from Luci's babyhood on.

The Saturday night dinner dance, a romantic affair with the accent on valentines, hearts and flowers, was the first post-engagement party for Luci and her fiance.

It was given at the fashionable city Tavern Club in Georgetown by Luci's debutante friend, Helene Lindow, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lestor Lindow of Washington.

Police Find 'Students' In School

Corte Madera police yesterday found 15 boys who even go to school on Sunday—but not for classwork.

Hearing noises from inside, he crawled through the window and tiptoed in the direction of the kitchen and multi-purpose room, where the sounds seemed to be coming from. Rounding a corner, he found 15 boys, ringing in age from 10 to 14, milling about the two rooms.

The boys, he said, could give no "plausible reason" for their attendance at school on a Sunday. They all admitted they should not be there, he said.

He cleared them out of the building, and turned their names over to school authorities.

Spree On Credit Ends In Arrest

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — A man who told police he had lived it up in Atlanta, Miami, Los Angeles and San Francisco on stolen credit cards, as arrested yesterday.

Arrested for a forgery investigation was David McNeil, 27, ho told police he once had worked in New York restaurants. Police said they found dangerous drugs and a hypodermic syringe in his luggage and were deciding whether to file additional charges.

Harold Francis, a San Mateo County sheriff's deputy, quoted him as saying he obtained the cards four days previously from a man named Melvin Perry Hawkins in Atlanta.

The suspect said he told Hawkins he could read fortunes from the credit cards.

Marin Schools Honored For U.N. Performances

Three Marin County high schools were among those awarded top honors for outstanding performances Saturday at the close of the annual High School United Nations Conference at University of California, Berkeley.

Students from Sir Francis Drake, Terra Linda and Redwood high schools are in the best 10 delegations at this year's conference, selected from a total of 120 schools taking part from all over Northern California.

At the three-day conference which began Thursday, the high schools represented every United Nations member nation.

Other delegations from Marin attending the conference included Marin Catholic High School, representing Upper Volta; Tamalpais High School, representing Malawa, and Dominican Convent, Upper School, representing Yemen.

Committee work, done mainly on Friday, dealt with such subjects as Viet Nam, the Jordan River crisis, and the peaceful uses of outer space.

At the mock United Nations meeting, students dealt with and attempted to reconcile toward peace the issues which are actually confronting the countries concerned.

Russ Richeda, who headed the delegation from Drake, declined the elected post of spokesman on the special commission for the peaceful uses of outer space Friday in order to speak on a resolution from Saudi Arabia.

Redwood, in its role of Albania, urged in every committee that no discussion take place until the Republic of China is seated as a member.

Marin Catholic, representing Upper Volta, submitted the only resolution passed in the discussion on charter revision.

The work of the committees was ultimately brought to the floor of the General Assembly Saturday and final speeches were made for and against the passage of the issues.

The judging of the best 10 delegation was made on how well they represented each country and how well members of the delegation spoke on the issue.

College Auditions

The College of Marin drama department will hold auditions for its next production "Three Penny Opera" by Bertold Brecht and Kurt Weill at 7:30 p.m. today and tomorrow in Room One of Harlan Hall. The play, scheduled for performance March 31, April 1 and 2, has roles for 15 men and 10 women.

Six Mailboxes Reported Stolen

Six Kent Woodlands residents reported to sheriff's deputies Saturday that their mailboxes were stolen.

Eric Wagner of 3 Idlewood Road, reported at 8:50 a.m. that his mailbox was taken.

About 15 minutes later Milton Bromberg of 130 South Ridgewood Road, reported his mailbox stolen, and then about a half an hour later, W. D. Wamsley of 4 South Ridgewood Road, reported someone took both mailbox and post.

At 11:45 a.m. J. Stewart Harrison of 124 Rancheria Road reported his mailbox stolen, and at 1:45 p.m. W. W. Gray of 27 Rancheria Road reported his mailbox, too, was gone.

DRAMA REVIEW

Ross Valley Players Keep Up The Suspense

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

It's fun to be fooled at a murder mystery, and those who have not seen or read "Witness for the Prosecution" (or who saw Marlene Dietrich in the movie so long ago they've forgotten it) are bound to be fooled by the surprise denouement

The Ross Valley Players keep the suspense and puzzlement until the proper moment in their production of the Agatha Christie "whodunit" masperpiece. This sends the crowds away happy.

Opening weekend saw some fumbling and lack of pace in the first act — which director Karl Barron no doubt is striving to correct by the time "Witness" is shown on the stage of the Art and Garden Center Barn again Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. (Final showings will be March 4 and 5).

Acts 2 and 3 — the trial of Leonard Vole for the murder of the wealthy spinster Amelia French—lacked nothing in pace.

Much of the success of "Witness" must depend on how well the actors play the three lead roles of Vole, the accused; Sir Wilfred Hobarts, who leads for the defense, and Romaine, Vole's German refugee bride.

Hal Fenton fits perfectly in the role of Sir Wilfred Robarts —even though he does fumble for his lines sometimes. James Perry seems well cast as Vole, but somehow never quite submerges himself completely in the role. There is always a little of the feeling that this is just someone playacting.

But it is Phyllis Courtney as Romaine who really captures the audience. In her first appearance in Act 1, she does not seem quite real, perhaps because of an assumed accent that is not quite identifiable but certainly not German.

When she starts her testimony from the witness stand in Act 2, however, any such minor flaw as fault in accent is soon forgotten. And she later proves a real master of an assumed accent—if not of the German.

The play has two scene-stealers, big and little. The big scene stealer is Regina Waldon as Janet MacKenzie, Miss French's longtime housekeeper who was done out of her inheritance by the friendly young Leonard Vole. Here is not just someone playing a role. She is Janet MacKenzie; and the audience identifies with this character more than with any other.

The little scene stealer is Hugh Philo as clerk of the court, who makes an unassuming triumph out of a few lines that are not even dialogue.

George Shistar as Mr. Mayhew, Vole's solicitor, is an excellent foil for Sir Wilfred. Alain Flower turns in his usual more-than-able performance as Mr. Myers, the prosecutor. Brian Pierce as Justice Wainwright is something of a scene-stealer himself.

Others in the cast all do their work well enough to do credit to playwright Christie's art, and to make "Witness for the Prosecution" an enjoyable evening—and a pleasant change from the psychological problem plays so popular of late with our little theater group.

Pound Reports Canine Houdini

Everytime Marin County Humane Society picks up a certain black cocker spaniel in San Anselmo, it does the disappearing act in the dead of night.

Like a canine Houdini, the dog vanishes into thin air. Next morning, attendants find the chain in the kennel at the society's San Rafael shelter cut —and the main gate pried open. It has happened three times.

Irving Souza, an inspector with the society, has told San Rafael police he believes he knows how the trick is done. The dog gets a helping hand from its owner who wants to avoid paying the enforced boarding fee.

The inspector considers the Mrs. Bann says she believes joke has gone far enough.

Youth Conclave Views Quizzed By Governor

LONG BEACH (AP)— The Governors Conference on Youth has concluded with a liberal, wide-ranging flock of recommendations — some of which were viewed askance by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Prominent among the resolutions adopted Friday was one approving civil disobedience as an effective means of achieving justice and change when other methods fail.

But Brown asked the delegates, aged 14 to 19:

"What is the best way to correct social ills? Believe me, it is not to throw yourself in front of a troop train. It is not to riot. What good is the negative waste of energy?"

Among other recommendations:

Inter-racial dating, which should not be discouraged or interfered with by adults; abolition of curfew laws; sex education early in elementary schools; citizens' review boards on cases of alleged police brutality; better understanding of youth by police; more freedom and participation of students in school curriculum choice; de-emphasis on grades and de-emphasis on college as an acceptable means for achieving a satisfactory life.

LIBERACE GETS SOUND ADVICE

Liberace, pianist and entertainer, was a visitor to a music store in Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera, Saturday but was in such a hurry he had no time to sign autographs. He had been staying the past few weeks with friends in Corte Madera while appearing on stage at the Circle Star Theater, San Carlos. He visited Andersen's Sound Studio Thursday, saw the equipment he liked, and returned to talk over matters with Sam Arab, service manager (right).

Restaurant Loses $1,070 To Burglars

Burglars early today looted a safe at Elwood's restaurant in Stinson Beach of $1,072.50 cash, sheriff's officers reported.

Mrs. Harry Shurtleff, wife of the owner, said entry was apparently by the front door, but there was no sign of its being forced. The floor safe, about 17 by 21 inches, apparently had been left unlocked, she said.

The entry was discovered at 6:45 a.m. today by a restaurant cook, Mrs. Roberta Patterson. The restaurant closed at midnight.

Tarr's General Store, Woodacre, also reported a burglary. Officers said entry was by breaking a large plate glass window. Loot included a .22 caliber revolver, a B-B pistol, shotgun shells, and B-B pellets.

Hub Trustees Set Land Sale Hearing

Trustees of the San Anselmo School District will conduct a public hearing on sale of some district property at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Isabel Cook School.

Also on the agenda is a $10,000 claim against the district brought by Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon W. Boese of 124 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, for injury suffered by Mrs. Boese and damage to their home from a falling treetop in a storm last December.

Wife, 18, Severely Injured As Car Skids On Highway

An 18-year-old San Rafael woman was severely injured when the car in which she was riding skidded off Shoreline Highway and overturned at 4:05 p.m. yesterday one-half mile north of the Bolinas county road.

Mrs. Carolyn Dukes of 224 Marin Street was thrown from the car. She was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, with multiple bruises.

Her husband, David Dukes, 20, escaped unhurt. California Highway Patrol Sgt. James C. Dukes, who investigated, said the car failed to negotiate a curve and went over an embankment.

Two youths were thrown from a motorcycle in a collision with a station wagon on Paradise Drive, one-half mile east of Trestle Glen Road, at 3:15 p.m. Saturday, and each suffered a broken right thigh bone.

Injured were Laurence Buskirk, 16, of 4420 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, driver of the motorcycle, and has passenger, Roger Warner, 15, of San Francisco.

The highway patrol reported the youths were thrown about 50 feet down an embankment when the motorcycle collided with a car driven by Mrs. Dorothy Price Kelly, 42, of 36 Seafirth Road, Tiburon.

The eastbound motorcycle was rounding a curve when it swung onto the wrong side of the road, the patrol reported.

Buskirk was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital. Warner was taken to Children's Hospital in San Francisco. The hospital refused to disclose his condition today.

A 43-year-old San Rafael man suffered a sore neck in a two-car accident on East Francisco Boulevard, north of Vivian Way, at 5:05 p.m. Saturday.

The highway patrol reported a car driven by an unidentified driver struck the rear of Lidell's car, which was stopped.

A car driven by a 16-year-old Larkspur boy crashed into a power pole beside Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, near Marin Catholic High School, in Kentfield, at 2:30 a.m. yesterday, resulting in minor injury to a passenger.

The car, driven by Robert L. Davis of 116 Ward Street, broke the pole in two places, the highway patrol reported. Steven Edward Bigelow, 15, of 300 William Avenue, Larkspur, a passenger, suffered a bump on his head. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Three persons suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Highway 101 at Luca Valley Road at 8:20 a.m. yesterday.

A car driven by Richard R. Thomas, 59, of 2000 Redwood Highway, Kentfield, collided with one driven by Ronald M. Salveson, 35, of 8 Rubicon Court, Lucas Valley, the highway patrol reported.

Three persons were injured at 10:15 p.m. yesterday when the car they were riding in careened over the Waldo Grade guardrail on Highway 101 south of Rodeo Avenue and shot across the travel lanes on the opposite side.

Denny F. Ragan, 37, and his wife, Barbara, 34, both of Millbrae, and Jacqueline Brunton, 39, of San Mateo, suffered multiple bruises. They were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Ragan's southbound car sideswiped one driven by Clifford W. Dorman, 27, of San Francisco, according to the highway patrol.

Sebastino John Russo, 50, of 100 San Carlos Way, Novato, suffered back injury in an accident at 4:10 p.m. Saturday near 1130 Simmons Lane, Novato, according to police.

Russo was driving north on Simmons Lane when his car was hit by a southbound pickup truck driven by Robert Alan Kreiger, 24, of 1941 Indian Valley Road, Novato, police reported. Russo drove into the ditch trying to avoid the accident, according to police. He was to see his own doctor.

Runaway

Corte Madera police booked a 14-year-old Corte Madera boy into juvenile hall as a runaway early Saturday. They found him walking along Tamalpais Avenue, five hours after his mother reported he walked away from her in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

WOODROW V. CAPURRO

Re-Election To Be Sought By Capurro

Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro, 45, of 79 Lincoln Avenue, San Anselmo, has taken out papers of nomination for re-election to the San Anselmo City Council.

Capurro, who was unavailable for comment today, was elected to his first term on the city council in 1962, when he defeated then councilman Carleton G. Little by seven votes. He was appointed mayor in April, 1965, and served a term as vice mayor the year before.

Capurro is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and he attended two years at College of Marin. He is a lather superintendent for Weber Plastering Co. of San Rafael. He lives with his wife, Jermaine, and two daughters, Wanda, 8, and La Lisa, 5.

Little also has entered the race for the April election.

Marincello Alternative Is Rejected

The Marin County Planning Commission today recommended against allowing a 20-acre commercial center as an alternate development in the Tennessee Valley portion of the Marincello master plan.

David Van Pelt of the county planning department said the 20 acres would be shown for single family use under a plan amendment. He said Frouge Corp. wanted the alternate to try development of motels, restaurant or motels in connection with residential uses.

MASTER PLAN

Commissioners, however, agreed that a master plan can be changed through the application and hearing process and establishing an alternate would give one portion of the land a special designation.

Mrs. Jean Barnard of Mill Valley asked what "constant" these questioning the plan can rely on if it is constantly subject to change.

Planning Director Paul Zucker answered that there is nothing to prevent a property owner from requesting a change of zone. "You just have to hope that the planning commission and the board of supervisors are on the right side."

Only uses other than single residential to be allowed in Tennessee Valley, according to the commission's recommendation today, will be 10 acres for an elementary school and eight to 10 acres for a neighborhood shopping center.

OTHER PLANS

The commission also recommended that the commercial area adjacent to Sausalito, where a hilltop hotel is planned, be retained, and that the 164 acres for business and professional development and light industry remain along the southern boundary of the planned community, adjacent to the proposed headlands state park.

These recommendations will be considered by county supervisors tomorrow afternoon.

The commission put off until March 7 consideration of a proposed access through the Bunker Hill Road route, covenants that would assure development as proposed, and a request for an additional 4.5 acres of commercial zoning.

The bid for additional commercial zone was heard by the commission for the first time today. Van Pelt said the developer wants to locate a sales office and restaurant on a knoll halfway down toward the bottom of the Marincello bowl.

Students Are Cleared In Syrup Bottles Find

Sheriff's officers today continued their investigation of reported use of marijuana on campus at Tamalpais High School but cleared students of any connection with some 30 bottles of habit-forming cough syrup found in an abandoned snack bar nearby.

Deputy William Bradford, who had the restaurant, the Canteen, under surveillance for the past two weeks, said the bottles were purchased and the contents consumed by Robert Duane Bryant, a former tenant for several months.

He said the syrup, containing codeine phosphate, was purchased at various Mill Valley and Tiburon pharmacies. No prescription is required, he added, but the buyer must sign for each purchase.

Bradford said there is evidence that teen-agers have been using the building as a "party pad" since Bryant and his wife moved out, but there was no sign of marijuana use. He said only a few cigarette butts were found, and none warranted an analysis for marijuana content.

The building, south of the school parking lot, was declared off-limits to students and went out of business. Bradford said Bryant apparently leased it from the owner, Blanda Telander, 75, of 5 Homestead Boulevard, Homestead Valley.

Mrs. Telander today said Bryant and "a beatnik friend" lived in the building for a year. She said they left behind the box spring and innerspring mattress which are in the building—as well as the litter of cough syrup bottles.

Robert H. Prather, principal of Tamalpais High, said he has asked the county health department to order the abandoned building to be destroyed as a nuisance.

Asked what she planned to do with the building, Mrs. Telander said he hoped to sell it.

The investigation followed a report by a 17-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl of use of marijuana and the drug, LSD, on campus by several students. Sheriff's juvenile officers and the State Narcotics Bureau said they will question 11 students—including eight girls—whose names she supplied.

Harvey Teague, juvenile inspector, said today he talked with the girl's mother Friday, but has not yet queried the students. He also said he will attempt to have the building "boarded up."

McCarthy Files Candidacy Intent

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, was first candidate to declare an intent of candidacy with the Marin County clerk's office, as filing period for legislative candidates opened today.

Senator McCarthy is seeking re-election from the new Fourth District, which includes Solano and Napa counties as well as Marin.

Three Reports On Vandalism

Three cases of vandalism on one block of Bella Vista Avenue, Belvedere, between 10 a.m. and midnight Saturday, were reported to Belvedere police yesterday.

Henry Balcom of 136 Bella Vista found the license plate bent on his car and a light fixture in a tree ripped loose. Next door, at 140 Bella Vista, Dr. Ivan Bronstein reported his car window smashed.

At 172 Bella Vista, home of Wallace Marinko, two lights were broken on the garage and a railing was smashed on the carport.

Wreck Blocks Span Traffic

A three-car, rear-end collision in the Funston Tunnel south of the Golden Gate Bridge at 4:10 p.m. yesterday tied up southbound traffic on Highway 101 for more than three hours and caused several more minor collisions.

The accident occurred when Ernest Leroy Grabstein, 32, of San Francisco, stopped with traffic in the southbound lane of the tunnel, the California Highway Patrol reported.

No one was injured.

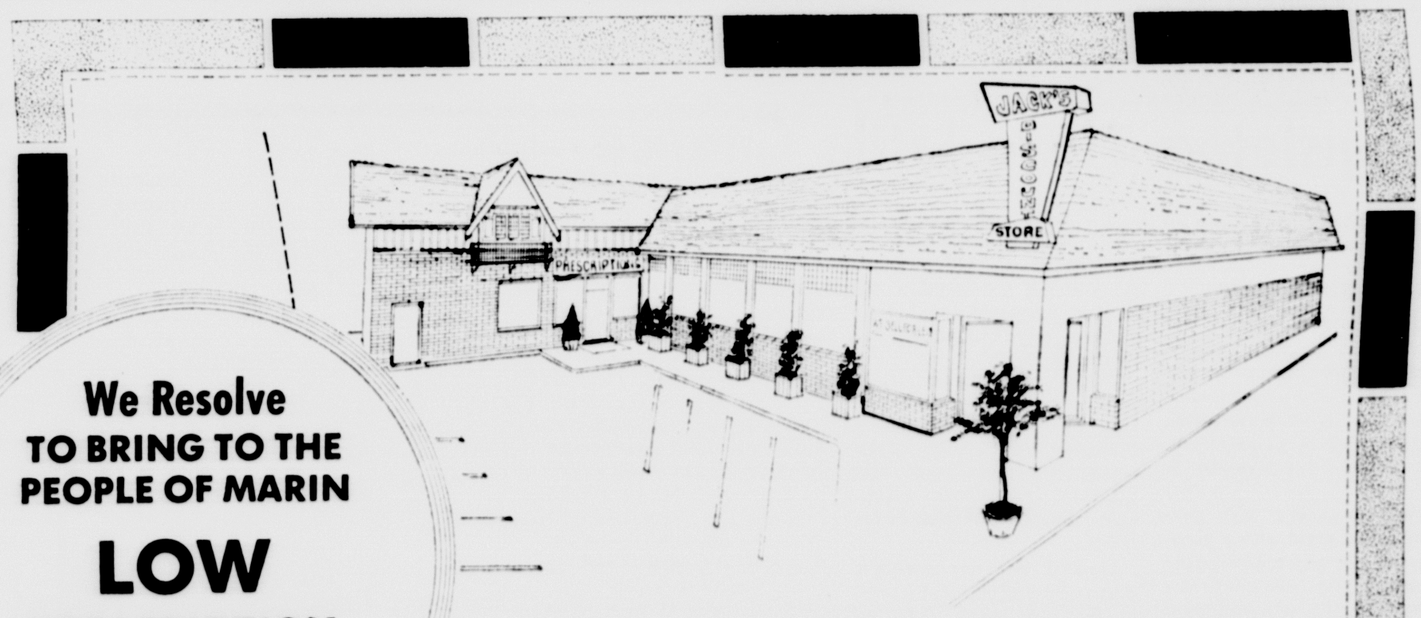
Dog Bites

Kenneth Fuetsch, 11, of 3 Hickory Avenue, Corte Madera, was bitten on the leg by a dog at 534 Tamalpais Avenue, Corte Madera, as he walked his paper route Saturday afternoon. The dog belongs to Ralph E. Bliss of that address, police reported.

Route Man Wanted For Questioning

Novato police today sought Roger Herbert Hilton, 21, who formerly lived at 897 Eucalyptus Avenue, Novato, for questioning in an alleged shortage in funds from his dry-cleaning route.

Elmo A. Sasselli of 825 Atherton Avenue, proprietor of Orchid Cleaners at 1531 South Novato Boulevard, told police Hilton operated a cleaning pickup route for him in December. He vanished, said Sasselli, and unaccounted for is more than $500 of the company's money from the route.



We Resolve
TO BRING TO THE PEOPLE OF MARIN
LOW PRESCRIPTION PRICES

The high drug costs of today are a serious money problem to many families, especially to those with fixed income and those with chronic illnesses. As a solution to this problem we apply modern methods to the prescription department by selling at low prices, thus producing volume sales. This decreases costs and overhead. The result will be low prices for you, and we believe a low cost prescription service is just what the public wants.

HERE'S WHY WE CAN DO IT:

1. We have reduced our overhead by closing at 6:00 p.m. every day—a saving which we pass on to you.
2. We own our building and parking lot—there is no rent to pay — a saving which we pass on to you.
3. Ours is a self-service store—serve yourself and save—a saving which we pass on to you.
4. We do a big business—we buy in big volume, thus we buy at a lower cost—a saving which we pass on to you.
5. We buy from a discount-store wholesaler in San Francisco (the only drug store in Marin having this privilege). Again we buy at a lower cost—a saving which we pass on to you.
6. Our employees have all been with us many years—they are happy here and they try harder—thus a saving by efficient operation—a saving which we pass on to you.
7. In many drug stores the profit from the prescription department carries the "front end" of the store—not so at JACK'S. We do a big volume of business in the "front end" of our store—stop in to see our low prices and great variety of merchandise and you will understand why—another saving which we pass on to you.
8. Last but not least, we just plain take a smaller mark-up on merchandise and on prescriptions—a saving which we pass on to you.

We MEET or BEAT any prescription price. We will NOT be undersold

We can refill any refillable prescription regardless of where it was originally filled. We will be happy to call your physician for his authorization.

Next time you need a prescription try us just once and find out for yourself about

If you have had any problems with prescription service or prices elsewhere please be assured that I will consider it a privilege to discuss them with you personally.
Sincerely,
William J. Meiners

Parallel Parking Solves Just One Traffic Problem

The controversy over parallel parking for San Rafael's Fourth Street was a heated one, but the decision is made, and we are confident that the community will be better for it.

Bravo to the San Rafael city fathers, who brought the matter up on their own initiative and then stuck to their guns despite stiff opposition from some merchants and others.

The business district should benefit from the smoother flow of traffic and from the shopper appeal that a "widened" street will offer. And this benefit will extend to all taxpayers in the city because greater shopper appeal will bring in more sales tax revenue to meet the expenses of running city government.

Individual drivers who are less than experts at wheeling their cars into parallel spaces may be somewhat inconvenienced. But even they should be compensated by less street congestion.

And offstreet spaces with angle parking are available in city parking lots just a block or two away from main street. The upper deck on the offstreet lot at Third Street and Lootens Place will probably get better usage.

San Rafael has come a long way in facing up to its traffic problems. Entrance and exit at Highway 101 have been improved, and the initial phase of the one-way street program is operating satisfactorily.

Now is the time to start pushing ahead for the next phase of the one-way street program — providing one way traffic on Fifth and Mission avenues.

This second phase will be more difficult because the streets will need widening, especially Mission Avenue behind St. Raphael's Church.

If we allow this obstacle to serve as an excuse for procrastination, San Rafael may have to wait for another 10 years before any expansion is forthcoming on the present one-way pattern.

The same type of forthright and decisive action shown in converting Fourth Street to parallel parking is needed to complete the one-way pattern that is on the city's drawing board —to make Fifth one-way eastbound, and Mission one-way westbound.

Other suggestions have been advanced, such as one-way cross streets running north and south to provide traffic "loops." Whether these are feasible, we must await traffic engineers to determine.

Much has been accomplished in the past few years, but more remains to be done if the San Rafael's downtown is to compete effectively with the growth of outlying shopping areas.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Legislators Have Little Chance To Consider Budget In Detail

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — As the budget adoption process gets underway again for another year, one is reminded again what a surface-scratching operation it is, as far as the California legislature is concerned.

The lawmakers were presented this week with a document of more than 1,500 pages in small print, detailing proposals of the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown for spending in the year which runs from July 1, 1966, to June 30, 1967.

Under provisions of the constitution, the legislature must complete its action on the budget within 30 working days. After a recess of that session for committee work, it's expected the budget will be up for adoption toward the end of March.

WHAT THIS means, in actual operation, is that about 30 legislators from the two houses' financial committees will be spending part of the time for some 30 days or less, and the full membership of the two houses will spend a couple of days in floor debate on the document.

This is a document that thousands of state workers have spent several months in preparing and the big team of financial experts in the department of finance have spent considerable time in refining.

Thus it becomes apparent that the sheer physical nature of the task must limit the scrutiny given the budget by the legislature. One top administration aide remarked some time ago that the cries from the press and public for economy in government are somewhat misdirected.

This official pointed out that the only real economy in government would have to start at the lower levels, by the individual office, in fact, and this is not a very likely possibility under the civil service system.

MUCH OF THE budget, of course, is presented to the lawmakers only for review purposes as the legislature has no authority to alter the appropriations. This is true of the more than $650 million in the budget for highway construction.

Millions more are spent under special formulae, such as the constitutional requirement that provides how much money must be spent for each child in the public schools. Millions more are spent in conjunction with federal programs and are tied to federal formulae.

All of which is why, when the final budget is adopted, it likely will vary from the one introduced by only a matter of a few million dollars. The state administration, like the federal one, no doubt will be in with some requests for augmentations to proposals in the budget.

Under this plan, the budget often is approved finally in a higher amount than it was submitted, although the legislature is not necessarily to blame.

SOME INDICATION of the complexity of the budget process is the fact that Hale Champion, director of finance, and his experts, do not feel a total figure for the budget even should be used as it is not realistic.

They point out that some money in the budget (this year about $20 million) is for the payment of principal on bonds and the bond funds were listed in earlier budgets as expenditure.

By the same token, although this was not pointed out by Champion, the budget is listed as a $4.6 billion document but actually calls for expenditure of another $500 million or so in federal funds for capital outlay program. Thus the budget could be termed a $5.5 billion spending program.

There are carry-overs of millions of dollars that are budgeted for a year but remain unspent and then must be listed again in the following year. Despite these inconsistencies, the press always has insisted upon some total figure.

Otherwise, it would be impossible to make any comparisons with previous years and the taxpayer would have even less of an idea of where his money is going.

Unpaid Experts In Marin City Meet

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Wednesday, Jan. 26, made reference to "the Supervisors had hired a foundation to station some experts in the audience during the first meeting. . . . The hired experts met supervisors in a private 'critique' session."

I was not aware that anyone had been hired by the Board and upon checking on this point, learned that in fact no money was expended for anyone to sit in the audience at either of the Marin City hearings.

Members of a foundation with wide experience in problems similar to those which we have in Marin City were asked to be in the audience and to give us the benefit of their experience in our attempting to arrive at proper decisions regarding Marin City. I certainly would not consider these people to be spies or sneaky or something that the Board would be ashamed of. They were there in what we considered to be the best interests of the county. They were not paid; they were of help in assisting us to arrive at a decision.

Dystrophy Drive On For Trading Stamps

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The newly formed Muscular Dystrophy Association Auxiliary of Marin is conducting a drive for Blue Chip Stamps, to be used for the purchase of specialized hospital equipment for the free use of the 32 afflicted children in Marin.

The financial burden of caring for these children is tremendous. We hope to be able to ease this somewhat by making available this specially built equipment.

Any amount of stamps may be mailed to 626 Vendola Drive, San Rafael, California. Anyone interested in joining our group of volunteers may contact membership chairman, Mrs. Hans Hartmann, at the same address.

Marin General Rates Under Fire

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Every time Marin General Hospital ups the room rates, it does for higher wages. Why don't they come right out and say it is for higher wages instead of upkeep for the hospital.

I don't see how the directors can live on $22,800 per year, as must the taxpayers live on much less and still have to pay higher room rates and higher taxes. But still somehow we get by. Of course we can't live as high as some can.

Concert, Lecture Group Gives Thanks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the College of Marin Concert and Lecture Committee, I wish to express my thanks to you and the members of your staff for the fine support given to bringing the San Francisco Symphony to the college for the Feb. 5 performance. We especially appreciate your brief editorial in the Feb. 4 issue of the Independent-Journal which encouraged the music loving citizens of the county to respond to this program. I believe that this and two other mentions of the Symphony in the same paper helped to boost sales during the last day.

We have always been appreciative at the college for your bringing our Concert and Lecture program to the attention of the citizens of Marin. I especially recall your editorial of Feb. 2, 1965, just a year ago, entitled "College Concert, Lecture Series on Firm Ground." I believe that our Concert and Lecture program is definitely moving toward a confirmation of this statement.

Thank you again for giving our program a fine assist. We at the college appreciate it, as I am sure do the citizens of Marin County.

Referring to the column To Be Equal:

It has been well said: "Equal men are not free, and free men are not equal".

Longtime Bus Stop Going

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It may interest you to know that Greyhound is quietly planning to curtail its commute service to Marin by cutting out long established bus stops. For example, it is presently planning to abandon a long-established stop at the Reedlands on its line from San Francisco to Tiburon giving as its reason the argument that the new four-lane Tiburon Highway does not permit them to stop safely at that point. Apparently, Greyhound is not concerned with a much greater danger of depositing passengers at a point considerably down the highway requiring them to walk back along the heavily traveled route.

It is obvious that this is another effort on the part of a public carrier to curtail its service in such a manner as to discourage passengers from using the service with the ultimate purpose of abandoning the commute service altogether.

ENDLESS are the adventures that may befall an intrepid golfer as, regardless of weather or obstacles, he plods doggedly around the links. Take the case of Rex Bartlett, for example, as told by Fred Beck in his highly amusing "89 Years in a Sand Trap." Mr. Bartlett was leading the field in an interclub tourney in California until he bounced an approach shot into a bowl of mustard on a hot dog stand. Or the plight of Carl Boies, a pro in Texas. Playing under the old rule that provided no player may touch his ball until he has holed out, Boies drove his ball into a sea of icky mud. He played out manfully, splattering himself and the gallery with mud in the process, and, miraculously, landed smack on the green.

He carefully stroked his ball toward the cup ten feet away when, alas, he discovered that the ball was stuck firmly to the blade of his putter!

'Smell Of War' Means Inflation, According To Economic Advisors

By STERLING F. GREEN
(James Marlow is ill)

WASHINGTON (AP)—"There is a smell of war in the air," remarked Dr. Otto Eckstein, just-resigned member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The smell of war begins the remembrance of inflation. The remembrance can make people behave as if inflation were already here.

So they may rush to buy, before prices go higher. They may hasten to build, before building costs go up. They may place big orders for materials because no businessman dare be caught in an inflated market with his inventories down.

AND UNION leaders — if they think the smell of war is strong enough — may demand big wage boosts before wages can be frozen.

It's all called hedging against inflation. It can make a big inflation out of a little one, or even start an inflation where there isn't any.

All the aspects of what scholars call "the expectation of inflation" probably were in Dr. Eckstein's mind when he made his remark about the smell of war.

For the economist was making the point that inflation really isn't necessary. He was participating as a private citizen—and a distinguished professor at Harvard—in a panel discussion on the hazards and prevention of inflation. Naturally his views coincided with those of his former colleagues on the President's council.

At the height of the planned Viet Nam buildup, Dr. Eckstein pointed out, military spending will take just 7.6 per cent of the national output instead of the 7.5 per cent it has been taking.

NO CIVILIAN shortages are foreseen. Despite a tightening labor market, the stepping-up of draft calls still won't reduce joblessness to the long-sought minimum called "full employment." And there will still be a little slack left in manufacturing plant capacity.

Congress meantime is grinding out a short-term tax law to sop up excess buying power, and the money managers are squeezing down the money and credit supply.

And the administration has reaffirmed, as its underlying anti-inflation weapons, the voluntary wage-price guidelines. These have helped for four years to moderate labor's wage settlements and industry's price decisions.

IN THEORY, one could hardly disagree with Dr. Eckstein's view that inflation needn't happen. Actually many do disagree, and some of them are economists every bit as distinguished as he.

Said Dr. Burns, in effect:

The tax-boosting and credit-squeezing are correct moves, but they come too late to offset the mistake already made.

"We've been manufacturing money at a very rapid rate, and that is what has been pushing prices up," he said.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — While President Johnson seems to have an inexhaustible list of costly new programs and projects to send to Congress, his record is very different when it comes to filling key offices in the steadily expanding federal structure.

On this crucial administrative necessity, his batting is in a deep slump.

Important vacancies abound on every hand. Virtually every department and major agency is awaiting the appointment of one or more key officials, in some instances for as long as six months.

A glaring example is the comptroller general — who heads the big General Accounting Office that checks on government spending and operations. Although a 15-year appointment and the last incumbent, Joseph Campbell, quit last summer because of poor health, for some unexplained reason no successor has been named.

FROM TIME TO TIME, administration insiders have indicated that Representative Jack Brooks, D-Tex., close friend of the President, is slated for the job. But the White House has remained silent, and the place is still unfilled.

In some cases the top-level vacancies have had definite adverse effect. That is what happened to the Small Business Administration.

It has been without a head since last September when Eugene Foley was made assistant secretary of commerce for economic development. In October, on White House orders, SBA funds (around $160 million) were frozen to provide emergency loans for disasters resulting from the widespread ravages of Hurricane Betsy and Midwest floods.

Since then, loan applications from small businessmen have piled up unheeded.

VARIOUS REASONS are being advanced for the exceptional number of high-level vacancies, and the President's seeming inertia in filling them.

Most frequently heard in White House circles is the claim that prospects with the desired qualifications are loath to give up big-paying private jobs for government salaries. Assertedly, eagerly-sought possibilities time and again refuse to be persuaded to accept proffered appointments.

In other quarters it is contended the problem is not as simple as that. They hold that often it's a matter of merit versus politics; that well-qualified prospects are available, but don't meet the President's political criteria.

In 1964 the President directed Civil Service Chairman John Macy to submit recommendations for important vacancies as they developed. Macy has done this conscientiously and with high-minded objectivity. His lists have been top quality.

But from the number of long-pending vacancies, it would appear that Macy's recommendations may have been of the best, but in vain.

IN CONGRESS strong suspicions have developed that President Johnson is planning to shift the Small Business Administration to the Commerce Department under recently named Assistant Secretary Eugene Foley, former head of SBA.

George Burger, vice president of the National Federation of Independent Business, wrote the President asking for assurance that SBA "will not be merged or consolidated with any other federal agency." President Kennedy, Burger noted, gave such a promise.

Is to write a bad book, get it published and then have somebody ban it.

When it comes to mean tricks, no one is more guillible than I am.

Unless it is John J. Merganzer who bought an airline ticket for Philadelphia and ended up in Siam.

When they told him it was actually Thailand he began to holler ('cause here he stood with an open collar.)

Knowing full well that you cannot tell a book by its cover,

One usually likes novels by the British,

But that was one I could not finish.

Recently I invested in Jack Kerouac.

Now I want my money back.

I think herewith, whereas and therefore that whenever anyone bans a book, or thinks he should,

We insist it be good.

Surely banning a book makes it wider read

I have often argued that for good results

Shakespeare should be banned for both students and adults.

Though Hamlet never ups and says he loves his ma,

Fie on those who say he's only trying to jest with us.

There is only one word for it, and I hope you will forgive me for saying so, but it's incestuous.

Even drop-outs would read all 37 plays and every sonnet.

It would also provide readers considerable excitement.

We would have to meet in secret to avoid indictment.

We could form cells for secret reading,

And if the FBI agents or members of the House Un-American Activities Committee asked questions, we could smile and be misleading.

We could out birch the Birch Society.

What we should call ourselves I cannot say.

It should be cryptic like "P-TA."

These fellows have been publishing books for years

Those who remember the Spanish Inquisition will recall how Christians tried to ban the Torah

Anyhow after about 200 years the Christians all said they were very sorrah.

Not only had the book multiplied far beyond anyone's wildest estimate.

Civic Center's Portrait Adorns State Report

Inside the book, it appears that Marin was among the leaders in increase of assessed valuation.

Only four counties showed higher rates of increase: San Mateo County, a whopping 33.67 per cent; Ventura County, 18.04 per cent; Mariposa County, 14.47 per cent, and Shasta County, 13.82 per cent. State-wide average increase was 7 per cent.

Personnel Commission Sets Complaint Airing

The Marin County Personnel Commission will meet at 11 a.m. March 1 at the Civic Center to hear a complaint of Walter R. Noll of the county department of public works.

Noll claims a de facto demotion through an adjustment in engineering classifications which put him in the lower of two grades after he had been in the middle of a three-grade classification.

Only Columnist Can Make Final Decision On War In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — The Vietnamese war has called for some agonizing decisions, but none has been more agonizing than those which have to be made by the Washington political columnists.

Although they can seek out the advice of everyone, including the President of the United States, they alone can make the final decision as to what we should do in Southeast Asia.

This burden weighs heavily on each Washington pundit, and every morning, as the people of the world wake up from another fitful night of sleep, they look to the Washington columnists for the solution to the thorny problems that confront us all.

As I walked into the office of Joseph Wallstop, the widely read syndicated columnist, I saw him silhouetted against the window, bent over a map of the world. I thought to myself how lonely his job must be and how great the risks he must take every day in his column.

HE INVITED me to sit down.

"I'm going to have to call up the reserves tomorrow."

"So soon?" I said.

"I don't see how we can do it any other way. As you know, I was against the peace offensive from the start. I warned the President not to do it. Since he would not take my advice, I see no other choice but to get this country on a war footing."

"But Mr. Wallstop, the President promised us guns and butter," I pleaded.

"He obviously didn't read my column of Oct. 1,2 1965, where I pointed out that the only thing the Communists understood was force.

"TO UNDERSTAND this war, you must understand what happened in the Tang dynasty of 987 B.C. The situation was exactly similar except that the Tangs thought they could do business with the Yangs. They found out differently. I hope we're not going to go the way of the Tangs."

"I hope so, too. But how can we avoid it?"

"We must bomb more expensive targets, we must burn bridges and rice fields, oil depots and railroad yards, and we must escalate the escalation. It's all here in my piece of Nov. 26th."

"Aren't you afraid of a war with China?"

"Afraid? I'd welcome it. I declared war on China in 1947 and Congress turned me down. Well, the United States pussyfooted for almost 20 years and where did it get us? No one has ever accused me of trying to prevent a war or win a peace."

"Would you advocate using nuclear weapons in South Viet Nam.

"SPARINGLY. We don't want to win the war and lose the natives. I would'nt use nuclear weapons against the terrorists in Saigon, for example, but once you get out in the boondocks I think you should use everything you've got."

"Mr. Wallstop, you've advised four Presidents since World War II on how to handle world affairs. How would you say they did?"

"They all let me down sooner or later.

"Under our present form of government, I can only advise a President what to do; I can't make him do it. I believe this is the weakness in our Constitution."

"HOW DO YOU think President Johnson shapes up compared to the others?"

"It's too early to tell yet. If he follows my recommendations, he'll be a great President. If he doesn't, he'll have only himself to blame."

"Suppose he doesn't call up the reserves."

Mr. Wallstop looked at me with his firm jaw jutting out and said, "Then I'll have to call them up myself."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

All you'd lose would be your freedom . . .

Newspapers are familiar things, but extremely dangerous. They're dangerous to any kind of government that operates in secrecy. They're dangerous to corruption in high places. They're dangerous to those who would use public concerns for private ends.

But they don't LOOK dangerous . . .

They appear, as does the Independent-Journal, to be a journal of events. They tell you of Congress, of Viet Nam, of births, health and education, of fashions and business, of politics, a charity drive—a thousand things. Newspapers APPEAR so familiar because you see them every day. And they're written by people who don't look dangerous at all.

But don't be fooled. The news is a lot more than it seems. It arms you with something more powerful than any government, any weapon, any faction. It arms you with the ONE thing which alone can protect your freedoms—the simple act of KNOWING what government is doing, from city hall to national capitol. It puts in your hands the means to correct, to change, to ward off any encroachment on the democratic process.

The I-J is part of this ever-flowing stream it information. Our reporters sit in for you at the inner councils — and make them public. They extend your eyes and ears to any meeting where the public concern is at stake. With pad and pencil they take you across the critical thresholds of knowledge . . . turning acts into the unmistakable fact of print.

This is why newspapers are dangerous things to have around . . . in anything but a free society.

This is why, if you would be free, the press MUST BE FREE to serve and preserve the laws of freedom.

As you read your newspaper, take a second look: Is it really just a journal of events? Or is it perhaps a Bill of Rights, printed daily, affirming even your liberty to read?

Driver Injured On Waldo Grade

William C. Phillips, 21, of San Francisco, suffered multiple cuts at 3:30 a.m. Saturday when he fell asleep at the wheel of his 1965 Corvair and careened into an embankment at the side of Highway 101 on the Waldo Grade.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Phillips was driving south when he fell asleep near the Spencer Avenue interchange. Phillips was driving at about 60 miles per hour when the mishap occurred, reported the CHP.

He was treated and released from Marin General Hospital.

Drunken Driving Fines Imposed

Richard Eugene Punchak, 31, San Francisco, was given a suspended $250 fine on condition that he pay $150, and placed on six months probation Friday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

He was arrested Tuesday by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

William John Zunkel, 29, of 802 Chamberlain Court, Mill Valley, was fined $300 and placed on six months probation, also for drunken driving. He was arrested Wednesday by sheriff's officers on Tiburon Boulevard.

School District Told Joint Venture Is Out

There is no authority which would empower Mill Valley and Sausalito School Districts to enter a joint building project, Thomas G. Hendricks, deputy county counsel, has informed the Mill Valley district. His letter is on the Mill Valley board of trustees agenda at its 8 p.m. meeting today in the district office.

The board will also hear a report on the traffic situation adjacent to Park School at East Blithedale and Elm Avenue, following questions of trustee William P. Everts Jr. for investigation of drivers running the stop-light.

About 41 per cent of women who had ever been married were first married before their 20th birthday, the Census Bureau reports.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

In certain cities a person can obtain facts on normal nutrition by dialing the regional dietetic association. An answering service records the query with the caller's name, address, and telephone number. The questions are referred to a dietician and the individual gets the answer within 24 to 48 hours.

The organization answers only questions dealing with normal nutrition and dietary modifications. They do not prescribe diets used in treating obesity, diabetes, peptic ulcer, or other medical conditions.

DETAILED DIETARY instructions are avoided by phone. They also answer questions on the health value of foods, food preservation and sanitation, and how to modify or substitute edibles in a therapeutic regimen. They do not recommend any one retailer or brand and usually include the names of three of the best.

According to the Journal of the American Dietetic Assn., the response has been successful and educational. The association also is obtaining information on the dietetic knowledge of the inhabitants in cities where dial-a-dietician is available.

After analyzing 3,415 questions they found that they could be categorized. The most numerous queries were on food composition followed by those in dietary modification, food sanitation and preparation, and food in relation to health and metabolism.

There were 10 categories in all and the questions varied considerably.

The middle class, unemployed homemaker was the most frequent caller. The society found that newspaper columns were the best media to publicize the service.

THE MAJORITY of calls come from persons interested in losing weight. They asked for literature on weight reduction or caloric charts. In contrast, there was little concern about vitamins, fat, cholesterol, and polyunsaturated fatty acids.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

RINSE REACTION

Mrs. S. Q. writes: Could allergy to a hair rinse cause the neck glands to swell? This has been happening for six months.

REPLY

Infections of the scalp may lead to enlargement of lymph glands in the neck, but it is questionable whether allergy would do the same. Why not change to another rinse or stop using your present product and see what happens? Should glandular enlargement continue, the condition should be investigated by a physician.

FOOT PAIN

P. P. H. writes: How can a person determine whether foot pain is caused by hardening of the arteries or fallen arches?

REPLY

An untrained person might have difficulty in differentiating between the two causes. Accurate diagnosis requires an evaluation of the circulation and arches of the foot.

NOT NEEDED

K. J. writes: Will the coccyx be missed after it is removed because of severe pain?

REPLY

No. Humans have no use for a tailbone and never miss this vestigial structure after its removal. On the other hand, the pain in this area may not disappear after the bone is removed.

LIVER DISEASES

M. G. writes: What can be done for liver disease?

REPLY

Feed it with a diet rich in proteins and carbohydrates and protect the liver from harm by avoiding toxic agents such as alcohol. Your physician may wish to prescribe amino acids such as methionine or choline.

SMOKE IRRITATES

W. V. D. writes: My husband and I are nonsmokers. I would like to know if "second-hand smoke" is dangerous? We often find ourselves in a smoke filled room.

REPLY

No, because it is diluted. On the other hand, I have been in "smoke filled rooms" that are so dense, my eyes burn and tear, coughing occurs and my head aches.

WE WONDER

K. G. writes: Are the new drugs for tuberculosis classed as wonder drugs?

REPLY

No, even tho they are excellent antibacterial products. The term "wonder drugs" was coined by science writers and applied chiefly to the sulfonamides and penicilin, which still retain their priority rank.

HAIR STRAIGHTENING

Carol writes: Some girls iron their hair to make it straight. Is there any harm in doing this?

REPLY

Yes, if the shaft or scalp is burned.

Coin Boxes Raided

Corte Madera police found yesterday that thieves had broken open coin boxes on two newspaper racks, each of which displays three newspapers, in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

Tax Agent Slated To Discuss IRS

Marin County tax consultant Joseph S. Rasonsky, a former Internal Revenue Service agent, will talk on the service's practices at the Fairfax Lions Club dinner meeting at Deer Park Villa, Fairfax, Feb. 24 at 7 p.m.

Rasonsky testified last week before a U.S. Senate subcommittee in San Francisco investigating wiretapping and electronic snooping by law enforcement agencies.

Included in his address at the dinner meeting will be a discussion of why a citizen's tax returns are pulled for an audit.

County Board To Ask Rehabilitation Fund

The Marin County Board of Education will hold a special meeting at the Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. today to consider application for a state financed vocational rehabilitation program.

The rehabilitation would be provided in San Rafael and Tamalpais High School Districts and Novato Unified School District. The State Department of rehabilitation would provide $13,892 for the last three months of this fiscal year and $98,034 next fiscal year. Much of this aid would be in terms of time spent by workers from the State Department of Rehabilitation, according to Kenneth W. Lowry, administrative consultant in the county schools office.

Jewish Welfare

The 1966 campaign of the Jewish Welfare Federation of San Francisco, Marin County and the peninsula will be launched March 1 and aimed at a target of $2,700,000 to support health and welfare agencies at home and abroad.

Lip Reading Class

A class in lip reading for Marinites above the age of 50 will begin Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. at the San Rafael Recreation Center, Second and Brooks streets. College of Marin's adult education division is sponsor of the course, to be taught by Mrs. Jean Hartley.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Gleason Coming Back In Color With Art Carney At His Side

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —A reuniting with Art Carney on a regular series basis has helped persuade Jackie Gleason to return to his weekly CBS-TV show next season after he had announced he would take a hiatus "to work on new ideas."

A statement yesterday from Miami, Gleason's base of operations, said he would star "in a completely new comedy variety series," in color. His programs now appear in black-and-white. Gleason siad:

"In a much shorter span of time than I thought possible, we came up with a new concept. What's more important, I've got a whale of a guy to work with (Carney) . . . we'll be announcing details very soon."

Reached by telephone in Miami, Gleason's executive producer, Jack Philbin, said that the details of the "new concept" probably would center around a three-pronged approach to the weekly show:

About one-third of the season's 30 programs, he said, probably will be full-hour versions of the old Gleason-Carney-Audrey Meadows "Honeymooners" series, either in straight comedy or musical form.

Another third or so of the season's programs, said Philbin, probably will be full-hour original musical-comedy satire efforts, another idea recently tried out by the Gleason show in its attempts to combat the tough ratings competition of NBC-TV's "Flipper" series.

The remaining third of the Gleason programs, said the executive producer, probably will be straight, standard "sketch-variety-girlie revue" type hours. In short, barring changes, the "new" series will be essentially what the Gleason show has been in recent weeks, except for the apparent added number of "Honeymooners" outings.

Philbin said Carney currently is committed to do at least 20 of next season's shows, adding: "I'd love to use him for 30, and so would Jackie." The producer said there had also been discussions with Miss Meadows, and there was no definite answer, "but she indicated she'd like to do four or five shows", depending on whether she can arrange her family life to make it possible.

FBI Fumbled Arrest, Spy Says

MOSCOW (AP)—Col. Rudolph Abel, former Soviet master spy in the United States, says fumbles by FBI agents allowed him to ditch a recorded radio message from Moscow and a decoder while he was being arrested.

Abel was convicted in 1957 but exchanged five years later for U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Writing in Moscovsky Komsomolets, a youth newspaper, Abel said he had contact with Moscow the night before his arrest and the equipment was still in his hotel room when six FBI agents arrived.

While a careless FBI man was supposed to watch him, Abel claimed, he dropped the decoder down a toilet, then used the tape recording to wipe an artist's palette and flushed the tape down, too. While a spy in New York he had posed as an artist.

Short Hair Edict For Athletes

It may be getting harder to tell the boys from the girls these days, but at Redwood High School it's going to be easy to tell the athletes from the rest of the student body.

Haircuts must be "brushing length," the coaching staff has ruled. This means "hair too short to be combed out," the staff said. The traditional short haircut for athletes had grown longer and longer, prompting the rule.

Members of the Redwood Letterman Club must keep short haircuts for the remainder of the year or face expulsion from the club.

Britain Losing Protectorate

LONDON (AP)—The machinery for dismantling the British Empire slipped smoothly into gear again today to prepare the way for independence for the 550,000 Africans of Bechuanaland.

The constitutional conference that opened at Malborough House was expected to be one of the quietest as well as one of the last of its kind.

Barring accidents, by Sept. 30 the Bechuanaland protectorate will become the Independent Republic of Botswana, with Seretse Khama, now its prime minister, as its first president.

Strongarm Men Steal Cash

Charles E. Sheehan of 54 Park Drive, San Anselmo, reported to sheriff's deputies Saturday that he was robbed of $75 when he stopped at a restaurant in Richmond at 1:30 a.m.

Sheehan said five or six men pushed him around when he stopped at the Slick Chick restaurant, just on the Richmond side of the Richmond-San Rafael bridge. They took his wallet containing $50 and also took $25 from his pants pocket, he said.

Supervisors To Study Marincello Revisions

They will discuss revisions in the Marincello master plan, the master plan and zoning for the Dias Ranch, the general problem of housing density in planned community zones and agricultural preserves for Marin.

Planning matters will come up in the afternoon session, which starts at 1:30 p.m.

The planned community zoning proposed for the 170-acre Dias Ranch was earlier held up by the board, pending submission of the master plan for the property.

The planning commission has approved a master plan with considerable cluster housing and a density of 3.41 units per acre.

Amendments to be considered for the Marincello Master Plan are deletion of multiple zoning from the Tamalpais Valley portion of the planned community and study of some other location for business and professional and light industrial use now shown next to the proposed headlands state park.

Supervisors will also consider deletion of commercial zoning next to Sausalito city limits.

At 11 a.m. tomorrow, the board will again hold a public hearing on the future width lines of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield, between Laurel Grove Avenue and the Ross town limits.

Logging Men Reject Park Plan

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—President Johnson's proposed national redwood park in northern California has been unanimously rejected by 1,200 delegates to the 17th annual Sierra-Cascade Logging Conference.

The delegates adopted a resolution Saturday which said federal purchases of any more redwood forests would upset local economy. It said "sizable and very suitable" redwood forests already were under public ownership.

David M. Williams of the U.S. Plywood Corp., Redding, was elected the 1966-67 president of the conference. Other officers selected were Tom Taylor of Northfork, vice president, and L. D. aWmobold of Redding, secretary-treasurer.

Face Injury

Miyoka Perter, 8, of 96 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley, was reported improved and in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with face and chest injuries suffered Friday when she fell from a bicycle near her home and hit a post.

Drysdale, Mays Exchange Barbs At Baseball Banquet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays and Don Drysdale, enemies on the diamond, traded friendly compliments last night at the annual banquet of the San Francisco Baseball Writers.

Drysdale, the ace right-handed pitcher of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, even suggested that the San Francisco center fielder was worth $200,000 a year. Willie just Friday had signed a two-year pact believed to call for $125,000 per season.

The repartee proved a hit of the show and started when Willie said, "His pitches sometimes come a little close. I'm not saying he's trying to hit me. He just wants to let me know he's out there . . . like I can't see him."

Mays added, "We didn't lose the pennant last season, the Dodgers won it."

Drysdale was honored by the writers and presented the Joe Cronin Award as the native California player of the year, while Mays was named the "Man of the Year" for 1965.

Casey Stengel was presented the Walter Judge Memorial Award, honoring the late baseball writer of the San Francisco Examiner, in recognition of Casey's 50 years in baseball as player and manager.

Stengel referred to Mays as one of the greatest center fielders in baseball history and recalled humorously his own dilemmas in trying to stop Willie's batting and watching his New York Mets try to solve Drysdale's pitching.

When the Dodger hurler told of pitching against the Giant power and named some of the hitters, Mays interrupted to say, "You name eight guys on our club and five of us have got to go down." The reference was to the close pitches that sent batters into the dirt and kept them from digging in for additional power.

Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto, former star player and now coach with the Giants, was presented the "Good Guy Award" after hearing a recording of his double for Brooklyn in the 1947 World Series which broke up New York Yankee Bill Bevens' bid for a no hitter in the ninth inning. Lavagetto, whose hit drove in both runs in a 2-1 Dodger victtory, recalled that two days later he struck out.

Stu Miller, former Giant and now the star relief pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles in the American League, won the Comeback Award and wondered, "Where have I been."

Mike Epstein, former University of California at Berkeley football and baseball player, was presented the "Hometown Boy Makes Good" trophy and wondered: "How did I get this when I live in Santa Monica in Southern California."

Epstein, a Baltimore property, won the Most Valuable Player award in the California League last season playing with Stockton.

Marin Tars Win Again; Face Santa Rosa Next

College of Marin's high-powered basketball team is still undefeated in Golden Valley Conference play today.

The Tars added Yuba to its list of victims for the second time last Saturday, dumping the visiting 49ers 82-56 before about 700 fans in the Kentfield gym. First time the two teams met this year, Marin thumped the 49ers 85-61.

The Tars, now 7-0 in conference action and 16-6 over-all, held Yuba to only six field goals in the first half while doubling the 49ers on the scoreboard, 44-22.

"Our team defense was very good," said Marin coach Cal Riemcke after the triumph.

"And it was good to have (Fred) Arnold back," he added. Arnold, the 6-7 forward for Marin, sat out two games because of an ankle injury. He got back to action Saturday, leading his team in scoring and rebounding, 16 points and 18 rebounds. Don Hanson, guard, scored 15 points.

Riemcke said Rod Monti played his best defensive game of the year. He also felt reserve guard Jeff Chapman did a good job of filling in for Lorry Galassi, out of action with strep throat.

Things should be a little rougher for the Tars Friday night when they go to Santa Rosa for a battle with the second place Bear Cubs. Then Saturday Marin hosts Sierra, both games starting at 8 p.m. The first time around this year, Marin whipped Santa Rosa 88-78—its only loss in conference play—and dumped Sierra 80-60.

Last Saturday's scoring summary:

Yuba: Don Hall, 2-3—7; Mike Gage, 0-2—2; Gary Eagleton, 3-0—6; Mike Mattingly, 3-2—8; Ken Griffin, 2-2—6; Pete Kingren, 4-1—9; Pete Borich, 5-8—18. Totals: 19-18—56.

Marin: Fred Arnold, 7-2—16; Rod Monti, 4-1—9; Jim Halm, 5-1—11; Bill Pandiani, 1-2—4; Don Hanson, 7-1—15; Larry Wolfe, 4-2—10; Bill Brody, 4-0—8; Rick Henika, 1-1—3; Kraig Kilby, 1-1—3; Jeff Chapman, 1-0—2; Arnold Schuch, 0-1—1. Totals: 35-12—82.

Total fouls: Marin 15, Yuba 19.

Officials: Don Payne, Mike Levenson.

Willie Only Third Giant In History With Two-Year Pact

HANLEY

Willie Mays naturally is delighted with his new two-year contract calling for a quarter of a million dollars. He is particularly pleased with the way the Giants will spread his salary over several years in deferred payments to ease his tax problem.

"With taxes so high now," said Willie, "a two-year contract is a good one to have."

Indeed, it is. Two-year contracts for ball players, even superstars like Mays, are rare. In the entire history of the Giants only two other players, Walker Cooper and Alvin Dark, were given two-year pacts. Bill Terry also had one but it covered combined player-manager duties.

There have been cases of managers demanding two-year contracts, such as Charlie Dressen did unsuccessfully some years ago when he was with the Dodgers. But there is no recorded case of a player insisting upon a two-year contract, even in the present case of Mays.

IT WAS not quite clear whether Mays or the Giant management first thought of the two-year agreement for Willie. "Willie asked for it," said the Giant front office. When Mays was asked whose idea it was, he hesitated momentarily and then said: "Both."

Surely, the Giant front office wouldn't fib about such a matter. Maybe Willie and the Giant management simultaneously thought of the idea.

IT'- PREPOSTEROUS to think that an exclusive story last week, reporting Mays signed a $125,000 agreement for 1966, prompted the idea of a two-year contract so that there would be some hard news in the formal announcement of Mays' signing instead of mere corroboration of the exclusive.

THAT, INDEED, would be a fatuous presumption on the part of the fellow who authored the exclusive which the Giant front office called "premature" among other things. Not only was it four days premature but $125,000 and one year short of the 1966-67 contract ultimately announced for Willie.

MAYS UNDERSTANDABLY is elated about the whole thing—doubly elated, you might say. He was happy last Monday when he visited Candlestick Park and left with the look of a man who had just signed a one-year contract for $125,000. He was bubbling with happiness last Friday when he left Candlestick Park with a two-year $250,000 deal in his pocket.

Marin Pair Lead Walk

Goetz Klopfer and Bill Ranney of the Marin Walking Assn. finished 1-2 yesterday in the Open 15-Kilometer (9¼ miles) walking race at the Northgate Shopping Center parking lot. The event drew about 200 spectators.

Klopfer walked the distance in one hour, 13 minutes and 16 seconds, and Ranney covered the course in 1:16:39. Third place went to Mike Brodie of the Pleasant Hill Track and Field Club, with a time of 1:18:20. There were 12 entrants.

In the High School 5-Kilometer event, Marin County entrants were blanked out of the first three spots in the 81-man field. First went to Stan Brodie of Pleasant Hill High School, 27 minutes and 37 seconds, followed by brothers Joe and Manuel Adriano of Sunnyvale.

Larry Zuffinetti of Novato High School won a special award as best novice walker, placing fifth in the high school event.

Phoenix Leader May Quit Tour

By BOB EGER

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gutty little Gardner Dickinson, pain pills in hand for his ailing back, set out today in quest of a victory in what may be his last golf tournament for some time—the $60,000 Phoenix Open.

Dickinson fought off the pain in his back and the charges of several contenders yesterday, and his even par 71 game him a three-round total of 206 and a three stroke lead over Bob Rosburg.

"I almost called it quits after the second hole," said Dickinson, a 38-year-old, 130-pounder who plays out of Los Tree Village, Fla.

"I took three pain killers before the round," he said. "The pain subsided a little, but the pills upset my stomach. I was very satisfied with the round under the circumstances."

Regardless of his fate in today's final round, Dickinson plans to leave the tour to have his back checked. "I can't go on like this, that's for sure," he said. "I'll just have to quit until the back is fixed."

Dickinson has carved out rounds of 66-69-71 over the 6,765-yard Phoenix Country Club course, a par 36-35—71 layout which most of the pros haven't solved.

Dickinson's steady round yesterday—a birdie and two bogeys on the front nine and a birdie on the back—withstood challenges by Rosburg and several others.

Mason Rudolph came the closest, drawing to within one stroke after Dickinson's bogeys on eight and nine. But Rudolph double bogeyed the par 3 13th and tripple bogeyed the par 4 17th and finished with a 73 for 212.

Gene Littler came within two strokes but fell back to four at the end of the round. Littler lost a stroke when his caddy inadvertently stepped on his ball on the 16th fairway.

Littler was tied at 210 with Doug Sanders. Both have had identical rounds of 70-71-69.

Sanders well remembers last week, when he started the final round of the Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Springs, Calif., six strokes off the pace.

In that tourney, he fired an eagle and four birdies on the back nine and went on to beat Arnold Palmer in a playoff.

Palmer, who has cooled off a bit from his torrid start on the winter tour, was 11 strokes off the pace going into today's final round. He has had rounds of 71-74-72.

The best scores yesterday were 67s by Terry Dill and Kermit Zarley. Dill and Dick Crawford were tied at 213, and Zarley was one of four players grouped at 215.

Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash., used a two-iron to score a hole in one onthe par 3, 230-yard eighth hole. It was the third ace of Still's career and his second in a little more than a year.

ABOUT THE BIGGEST RUCKUS ever made around Jack Daniel's old office was the day Mr. Jack kicked the safe.

When Lem Motlow, Jack Daniel's nephew, started at our distillery as a bookkeeper, he generally opened the safe. But one day Mr. Jack tried to open it himself, and when he couldn't he got so riled he kicked it. Folks still talk about the fuss that went up. But they can also tell you Mr. Jack was never impatient with his whiskey. A sip of Jack Daniel's, we believe, will tell you we're not either.

Cepeda Rarin' To Go, Says Knee Is Fine

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Big Orlando Cepeda, the forgotten man of the San Francisco Giants, came to town during the weekend for a salary conference with owner Horace Stoneham, and indications are that he will sign within the next couple of days for the same $50,000 he got in 1965.

Cepeda, who appeared in only 33 games a year ago because of a slow healing knee injury, said he feels just fine and should be ready to play this year.

The big "O" sat with Stoneham and other Giants officials last night during the annual San Francisco Baseball Writers' awards banquet and saw teammate Willie Mays, who signed a two-year $250,000 contract last week, honored as baseball's "man of the year."

The Giants sent Cepeda a conditional contract to his home in Puerto Rico several weeks ago and they reportedly offered him a slight cut. However, they told Cepeda that it was not their last offer and they would discuss his 1966 salary further upon his arrival in San Francisco.

"I worked out all winter long," Cepeda said, "and I honestly believe my knee is stronger now than it ever was. I waded in the deep surf every day and lifted weights to strengthen the knee. It never once hurt me, although once in a while I feel a little stab of pain."

Cepeda said doctors told him that the pain he felt was nothing unusual and that he will feel it again from time to time. But, they added, the knee is sound and the big first baseman should be able to play this season.

Cepeda was one of baseball's most feared batters before his balky knee was operated on following the 1964 season. He hit a total of 222 home runs, all for the Giants, in seven big league campaigns, reaching a career high of 46 in 1961. In the pennant-winning 1962 season he smacked 35 homers and drove in 114 runs.

Last year, appearing mostly as a pinch-hitter, Orlando hit just one homer, but it came with two men on base in the bottom of the ninth inning late in the season and helped the Giants score an important victory.

All Eyes On NFL; Atlanta Starts Grabbing Veterans

By JACK HAND

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The expansion-minded world of professional sports will have its eye on the National Football League today when the owners tackle the job of stocking their newest baby, the Atlanta Falcons, with 42 veteran players.

In ordinary times, only the cities involved and the men who reportedly have a $8.5 million stake in Atlanta would be vitally interested. However, in this day of proposed expansion in baseball, hockey and basketball, every move to stock a new team is observed closely.

Baseball, deeply involved in a legal battle over the Braves' shift from Milwaukee to Atlanta, insists the National League can not expand at this time. A Wisconsin judge has ordered the Braves to stay in Milwaukee or for the league to expand in 1966 and make major league baseball of "competitive quality" available in Milwaukee.

Because of the expansion talk in all sports the manner of stocking a team becomes most important. When the NFL took in Dallas in 1960 and Minnesota in 1961 it froze a certain number of veterans and let the new teams pick three from each of the established clubs. A similar plan will be worked out for Atlanta.

With 45,000 season tickets already sold at Atlanta and new coach Norm Hecker anxious to come up with a representative team, there may be some surprising names on the lists of available players.

The owners must decide how many of their 40-man rosters to exempt or freeze. It is expected they will keep 30 or 32 out of the draft. That would give Atlanta three picks from the bottom eight or ten players on each team.

After they have agreed ona formula, probably tomorrow. The actual selections will be made Wednesday.

The drafted and signed included linebacker Tommy Nobis, Texas' All-America, Randy Johnson, Texas A&I quarterback, and halfbacks Nick Rassas and Bill Wolski and end Phil Sheridan of Notre Dame.

It is doubtful if any of the 14 clubs that operated last year will see their way clear to putting a veteran quarterback on the list after the injury problems of the 1965 season. A goodly scattering of veterans from other positions probably will be made available along with fringe players and 1965 rookies.

When the American Football League recently stocked the new Miami team, 19 players were picked who at one time had been considered first string on other teams.

Dallas had to play the 1960 season without benefit of a college draft and finished withan 0-11-1 record. Minnesota did participate in the 1961 draft, selecting Fran Tarkenton, Tommy Mason and Rip Hawkins among others, and turned in a 3-11 record in its first season. The Vikings beat the Chicago Bears in their first game.

Dallas still has end-flanker Frank Clarke and linebacker Jerry Tubbs from the original veteran stocking and Minnesota still has tackle Grady Alderman. Some of the others still are in pro football but with different teams.

Warriors, N.Y. Play In Oakland Tonight

Anything but triumphant, the San Francisco Warriors basketball team returns from a six-game road trip to its home territory tonight to face the New York Knickerbockers at Oakland Auditorium, 8:30 o'clock.

The Warriors were 2-4 on their Eastern jaunt, including their Saturday night loss to Baltimore, 136-127.

The victory moved Baltimore into second place ahead of San Francisco in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division, 5½ games behind first-place Los Angeles.

The Knickerbockers could prove easier game for the Warriors. New York is last in the Eastern Division standings, a demoralizing 17 games behind front-running Boston.

Johnny Egan and Johnny Green combined for 40 points in the second half to help Baltimore overcome a 66-63 San Francisco halftime advantage. The Bullets caught the Warriors at 74-all early in the third period.

With Baltimore leading 108-106 with 7:10 remaining, two baskets by Egan and another by Green, followed by two free throws by Bailey Howell, put the Bullets ahead 116-106 and they coasted thereafter.

Egan scored a season-high of 30 points and was credited with 14 assists from his backcourt position. Green, a second-quarter substitute, made 19 of his 21 points during the second-half drive.

Litchfields In 3-3 Tie

Litchfield's semi-pro baseball team from San Rafael kept its two game lead in the San Francisco AAA Winter League yesterday by battling second place Ellis Brooks Chevrolet to a 3-3 deadlock. The game ended because of a time limit.

Doug Wilson of Larkspur was the batting star for Litchfield's, smashing three doubles and knocking in all three runs.

Chuck Murray and Ron Cole, Litchfield's righthanders, split the pitching chores, Murray going seven innings, allowing four hits and striking out 11 batters. Cole pitched the final four innings, allowed two hits and struck out six.

Brooks tied the game in the bottom of the ninth and the two teams battled until the time limit stopped the game.

Disastrous Road Trip For Seals

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thirsting for a victory over an American Hockey League team after six straight defeats, the San Francisco Seals of the Western Hockey League get a last chance when they return from a road trip to play Quebec Wednesday night.

The latest setbacks the Seals have suffered in an interlocking schedule with the AHL were a 5-2 loss to the Hershey Bears Saturday night and a 6-3 defeat by the Providence Reds last night.

Quebec, leaders of the AHL's Eastern Division, appears a formidable obstacle. So far this season the team has won 34 and lost only 12.

Providence blitzed the Seals with four goals in eight minutes of the last period. Jules Bouchard, a rookie defenseman, started the flurry with a wicked 45-foot shot that sliced by Seals goalie Jack McCartan.

Following with other Providence goals were Jim Mikol, who paced the Reds' attack with two tallies, Eddie Kachur and Bob Leduc.

It was 2-2 after the first period with Gerry Brisson and Wayne Maxner scoring for the Seals and Mikol and Jim Bartlett for the Reds. The Seals took a second period lead on a score by Wayne Connelly.

On Saturday night Hershey got off to a 3-0 lead at 4:50 of the second period after goals by Nyron Stankiewicz, Bruce Cline and Stankiewicz again.

Terra Linda Scores JV Cage Victory

Dan Elliott notched game scoring honors with 21 points for the junior Pirates.

DAYTONA RECORD

Petty Captures 500 Qualifying

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard Petty is back in stock car competition on the super speedways and taken up where he left off at the front of the pack.

The 28-year-old champion of 1964, who laid out of the major NASCAR events last year, set a qualifying record speed yesterday and earned the pole position for the Daytona 500 to be run Feb. 27.

He collected $1,000 on the spot for his 175.165 miles per hour ride twice around the 2.5-mile high banked Daytona International Speedway. In addition, he is in a good position for the big slice off the $140,000 prize melon in the 500-miler.

Petty's record erased the 174.910 mph set by Paul Goldsmith in a Plymouth in 1964. Though a record was expected in view of 177 mph practice laps, it was remarkable in winds blowing 18 to 20 m.p.h. and gusting to 29.

The Plymouths and Petty are back in front, but Ford domination of speed weeks in 1965 is not necessarily at an end.

Nine others who took qualifying times on opening day will get close-to-the-front spots in two 100-mile races for the late model stocks Feb. 25. As the cars finish in the 100-milers, so they will start in the 500 behind the first row of Petty and Hutcherson.

Coming up on the Daytona speed week's calendar before the NASCAR events of Feb. 25-27 is the 250-mile championship race of the Automobile Racing Club of America next Sunday.

Jack Bowsher of Springfield, Ohio, won the pole position by taking a 25-mile qualifying event yesterday at 168.164 mph in a 1966 Ford. Andy Hampton of Louisville, Ky., will have the outside front row in a 1965 Dodge.

NASCAR qualifiers in addition to Petty and Hutcherson:

Lee Roy Yarbrough, Columbia, S.C., 1966 Dodge, 172.446 mph.

Giants Sign McDaniel And Landrum

Lindy McDaniel and Don Landrum, two part-time players who figure importantly in plans of the San Francisco Giants this season, have signed contracts.

Rookie right-handed pitcher Joe Overton also returned his signed contract, the club announced Saturday, along with the pair picked up in trade with the Chicago Cubs for pitcher Bill Hands and catcher Randy Hundley.

The 30-year-old McDaniel has been one of the top National League relief pitchers the past 10 years and figures to help a hurling staff that turned in just 42 complete games last season.

Landrum operates as a utility outfielder who'll spell Willie Mays in center in late innings and days of rest. Although he hit only .239 last year, the 30-year-old Landrum is tops defensively.

SANDERS MAKES A SPLASH

Doug Sanders put his tee shot into the water hazard on the 15th hole in the Phoenix Open Golf Tournament over the weekend and had to remove his shoes and socks and roll up his pants to get a shot at the ball. However, he finally decided to take a penalty stroke rather than try to swing at the submerged ball. (UPI Telephoto)

Slam-Bang Marin Prep Cage Race Nearing Climax

With the Marin Athletic League basketball race nearing its slam-bang finish, three teams are still tied in the loss column and it's anyone's guess who will emerge the champion.

Redwood, Drake and Tam each has lost two games. Redwood has three games left on the schedule and Drake and Tam four apiece. Tam still has to play Redwood (Friday) and Drake (next Monday).

But first things first. Tam is at Marin Catholic tomorrow, Redwood is at San Rafael and Novato hosts Drake, the varsity games opening the programs at 4 p.m., followed by the Class B games. And Tam is running away with that lightweight division, boasting an 8-0 record.

Redwood guards Russ Smith and Andre Horn are running 1 and 3 in the varsity scoring, Smith with 143 points and 15.9 average and Horn 133 points and 14.8 average. Sandwiched between the two is Novato's John Dolinsek.137 points and 15.2 average.

Pat Schafer continues to lead the Class B individual scorers, the Tam hot-shot averaging 17.3 points per game. His nearest rival is Harry Matsinger of Marin Catholic, averaging 13.6.

Redwood is the top offensive team (63.7 average), and Marin Catholic has jumped to the lead in defensive statistics, allowing only 45.7 points per game.

Rams Hire Vet Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New Los Angeles Ram head coach George Allen has turned to experience in hiring Ray Prochaska to design the offensive attack.

Prochaska, 46, has spent the last 20 years as a coaching assistant. Since 1958, he has been in charge of the St. Loui sCardinals' offensive line.

He is still listed as a line coach, but sources close to the Rams indicated yesterday that Allen plans to let Prochaska design the team's whole attack.

"Prochaska is one of the finest coaches in the business," said Allen, who was schooled in defense with the Chicago Bears.

Replied Prochaska:

"I am impressed with Allen and the thoroughness with which he conducted the interview. It's a splendid opportunity to be with an up-and-coming club."

Prochaska, after playing end for Nebraska in the 1941 Rose Bowl against Stanford, played one year of offense for the Cleveland Rams and then entered World War II with the Army.

The end of the war brought the beginning of his coaching career. He started with Nebraska in 1946 and remained there under three head coaches until 1955. After three years with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian League, he joined the Cards in St. Louis.

STANFORD VIRTUALLY ELIMINATED

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fur should fly next Friday as the Oregon State Beavers try to prove they belong on the Pacific Athletic Conference basketfall ladder ahead of the go-go UCLA Bruins.

The Beavers are paddling along nicely in the PAC with a league-leading 7-1 mark and 15-5 overall record after two weekend victories, including a 63-57 triumph over Stanford at Corvallis Saturday night.

But the Bruins, at 6-2 in the league and 14-6 overall after weekend conquests at Washington State and Washington, recall they put that one loss on the Beaver record themselves in an overwhelming 79-35 victory at Los Angeles in a PAC opener Jan. 7.

Elsewhere around the PAC next Friday, third place Oregon hosts USC, sagging Stanford greets Washington and Washington State travels to California at Berkeley.

Saturday finds USC at Oregon State, UCLA at Oregon in an afternoon televised game, Washington's Huskies at California and Washington State at Stanford.

The Bruins, who keep losing and then finding themselves in the PAC this season, demolished Washington in the Husky den last Saturday by a 100-71 count.

Kenny Washington's 25 points and Mike Lynn's 23 paced the Bruins, whose roaring fast break contrasted with a studied zone defense that bottled up Husky scorers Dave Hovde, Gordon Harris and Bruce Brickner with just 13 points each. The Huskies are now 2-6 in the PAC and 8-11 overall.

Oregon State's victory over Stanford Saturday night for the second time in a week all but eliminated the once-potent Indians in the PAC. Stanford is now 4-4 in conference and 9-10 overall.

The Oregon State - Stanford game was notable for the Beavers' scoring pattern—all five starters hit double figures, paced by Scott Eaton's 16. Stanford's Bob Bedell led all scorers with 20.

Upsets Throw WCAC Into Turmoil; USF, Pacific Tied

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mark Feb. 26 as the next showdown date between the University of San Francisco Dons and the University of the Pacific Tigers in their battle for the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball crown.

Fans figured the issue would be clear after last weekend when the Dons and Tigers met at Stockton in a game sold out since Christmas. But upsets muddied the picture and left USF and Pacific tied 6-1 for the WCAC lead.

The biggest upset occurred Saturday night as the Tigers rose up and defeated USF 88-78 for the first USF conference loss and first defeat after 13 straight victories.

Saturday finds USF host to San Jose State, St. Mary's entertaining Pepperdine, Santa Clara at UC Santa Barbara and Loyola at Pacific.

Keith Swagerty's 26 points and Bruce Parsons' 21 helped Pacific snap USF's winning streak Saturday night. Swagerty, among the nation's top rebounders, pulled 17 shots off the boards. Erwin Mueller topped the Dons with 29. USF now has a 16-3 season record and Pacific 15-4.

Guards Mike Gervasoni and Eric Paulson each scored 18 points in Santa Clara's 83-60 victory Saturday night over St. Mary's. This boosted Santa Clara to fourth in the WCAC at 4-3 and 12-8 overall, while deflating St. Mary's to 2-5 in conference and 6-12 overall.

That game was stopped five minutes because of a fight among players. Both benches were emptied after an apparent elbowing incident between rival players.

Coaches went on the public address system to restore order. No one was hurt.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

You are the head of a household for federal tax purposes if:

You never married, or

Your spouse died in a prior year (if your spouse died in 1965, you may file a joint return and if he or she died in 1963 or 1964 you may be able to compute your tax as though you were filing a joint return), or

P. J. Wikel

You are divorced or legally separated under a court decree at the end of 1965, or

Your spouse was a non-resident alien at any time during 1965 AND you have maintained, by paying over one-half of the cost for all of 1965, a home in which a close rleative lived as his principal place of residence for the entire year, or until his death. It is not necessary that you or the relative actually stay at home every day, but that the home be the principal place of residence.

You may also qualify if you pay more than one-half of the cost of maintaining a household for your father or mother if you can claim either one as a dependent on your tax return. It is not necessary that you yourself live at this home.

If your taxable income is over $2,000 and you are the head of a household, do not use Form 1040A in filing your return. Use Form 1040 and figure your tax from the special head of household table B, or Schedule III.

For California tax purposes the rules are substantially the same, but you do not use a special tax table as in the federal. Being Head of Household on the California return qualifies you for a $3,000 exemption. You lose the $600 exemption for the person that qualifies you as Head of Household but are able to claim a $3,000 for both of you.

The agency, which serves an eight-county north coast area

for Equitable, will occupy about 4,500 square feet in the first 10,000-square foot unit. The office will be more than double the size of present quarters to accomodate the agency's rapid growth. Agency manager William H. Tolson Jr. recently walked off with top honors in a sales campaign with all of the company's western division agencies.

The Margarita Plaza will also house Marin County Abstract and Title Co. and the Dohemann organization itself which needs more space, having doubled its sales force in the past year.

HEADS BUILDERS GROUP—Novato contractor John Novak has been installed as president of the Associated Home Builders of San Francisco and Marin. A director of the organization for many years and past secretary-treasurer, he succeeds another Novato builder in the top post, Richard F. Elam of Westwood Homes, Inc.

And Fred Esparza, who has the Gay Nineties Barber Shop in the Northgate Shopping Center and was recently featured in the February issue of Gentlemen's Quarterly men's fashion magazine, will be opening a new hairstyling salon here, to be called Fred's of Marin Razor Styles.

Probably no opening until sometime in August.

PHILIP L. MILLER of San Anselmo has been promoted to vice president at Crocker-Citizens' San Francisco administrative headquarters and will continue in his capacity of director of training in the personnel administration. He joined the bank in 1959 after extensive banking experience in Los Angeles and San Francisco. He has been involved in many of Crocker-Citizens training programs.

HENRY J. (BUD) WEISSER of Tiburon, a vice president at Crocker - Citizens National Bank's 1 Montgomery Street office, San Francisco, has just observed his 45th anniversary with the bank. He served in the collection, clearing, transit and note departments at the same office, and then became a bookkeeper, savings teller and commercial teller prior to joining the business development staff in 1951. He was made assistant cashier in 1957, assistant vice president in 1959 and a vice president in 1964.

Purdy

Kessler

DON PURDY of San Rafael has been appointed a vocational placement specialist and assigned to the office of Boyd Bastian, vocational rehabilitation counselor for the State Department of Rehabilitation at 1299 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Purdy and his wife Berta, who has reactivated her real estate license and is now with Top Properties, recently returned from their "Castle in Spain" (Castillo Santo Domingo near Barcelona), which is now closed but may be subject to further development as a club or hotel.

L. E. (GENE) KESSLER of Marinwood has been appointed San Diego area manager for the Foster and Kleiser division of Metromedia. He joined the firm in 1953 and became local sales manager in 1962.

IT APPEARS that there are other women bankers who become officers. I understand that Mrs. Margaret Bennett of Mill Valley has just been named to the post of assistant secretary at Pacific National Bank, San Francisco. She is the second woman on that bank's official staff.
